I think it only proper that I should correct a statement that has somehow gotten out from the college office that the College has lately received a donation nf $30,000 from an alumnus.

The correct form of the statement is that an alumnus has recently made provision in his will for a $30,000 bequest to the College.

I shall appreciate your publishing this letter in this week's issue if it is possible for you to do so.

Very truly yours,
PAUL E. TITSWORTH,
President Washington College

THE MARYLAND LEGISLATURE

The Maryland Legislature met at Annapolis Wednesday and organized by electing David G. McIntosh, Jr., of Baltimore County, president of the Senate and E. Brook Lee, of Mongomery County, speaker of the House of Delegates. Gov. Ritchie in his message to the joint assembly recommended a reduction in the state tax of 2½ cents, which if done will make the state tax 25 cents for 1927 and 1928. He also recommended an additional gasoline tax for automobiles of 1½ cents per gallon. There is at present 2½ cents a gallon. It is estimated that the 1½ cents, if levied will take care of the county tax on lateral roads and relive the counties of the state of that burdon.

The 1½ cents tax on gasoline, some needed changes in the Conservation Commission and Public Service Commissions powers will be some of the important measurers for consideration by the Legislature this session.

Speaker Lee named Mr. E. C. Bowers, of Kent, on the House Committee on nominations for appointments of employees in the House.

SPORTS OF WEEK

STANFORD AND ALABAMA IN A TIE—OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST

The Stanford—Alabama football game in California last week resulted in a tie. Stanford gained more ground by line plays and by the aerial route than did Alabama, but the Southerners arose to the emergency at the last minute and tied the score.

Washington College has been training hard for the big game in New York tonight with the Manhattan team. If Washington can defeat this team, they will rank with the best basketball teams in the country. Manhattan recently defeated Dartmouth.

The heavyweight situation is becoming interesting. It now appears as if Dempsey, Shalleey, Delaney and Maloney will fight it out, with the winner meeting Tunney. It is the opinion of the writer that either of the quartet aforementioned can defeat Tunney in a long fight. However, if the champion can get either of them in a ring in a ten round contest, and make a "running match" of it, he may be able to hold onto his crown for a while longer.

Basketball teams, learning the Washington five, are "Cancelling" on them. This may be better, after all, than being badly beaten.

Golf has been bounding along between the two oceans, but California has come pretty close to taking the lead in recent years in so far as golf development is concerned.

It fis generally understood now that the United States Golf Association will switch the amateur championship to California turf by 1929, if not sooner, and this consideration is due one of the most enterprising golf domains now in existence.

Such courses as El Cabellero, Lakeside, Ojai, Pebble Beach, the San Francisco Country Club, the Olympic course and others can take their rank with the best.

And at Cypress Point, Del Monte, Miss Marion Hollins is planning one of the most spectacular links in the world, with Dr. McKenzie for the architect. With the Pacfic Ocean, the vast white sand dunes and the cypress groves there are possibilities here no other course can quite equal.

It is the winter's opinion that the "basketball scandal," so called, is a tempest in a teapot. Such men as Cobb and Speaker have "made" baseball. Personally, we don't believe they are willing to tear down, for a trifling sum, the structure they have labored to rear with such care.

NOT NEEDED

Merchant: "Before I can engage you you will have to pass an intelligence test."

Girl applicant: "Intelligence test? Why, the advertisement said you wanted a stenographer."

VICTORY SPARKLER OPENS PLANT

The Victory Sparkler Co. has reopened their packing plant on Mill street and operation will start Monday. According to officials of the company they can give employment to at least 200 ladies and girls within the nxt few months.

The permanency of this employment depends upon the help available; if plenty of the right kind of help can be obtained the Victory Sparkler Co. may enlarge their plant in the summer.

ARMY REMOVES OBJECTION

During a conference between Army officials and Messrs. Millard E. Tydings, Stuart S. Janney and Roscoe Bonsal, Major Gen. Clarence C. Williams cheif of ordinance, said that if arrangements could be made for moving the long range guns from Aberdeen to Dahlgreen, Va., the Army would remove all objections to the building of a bridge from Bay Shore to Kent County.

COMMUNICATED

Chestertown, Md.

Dear Elsie Dee:

So you have gone to the Sunny South. Evidently from your last letter, you have not found the great and mythical Dry South. Frank Kent writes about it and during the election season New York papers, in particular, were full of it. It must be somewhat like Santa Claus, everybody talks about him but no one has actually seen the old chap.

But Kent County has been wet lately. So much rain has fallen it makes us think Spring is here and the cars and Fords that get mired have the spring halt like poor old Dobbin of bygone days.

You know we have left the farm and are living in town. A friend who knows how dearly I loved the view of the Chesapeake from the farm sympathize with me in my bereavement. However, we now face the lovely Chester River but taking it by and large after pumping for seven years by hand and developing an arm like the Village Blacksmith, the best water view of all is watching it run out of the faucets.

The headquarters of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce have opened and the work is in full swing. The organization is going to do all it can on the bridge question. The bridge is the great subject of the day on all sides. Where you used to turn to Quillen's "Aunt Het" the first thing in the Baltimore Sun, you now search for bridge news which swings back and forth like a great pendulum, today optimistic; tomorrow, pessimistic for those who want to see it come and come to Kent. We were glad to get your cheering report on the matter.

It would take all the inmates of Sing Sing and about a hundred rocks the size of Gilbralter to restore the Caunty's dirt roads, Chain-gang style. I just met another "back-to-the-lander" who had to come to the County Seat today so he and his wife drove in an open wagon drawn by two horses, seventeen miles each way. An old timer informs us that there is nothing the matter with the roads, the trouble is with automobiles, in the day of the horse any one could make whatever destination they set.

Your for an early Spring,
NELL
