(COMMUNICATED)

Dear Nel:

Have you in your Enterprising way, heard about the new spirit of cooperation with which Kent County is imbued?

At the Court House next Tuesday the farmers and their husbands are going to receive their first lesson in cooperation.

The great farm problem has been how to grow enough corn for the poultry. Somehow the supply has never equalled the demand, so the poor farmer, in order to fatten her poultry must purchase corn from some other farmer's husband.

It seems to me that farmers, of both sexes have always had had the cooperative spirit; at least they have towards the commission man; in fact they take what he gives them and they give what he asks.

Now Kent County is greatly indebted to the Commission man, because as you know, in your enterprising way, a farm always shows a deficit when the first of March comes around, and these commission men help us prove that fact to the income tax boys.

The idea of cooperation is to live on your own farm. If you and your husband own several farms be sure they are adjioning. This does not apply to any landowner, male or female who is running for some political office because he naturally needs a tenant full of votes and is forced to leave his rural home for one more urban in character. In other words cooperation necessitates being a dirt farmer with clean ideas. Oh please don't think I mean to insinuate the reverse in reference to a politician! Far from it: You or I may be on one of those entire tickets to a Church Supper yet.

Let me see where were we? Oh yes living on our own farm we, and two of our neighbors buy a handsome tractor with plows and harriws attached; that is we eliminate the horse The cost is divided between the three of us: but we must not argue as to who shall be the first to plow for corn, for this is not cooperation. Then we will have a community threshing rig, a community corn picker, we already have a cannery, but we need a community cook.

Kent Co., has always been troubled about a market. One of our farmers you know has secured one in Europe, but we want a market nearer home. That is what we Delmarvians are working on you know, the bridge that will span the Chesapeake it seems, the committee in charge cannot agree upon a location. Can't you suggest one? Then all they need do is to get the residents of Baltimore Co., to take stock in the Baltimore-Delmarva Transit Co., and the Kieffer pears and Delmarva apples will pay them eight per cent just think we can butcher our own lambs and real and with all the waterways of this peninsula, we can have community ice houses. The Town Betterment may plant beautiful mint beds for decorative purposes around each ice house.

Hoping to see you at the courthouse (not the rear entrance) next Tuesday yours with communty cooperation

ELSIE DEE

P. S. Queen Marie who has recently become a native American is interested in cooperative farming and will probably be here on Tuesday. Etiquette demands on such an occasion overalls and sunbonnets. Have you the latter?

INSURANCE CAMPAIGN

A complimentary campaign has been launched by the Baltimore Branch of the New York Life Insurance Company, of which Mr. C. C. Hopper is a special representative with headquarters in Chestertown. The campaign is in honor of Mr. Homer Bostwick, manager of the Baltimore branch. Mr. Hopper has been named captain of one of the teams to secure new business in this testimonial campaign and reports most complimentary and gratifying results, so far. The campaign will end December 31.

BIG COMPANY HELPS LOCAL MERCHANTS KEEP BUSINESS AT HOME

How one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country cooperates with their dealers to keep local business in the hands of local concerns, was interestingly brought out in a talk with one of our leading tire merchants last week.

The company to which he pointed particularly for its work in this direction is The United States Rubber Company, which has perhaps gone further along these lines than any other tire concern.

There are several reasons, aside from the very good point of keeping home money at home, why our own local tire stores are the logical place to buy tires rather than the mail order houses.

Tires need looking after by an experienced tire man. He must have a well equipped and well stocked shop and be able to tell whether a tire is doing its work properly, and if not why not.

For instance, an expert tire man can tell whether tires are wearing unduly because of the wheels being out of alignment and can correct the trouble in time.

If improperly equalized brakes are causing the wear, the tire man can tell that and warn the owner.

This sort of service you cannot expect when you buy tires from mail order hoises.

The United States Tire Company started eleven years ago to educate people to their interest in supporting the legitimate home town tire dealer.

In addition to running its own education campaign in local papers without interruption for eleven consecutive years, the Company encourages the dealer to supplement it with advertising of his own and helps him do it. Under certain conditions it even shares the expense of the dealer's own advertising.

Recent improvements in production methods now enable the United States Rubber Company to market, through the local dealers, tires of known quality, bearing the Company's full warranty, for as little money or even less than the cost of nameless mail order tires of uncertain value.

FARM WOMEN TO MEET

TO ORGANIZE TO BETTER FARM CONDITIONS IN KENT COUNTY

A meeting of importance to the farm women of Kent County will be held at the Court House, Chestertown on Tuesday, November 9th at 2. m. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the National Woman's Farm Council, of which Mrs. Isaac H. Dixon is one of the founders.

Mrs. Dixon, a land owner in Kent county, is originally from Caroline county where she engaged in farming for a number of years and although of late years not engaged in active farming she has been interested in establishing cooperation among farmers in this state. To further promote this cause Mrs. Dixon sent Miss Annie Yuengling to Demmark to study cooperative farming in that country which is an example to all other nations in that particular place of agriculture. Miss Yuengling will be the principal speaker at the meeting on Tuesday.

Among the major purposes of the Women's Farm Council is to establish better cooperation among farmers to bring producer and consumer into closer contact and bring about cheaper and better labor.

The principal speakers on Tuesday will be Mrs. Isaac Dixon, subject, "Why I left college at 17 to be a dirt farmer;" Miss Annie Yuengling, subject, "Cooperative farming in Denmark;" Dr. Bomberger, extension service specialist; Mrs. Bayard Hillis, of Del., subject, "Woman's relation to the farm;" Mr. Robert Rash, Secy., to Woman's Farm Council.

The following local speakers will give short addresses: Mrs. Harold M. Baker, Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Mr. E. Thomas Massey.

The headquarters for the Council is 21 E. First street, N. E., Washington, D. C., where the council extends a week's hospitality to the women from the farms of Kent county.

The Kent county committee is composed of Rev. Colvin Randall, of St. James Church; Mrs. Earl Nicholson, and Mrs. Robert D. Hoops, of Fairlee. Mr. Jonathan D. Maxwell will entertain the visiting speakers at lunch on Tuesday.

It is hoped by the promotors of this meeting that the farm men and women will attend in large numbers.

—Little Misses Miriam Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sewell and Jane Goss daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Goss, enterta ned a few friends at a Hollowe'en party on Saurday afternoon at the home of Jane's parents. Games we e played, and refreshments served.
