CHICKEN CULLING DEMONSTRATIONS

TO BE HELD THROUGHOUT COUNTY NEXT WEEK— POULTRY SPECIALIST TO ASSIST

Poultry has become one of the chief money makers ith Kent farmers and in many instances more than makes up for the loss sustained by poor crops and markets. The fact that poultry is a money maker should receive the best of attention to bring it up to greatest efficiency.

One of the greatest draw backs to poultry raising is the feeding of the non-producer. This can be eliminated by culling these non producers and keeping only those in the flock that are money makers.

In order to help poultry raisers by teaching them scientific culling, County Agent, H. B. Derick has arranged a number of Demonstration to be held throughout the county next week, and has secured Mr. Rice, extension poultry specialist to assist at these demonstrations.

The goal of 20,000 chickens to be culled this fall has been set, and the demonstrations will be as follows:

MILLINGTON, Tuesday, October 19th— 9.00 a. m., Jonathan Jones' farm.

MASSEY, Tuesday, October 19th, 1.00 p. m., Thomas F. Newnam's farm.

GALENA, Tuesday, October 19th, 3.30 p. m., John Naylor's farm.

KENNEDYVILLE, Wednesday. October 20th, 9.00 a. m., Walter Hill's farm.

STILL POND, Wednesday, October 20th, 1.00 p. m., Albert Jervis' residence.

BETTERTON, Wednesday, October 20th. 3.30 p. m., Arthur Brice's farm.

WORTON, Thursday, October 21st, 9.00 a. m., B. F. Rash's farm.

CHESTERTOWN, Thursday, October 21st, 1.00 p. m., R. G. Nicholson's farm.

W. P. NEWNAM ALTERS STORE

Due to increased business, Mr. W. P. Newnam has enlarged his store on high street, increasing the size of his show rooms and adding to the appearance of his up-to-date music store. The front part of the store is divided into a piano show room and a victrola and radio show room. In the back part are victrola and radio demonstrating booths and the office. The second floor will be taken up with a display of toys.

—A chinmey fire threatened the home of Mr. J. C. Loud on the Riverside Farm Monday evening. The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., quickly extinguished the fire with a chemical powder which the company has purchased for this purpose. This is the second fire at Riverside this year, the first having destroyed a number of outbuildings.

MAGIC MEDICINES!

(By James T. Hungerford in "Inland Poultry Journal."

There's a heap o' consolation
In the handclasp o' a FRIEND;
It can wipe out desolation,
An, bring heartaches to an end!
It can soothe a troubled spirit
Like no magic in the land;
HEAVEN? You are pretty NEAR it—
When a good friend grips your hand!

There's a heap o' SATISFACTION
In a friendly shoulder pat;
It's a simple little action—
But a MIGHTY one, at that !
When firm fingers grip your shoulder,
When you sort o' need a BRACE,
Makes you stronger. braver, bolder,
An' more fit to WIN the race!

When you're full o' worry "pizen,"
An' the world is looking' drear,
There's a heap o' Energizin'
In a little pill o' CHEER!
When some little frets distress you,
They put nectar in your cup—
Little phrases like "GOD BLESS YOU!"—
An' that other one, "CHEER UP!"

NEW SEWERAGE PLAN

At a meeting of the Commissioners of Chestertown on Monday evening of last week it was decided by a vote of two to one to lay a sewerage line from the corner of Philosophers Terrace and Campus Ave to the Corner or Cross St. and Mapel Ave.

The cost of this work is estimated at $1850, and will be accessable to six homes at the present time, although this section of Chestertown is building up rapidly. This work was put out for bids and the contract was awarded to Mr. W. C. Sutton.

The piping will be carried across the ravine at the lower part of Philosophers Terrace on trussels and connected to the Queen St., line. The question as to the advisability of laying this sewer has been one of considerable discussion and the vote at the meeting Monday evening was Messrs. Satterfield and French in faor with Mr. Barnes opposing.

TUG-OF-WAR

The annual tug-of-war between the Sophomores and Freshman classes of Washington College took place at Brooks Mill, on Monday afternoon.

Each side lined up either side of the stream of mud and water that drains the old mill pond.. At the signal, the rope drew tight and the war was on. The Freshman gradually started to see and after a few of them had left port, it was but a short time before all the first-year men were wallowing in the mud, and water. The Sophmore were named as winners.

—Charged with breaking in and robbing Clark's Tire Shop, Ted Jarrell and Charles Williams, both of Queen Annes County are being held in the local jail awaiting trial.

HAVE FIRE PROTECTION

ROCK HALL GOING AHEAD WITH PLANS TO PROTECT TOWN AGAINST DREAD MENACE

Rock Hall will have protection against the menace of fire, and the Rock Hall prograssive association, with the co-operation of the Town Council, nas begun plans to perfect the same.

Already a large well has been driven and it proposes to erect a 40,000-gallon tank on an elevation of sixty feet, which will furnish ample pressure in the lowest sections.

From this tank a large main will be run to the center of the town, to which will be attached a modern fire plug, with couplings to fit the Chestertown county-wide fire truck which it is proposed to use in connection with the new system. Other fire plugs will be placed at convenient places. The association proposes to equip the town with the best fire-fighting apparatus that can be installed without the extra expense of the purchase of a fire engine.

No estimate has been made as to probable cast of the improvements but it will not be far short of $10,000, it is estimated. The association does not propose to tax property holders or payment of the improvements, but the necessary funds will be raised by annual carnivals and other attractions.

The movement for fire protection has the indorsement of the business interests, and everybody is cooperating in the efforts to provide the town with a convenience it nas needed for years.

It is the plan of the association to eventually provide the town with drinking water and the improvements for fire protection will be planned with that end in view.

It is believed the new improvements will greatly reduce insurance rates and be the means of starting a boom for the beautiful bayside section.

COLLEGE CAFERTERIA

One of the most up-to-date ceferterias in this section is located at Washington College where 150 students are fed daily. On entering the large room, one is impressed with the cleanliness and completeness of this modern, self-service dining hall.

The floor being of a special mineral composition is washed daily and the tables and chairs are Duco finished. Regular meals are provided with a number of special dishes that can be bought by the students.

Students can buy three meals a day at a cost of 90 cents. Breakfast is served from 7 a. m. until 9.30; lunch from 11 until 2.00 and dinner from 5 to 7.30. Wth this arrangement and a seating cepacity for 150, this caferteria can easily accomodate 400 students.

The kitchen is up-to-date with electric dish washers, a new stove and all modern conveniences that add to cleanliness and quick service.

The college will hold an open house in the caferteria on Friday evening from 8 to 9 p. m. at wihch time the public is invited to inspect the entire equipment.

READY FOR LOYOLA.

Washington College is all set for Loyola College today in Baltimore, and a good crowd from this section will see the thrilling contest. This game is one of the most important on the schedule of the local collegians.

Since last Saturdays defeat by the big Georgetown eleven, Coaches Kibler and Brown have been driving the collegians through the most stenuous practice of the year, and, without question, the squad looks better than heretofore this season.

The squad has been strengthened by the appearance of Reiger and several other more experienced players, which has added both skill and experience to the team.

Today's game will ve watched with interest by all local fans. Loyola defeated Catholic University. Washington will have to go some to win from them.

The big games of today are Penn. vs Chicago; Yale vs. Dartmouth; Syracuse vs. Army.

Lyceum Theatre Program

"Fig Leaves"

Children, as well as grown-up theatre patrons, will get the screen thrill of their lives when "Fig Leaves," Fox Films version of an original story by Howard Hawks, comes to the Lyceum next Monday. Olive Borden and George O'Brien are featured.

In this story, many sequences of which are done in Technicolor, Director Hawks has endeavored to bring to the screen a carefully planned version of certain events associated with the Garden of Eden.

The garden sequences, as may be imagined, offered endless opportunities for the reincarnation of jungle animals ranging from the mighty brontosaurus and the ridged triceratops, to the slow-moving stegosaurus and the huge-legged dinosourus, about which the man of today thinks a great deal but knows very little.

In making this remarkable picture which is enlivened by a domestic love affair and brightened by a fashion revue which eclipses anything of the kind ever attempted in filmland, Mr. Hawks sought to make every sequence as plausible as possible. He has succeeded so well that preview critics pronounce the prehistoric sequences the most gripping shots ever recorded by the motion picture camera.

"Rose Of The World"

One of her most popular stories, "Rose of the World," has recently been duplicating its success as a novel with its success as a motion picture, and again, in days when many accidents in big screen successes are questionable under old-fashioned standards of decency, Mrs. Norris has achieved her triumph on the basis of wholesome cleanliness. "Rose of the World," as a picture, is said to be exciting without being vulgar.

It is a Warner Classic of the Screen, directed by Harry Beaumont, with Patsy Ruth Miller in the title role. It comes to the Lyceum Theatre on next Tuesday.

The story concerns the romance of Rosie Kirby (Patsy Ruth Miller) and Jack Talbot (Alan Forrest) which is wrecked by the machinations of his mother (Helen Dunbar) who arranges his marriage to Edith Rodgers (Pauline Garon) a girl in his own set. Rose vows revenge when Jack jilts her, and lives only to make him as miserably unhappy as she has been, until she finds that her love is stronger than her desire for revenge.

"Mare Nostrum"

"Mare Nostrum" (Our Sea), Ingram's newest production for Metro-Goldwyn which comes to the Lyceum, Friday and Saturday of next week, is an exceptional picture.

Ingram has taken the famous Blasco story and with Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno enacting the leading parts, and the original European locations as his background, has made a powerful drama that merits all the praise and attention given it.

The story is of the Mediterranean Sea during the early periods of the War. The romance of the beautiful spy and the Spanish sea captain is the central attraction of the picture, with submarine warfare, secret service systems of European powers, marvelous characterizations by the foreign artists and the pictorial and historical locations on the Continent all giving added interest.

With the exception of Miss Terry, Moreno and Hughie Mack, who has a prominent comedy role, the entire cast is made up of leading European actors and actresses who make their American debut in the picture.

It is a treat to see new faces and to have them give such creditable performances as the entire cast of "Mare Nostrum" gives. The German characters are especially fine.

The pictorial beauty of "Mare Nostrum" is beyond description. Ingram has carefully blended his locations int ohis story in a way that makes them a part of it.

SEPTEMBER AN IDEAL MONTH

September was an ideal month in every particular. A variety of weather was served up to the residents of this community that pleased most everyone, including the farmers. The mercury went as high as 90 on the second and on the twenty-fifth, and dropped to 41 on the twenty-seventh. Rain fell on nine days during the month, but in spite of this a long dry spell extending from the 10th to the 24th had its effect. On the 23rd a slight drizzle of rain was noticed, but not enough fell to record. The month might be classed as one of summer weather. On sixteen days out of the thirty the thermometer registered 80 or higher. The mean maximum temperature for the entire month was 78. The mean minimum temperature was 60. On the 12th the thermometer dropped from 82 to 49, a difference of 33 degrees. On the 7th the heaviest rainfall of the month was noted, when 1.30 inch was recorded. On the 19th 1.23 inch fell. The total rainfall for the month was 4.05. Old Sol did his part in keeping the clouds away. On 19 days the sun shone and clear weather was reported. On six days the sun shone only part of the time, and the days were classified as partly cloudy. Five days were cloudy.
