THERE ARE TWO candidates for Congress in this district—Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough and Hon. Franklin Upshur. Congressman Goldsborough who has so ably represented this section in the past, desires to succeed himself, while Mr. Upshur is seeking to dislodge him. Congressman Goldsborough's record in Congress is well known to our readers. He as, we believe, represented the wishes of his people and we believe will be renominated. Mr. Upshur, we understand, is a man of ability; he represented his county of Wicomico in the House of Delegates at the 1924 session of Maryland Legislature. The platform upon which Mr. Upshur is making his fight was published in this paper in its issues of July 24 and August 14.

THE COMING PRIMARIES

Following up the primary campaign which is drawing to close there are several important points that have not been forciby touched upon, the main one of which is the control of our county affairs. Should Senator Copper win, the county affairs will be in control of the senator and his co-workers, while if Mr. Beck should win then the county affairs will be in control of Mr. Beck and his co-workers. Sifting the matter down to a practical point it is up to the voters of the county to determine who they prefer to have administer and control the business of Kent county. Political management, after all, is much on the order of managing a large business. Large business concerns in order to be successful select men of business ability as managers, and in our opinion political managers should be selected on the same basis. We contend Senator Copper is a shrewd and keen business man—the unparalled success of the Third National Bank is an evidence of the business ability of the Senator together with other positions he has filled with marked ability, namely chief judge of the Orphan's Court, president of the School Board and some minor positions. Associated with the senator on the ticket which he heads are some of our most successful business men and if they are nominated and elected the county will be assured of a sound business administration, something that every county should have as well as every business concern. The personnel of the ticket has been thoroughly gone into in past issues of this paper and we believe it is well understood by the voters of the county.

—Early training was supposed to start Monday at the Washington grid camp but only a few men reported Real work will start next week.

FARMERS INSPECT TOMATOES

Eastern Shore of Maryland and Delaware farmers observed "Tomato Day" Tuesday by touring some of the tomato fields of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula. Local growers assembled at the farm of Linwood A. Sutton, near Chestertown, to inspect fifteen variety test plots being conducted by Stanley Sutton, eighteen-year old champion farmer of Maryland and member of the recent dairy cattle judging team representing the United States in the British international competition. At 10.30 o'clock the Kent county group left for Ridgely, where they met similar groups of farmers from the eleven counties who were assembled for luncheon and conference. Prior to the general meeting, which was addressed by experts of the universities of Maryland and Delaware, inspections of local tomato beds in each county were made by local growers. The Kent county delegation was led on the tour by Horace B. Derrick, county farm agent; E. Thomas Massey and William G. Smyth, president and secretary, respectively, of the Kent County Farm Bureau.

OYSTER SEASON OPENS

The oyster season for Chesapeake Bay and tributaries opened Wednesday of this week. According to present indications the supply is not very abundant, although practically free from muscles, which has been a great handicap to the industry in seasons past.

The oyster industry is one of the greatest sources of revenue for Maryland watermen and Cheapeake Bay oysters are noted all over the country.
