EASTERN SHORE CAN CAMPAIGN

ANNUAL BANQUET HELD IN HURLOCK STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

About four hundred business men, canners, bankers and persons in other walks of life, representing the Eastern and Western Shores of Maryland and parts of Delaware and Virginia, assembled at Hurlock on Wednesday of last week to attend the annual meeting of the Eastern Shore Can Co. Many of the men brought their wives, whose presence swelled the numbers to such an extent that everyone was remarking about 1927 having the distinction of entertaining more people than any previous year. At ten o'clock the directors met in the directors' room in the commodious new office building of the company. This was followed by a meeting of the stockholders, at which the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Walter M. Wright, Preston; S. E. Douglas, Preston; Harry H. Nuttle, Denton; E. Dale Adkins, Salisbury; George W. Woolford, Cambridge; Walter R. Disharoon, Salisbury; S. O. Neal, Hurlock; A. Victor Neal, Hurlock; J. Richard Phillips, Berlin; H. M. Parrott, Bethlehem; J. P. Harris, Preston; Robert Jarrell, Jr., Goldsboro; Lawrence B. Towers, Denton; Ralph L. Mason, Snow Hill; Russell P. Smith, Cambridge. The expansion and the additional business which the company has been able to secure has been beyond its fondest expectations, this expansion requiring additional capital and the stockholders authorized the sale of $70,000 seven per cent. preferred stock. At twelve o'clock everyone was invited into the huge warehouse of the company, where the really big event of the day was scheduled to take place. It took two hours to fill this part of the program, but it was two hours well spent because of the well prepared luncheon served to everyone present.

At two o'clock Mr. Walter M. Wright called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. George W. Woolford, who launched the speech-making with a very fine talk on "Co-operation." He was followed by Mr. W. T. Gardner, of Salisbury, head of the traffic department of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, who impressed his hearers with the importance of good transportation to city markets and lower freight rates. Mr. Wright then introduced Capt. Charles W. Wright, of Baltimore, the principal speaker, referring to him as being one man who is not ashamed to be called a "Puckhamite." Capt. Wright, in a very impressive manner, referred to the Eastern Shore as a section peopled by the splendid Anglo-Saxon race, and deplored the fact that historical events of this territory have gone unrecorded. The speaker described the Shore of yesterday with its "steamboat days," whch meant the days of the week on which the steamboat would arrive; the only bank on the Shore which was at Easton; Hurlock a town of two houses; the popular chills and fevers which came every year and the transportation of money to the Baltimore banks for safe keeping. It seemed impossible that there should be such a person alive who could remember the complete change which this section has enjoyed. He also touched upon the religious and social bigotry of that period. Capt. Wright then referred to the colossal strides taken by this same territory, which because of its advancement has become one of the most beautiful, progressive and productive regions in the United States.

APARTMENT IN WASHINGTON FOR FARM WOMEN

Mrs. Isaac H. Dixon, National Chairman of the Farm Woman's Council offers the use of her apartment at 1st & A St. N. E., Washington, gratis to the wives of farmers and farm owners of Kent, and other counties of Md. Accomodations for 4 persons, all women or 3 women and the husband of one of them. Other rooms available in same building if more husbands care to go. There is a kitchenette where food may be prepared should you care to take it along thereby lessening expense of trip. Also a tearoom in building where very good meats may be secured at reasonable prices. A wonderful chance to see the National Capital at norminal expense also a place that farm women may spend a restful week of pleasure. A most generous and hospitable offer on Mrs. Dixon's part. How about some of those delayed honeymoons? Can't you get them in now, even if like Samantha Allen, you have to leave Si home to milk?

Mrs. Dixon is anxious that we use it. She has leased it for 2 years and uses if only occassionally. How about it Kent Women? For particulars or reservations apply to committee.

Chairman, Mrs. Earl Nicholson, Mrs. Robert Hoopes, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Harry Williams, Rev. J. Colvin Randall.
