RITCHIE OF MARYLAND

The Courier-Journal, of Louisville, Ky., pays the following deserved tribute to Gov. Albert C. Ritchie. We are publishing this tribute because we are thoroughly in sympathy with sentiment expressed therein:

"No feature of the recent election was more notable than its demonstration of the popularity of Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland. His re-election to another four-year term was strikingly indicative of the confidence and admiration in which he is held by those who know him best. He swept not only the wet city of Baltimore but the dry Eastern Shore; and at the same time he swept into the United States Senate a Democrat to succeed a Republican who but for the Governor's race could hardly have been ousted.

"Perhaps it is because Maryland is a so much smaller State than New York that Governor Ritchie's brilliant victory has not been compared with Governor Smith's brilliant victory. But one taking the trouble to make the comparison in analytically will find that if the majority of New York's Deomcratic Governor had been proportionately as great as the majority of Maryland's Democratic Governor, Governor Smith's majority would have been about three times larger than it was.

"This is said as in no sense derogatory of New York's remarkable Democratic leader, but merely to point out that Maryland also has a Democratic leader no less remarkable.

"The Courier-Journal has followed Albert Ritchie's public career not only with unqualified respect but with thankfulness — thankfulness that among the timid, the politic, the time-servers who consitute the general run of public men nowadays, here is one who is guided by convictions, which he has the courage always to maintain. As a 'Jeffersonian Democrat," a term more glibly mouthed now than accurately understood or sympathetically appreciated even by many calling themselves Democrats, he is sound to the core. Personally, as publicly, a manly man, of most attractive presence, he brings to the championship of true principles of statesmanship qualities that make him an exceptionally effective campaign leader.

"The Democrats in scrutinizing the field for a Presidential nominee two years hence cannot ignore him. The Courier-Journal, in paying this deserved tribute to him, does so not because he is its choice for the Presidency. At this time it has no such choice; and if it had it would not feel at liberty to urge it upon any political party. It is merely expressing its admiration of the Maryland Governor which it has lang felt—an expression now which the result of the recent election makes particularly opportune.

HEALTH NOTES

Did you know that there are over 8,000 persons who are ill with tuberculosis, in the counties of Maryland:

Tuberculosis clinics are held throughout the State each month under the auspices of the State Department of Health and the Maryland Tuberculosis Asociation, for the purpose of finding those who are ill with the disease of helping them to get the proper care.

238 clinics of this sort have been held since te first of this year;.

They were held at 75 places covering nearly every section of the state, and within reach of more than five hundred scattered communties.

Over 600 new patients were found and advised through their own family physicians as to the care they should have.

95 per cent of all the patients were sent to the clinics by their own doctors and the rest through friends.

Over 400 doctors in the counties cooperated with the State Department of Health by referring their patients to the clinics.

A special effort is constantly being made to reach and care for young children and other persons who have been exposed to the disease, while their condition is still favorable.

70 per cent of the money that is raised in a county from the sale of the Christmas seals goes back into that county for the benefit of local tuberculosis activities, including the work of the public health nurses for those suffering from tuberculosis, and that the remaining 30 % goes to the Md., Tuberculosis Asssociation, for the maintenance of the tuberculosis clinics and for other work of the Association including the support of the Miracle House the place to which children threatened with tuberculosis are sent during the summer, and where their powers of resistance against the disease are built up by wholesome food, and great doses of sunshine and fresh air and a good time and lastly.

This comes to tell you that the sale of the Christmas seals for the benefit of next year's work begins Thanksgiving Day. Of course you will want to buy your share.

—Wise Kent people will soon begin doing their Christmas shopping.

THE BIGGEST PARADE

The biggest parade ever held in Maryland will start from Baltimore on the day after Thanksgiving and will touch every clime and hamlet in Maryland, said Mrs. Walter T. Morris Seal Sale Chairman of Kent County. The parade will be 473 miles in length, almost long enough to encircle the state! It will be made up of thirty million little "life savers" or little couriers of health each spreading the message of "Health for All, All for Health."

Thirty Million 1926 Tuberculosis Christmas Seals; here, there, everywhere! Asking you to buy them, one penny each, so that Tuberculosis and disease in Maryland may be further decreased.

These little Christmas Seals have been running about the country around Thanksgiving the Christmas time for twenty-two years and have been influential in reducing the death rate from Tuberculosis more than fifty percent.

All these little health messengers are now locked up in the offices of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, 900 Saint Paul Street, Baltimore. They are raring to go and will be released on Thanksgiving Day, November tewenty-fifth.
