"COVERED WAGON" RETURNSTO LYCEUM

James Cruze's Paramount production "The Covered Wagon" is still entitled to a place at the head of the list. There has never been such a picture as this one which makes a triumphant return to the Lyceum Theatre next Thursday and Friday, Jan. 12, 13.

The production is undeniably one of the most magnifice[illegible] screen presentations ever sh[illegible]re. If you saw it on its original visit, you can well afford to see it again, but if you missed it at that time, you can't afford to miss it again! The long line of excellent players is headed by J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson. The latter will be remembered for her fine work in "The Vanishing American."

As Will Banion, leader of a wagon train, Kerrigan falls in love with Molly Wingate (Miss Wilson) whom he meets when his wagons join those headed by her father (Charles Ogle.) Alan Hale, playing the role of Sam Woodhull, a scoundrel, is engaged to Lois, and bitter rivalry arises between him and Banion.

Throughout the story, Woodhull is set on "getting" Banion. After a series of thrilling events, he encounters Banion in California where the latter has made a fortune in the gold fields. Woodhull is about to shoot from ambush when Jackson, an old scout, sees Woodhull and kills him. Banion is informed that he has been cleared of certain charges and—but see this fine picture! The passage of time has only served to add to its glory!

RAIDS GET STILL, MASH AND 4 PRISONERS

Raids on Friday of last week in Kent county by Federal Prohibition Agents resulted in four arrests, the finding of a still and a large quantity of mash.

The agents visited the home of Mr. Charles Nehus on where a still and a large quantity of mash was found. After the agents and Deputy Sheriff Lee had emptied the mash and destroyed the still they attempted to arrest Nehus he called for his gun and as a colored man handed it to him, the agents drew their guns and arrested him and the colored man.

The Federal agents arrested James Whittington and wife for having liquor in their possession. Although only a small quantity of liquor was found, a number of broken jugs indicated that a large quantity of liquor had been destroyed before their arrival.

All four prisoners were taken to Cambridge where a hearing was held before U. S. Commissioner, who held Nehus, and the colored man under $1000 bail each for their appearance before the Federal Judge. James Whittington's case was postponed until January 12th, and he is out on $500 bail; his wife was found not guilty.

SENATOR TIDINCS ON NEW COMMITTEE

Senator Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, was today assigned to the vacancy on the Senate Committee on Territories and Insular Possessions caused by the death of the late Senator Andrieus A. Jones, of New Mexico.

Senator Tydings served on this committee in the House when he was a member of that body. He now holds membership on Naval Affairs, Public Buildings and Grounds, Banking and Currency, in addition to Territories and Insular Affairs.

SPARKLER PLANT OPENS HERE

The Victory Sparkler and Specialty Co., of Elkton, Md., opened their plant on Mill street on Tuesday of this week.

The plant is located on South Mill street and at present is employing thirty-five women and girls.

—Kent county has been in the grip of the coldest snap of the winter this week. It is reported that the thermometer dropped to 8 degrees above zero Tuesday morning.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

No Such Place

"Where did the car hit this man?" asked the lawyer when questioning the attending physician at the trial.

"At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," responded the doctor.

The foreman of the jury rose in his seat and remarked: "I've lived in this country for upwords of fifty years and I know every crossroad, but I never heard of any such place; I believe it's a made-up case."

One improvement we would suggest for the new cars is mud guards. Judging from the appearance of the Masculines last week it looked like they had had a veritable mud bath. The cleaners had big jobs next morning.

Encouraging

A young London girl who was holidaying in the country became rather friendly with a young farmer. One evening as they were strolling in the fields they happened across a cow and a calf rubbing noses in te accepted bovine fashion.

"Ah," said the young farmer, "that sight makes me want to do the same."

"Well, go ahead," said the girl, encouragingly. "It's your cow."

Lindy! Lindy! up in the sky! may you be a messenger of peace, knitting the world together in one common brotherhood.

The New York Library has ordered that its new books be found in bright colors,—red, blue, purple and other flaming coors. It is found that books bound in these colors are most sought after, Just as the readers love to see their friends attractively gowned, so these friends of their l[illegible]ure or lonely hours should come to [illegible]m in pleasing dresses.

BEATRICE JOYCE

The jewels that Queen Isabella of Spain pawned to raise money for financing Columbus and his voyage to America are valued at approximately half million dollars, although they are worth many times that from the viewpoint of their historical interest. The set consists of 280 stones weighing 500 carats, and the largest diamond weighs fifty-four carats.

The world's biggest laundry bill is that paid by the Pullman Company for the laundering of the linen with which it equips its cars. The company owns 9,711,155 pieces of linen! Half of them are constantly on the organization's 8,600 cars; the other half are in reserve storerooms scattered throughout the country, and in the laundry. The principal items are 4,154,450 hand towels, 2,607,646 sheets, and 2,163,198 pillow-slips. All this linen, of course, goes frequently to the laundry and the average daily wash contains a million pieces every working day of the week, or six million weekly, or approximately 300,000,000 pieces a year.

January the 1st is a good day to make good resolutons. So is every other day in the year. Good resolutions are the seed: their fulfilment the fruit.

Build ye more stately mansions, O My Soul!
As the swift seasons roll:
Leave thy low vaulted past.
Let each new temple nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven
With a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thy outgrown shell by life's unresting sea. —Holmes

As usual the woman knows best.

A Chestertown husband and wife were in a puzzle to determine the sex of one of their fine flock of chickens, she protesting it was a hen while he averred it was a rooster. He, looking forward to a fine dinner on his rooster, put it into a fattening pen, where he found a few days later, an egg. He is now feeding "her," hot buckwheat cakes and mash.

PENINSUAL NEWS

Centreville Rotarians who recently caused the Centreville Free Library to be incorporated to thaat it could legally accept the $5,000 legacy left by the late Mrs. Martha J. Gillespie, to be used in constructing a handsome new library building, took another step toward accomplishing this end at their weekly meeting Thursday evening

At that time the Rotarians provided the necessary funds to effect a settlement of the suit brought against the will.

Paroles sought by Everett Andrew and Luther Bevans were considered Wednesday by Edward M. Parrish, State Parole Commissioner, and were held over indefinitely. The two brothers, 20 and 32 years old, respectively, are serving sentences for arson and for assaulting with intent to kill the guards who were removing them from the Worcester County Jail to Baltimore to prevent possible lynching.

Goldfrey Child, State's Attorney for Worcester County, and other countians, protested leniency to the men now in the Penitentiary. Mr. Parrish received a petition for clemency circulated by Everett J. Bevans, father of the convicts. A number of residents of the Eastern Shore admitted that they had signed it as a result of fear.

Benjamin Franklin Mears, of Accomac County, Va., met death suddenly at George's Island Landing last Sunday evening about six o'clock, when his automobile plunged with him into Chincoteague Bay. Besides Mr. Mears there were with him in the automobile, his wife, his daughter and his wife's sister.

The Prohibition Enforcement officers from Baltimore, accompanied by Sheriff Logan and three of his deputies, located four stills in Carpenter's Point Neck and Elk Neck, on Wednesday. About 3,000 gallons of mash was also found, but no manufactured liquor. No arrests were made.

The directors of the Citizens National Bank of Havre de Grace, at its regular meeting this week declared a dividend of sixteen per cent. per annum, and during the year placed $30,000 in the surplus fund.

The Queenstown News states that the account in last weeks paper that Gilbert Summers accidently shot himself in the hand with a pistol, was an error. Rumor has it that Gilbert was too near a turkey roost, in fact perched in the same tree with the turkeys and a shot from the owner brought him to the doctor. We hope this is not so as we had hopes that Gilbert had reformed.

On Tuesday of this week thirty-two carloads of pork and beans were shipped from a Havre de Grace packing plant.

Port Deposit, Md., January 3.—Growing of mushrooms is rapidly becoming an industry in the upper portions of Cecil county. Plants have been established at Rising Sun, Colora, Liberty Grove and at this point, with a demand for almost the entire product in Washington.

Delaware City, January 4.—The U. S. E. D. Dredge Mantua of the Wilmington district, Engineering Department, moved into the canal at Delaware City Wednesday and anchored in the spot where the American Eagle left off dredgng operations about three weeks ago.

The Wilmington district offices will complete the task of dredging the Delaware City entrance of the new Chespeake & Delaware canal, abandoned by the William H. French Dredging and Wrecking Company of Norfolk, Va., who had the original contract for the work.

The residence of William Marshall at Claiborne was destroyed by fire yesterday, but the firemen of St. Micheals who answered the call for aid, with the assistance of neighbors, succeeded in saving all of his furniture and household effects. In the excitement two men grabbed hold of a Heatroller, thinking it a Victrola, to carry it out in the yard. They burned their hands badly, but they finally succeeded in getting it out.

Special honors will be conferred on Pierre S. du Pont and Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the University of Delaware, at a luncheon to be given in their honor at 1 tomorrow afternoon in the French Embassy in Washington by Paul Claudel, the French ambassador to this country.

In recognition of their work in behalf of the University of Delaware Foreign Study Plan which was inaugurated by the local university several years ago, and has been made a success largely through his generosity, Mr. du pont will be made an officer of the Legion of Honor, and Dr. Hullihen will be made a knight of the same order.

FERRY BURNS AT PIER

The steamer Eastern Shore, the property of the Baltimore, Eastern Shore Ferry Line, Inc., operating between Rock Hall and Bay Shore which went into a receivership some time ago, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night as it lay in its berth at the company's pier, near Bay Shore Park. Its companion vessel, the Baltimore, was burned two years ago tomorrow at the Rock Hall Pier.

The steamer, with other property of the company, was to have been sold at public auction at a receiver's sale next Thursday. The fire was discovered about 6.30 o'clock by Patrolman Joseph Lawson, of the Essex Police Department, who saw the smoke from a point about a mile away.

Pier Seemed In Danger.

Patrolman Lawson turned in an alarm and the Dundalk Fire Department was summoned. When the firemen arrived the vessel was a mass of flames from stem to stern, they reported. Unable to save the Eastern Shore they devoted their efforts to preventing the fire from spreading to the pier, which for a time seemed in danger.

Their efforts to save the pier, which also was to be sold along with the other property of the company, were successful. The Eastern Shore burned to the water's edge and sank a few hours after the fire had been discovered.

TOMATO SITUATION SERIOUS

Although reports to the contrary have been circulated, the tomato situation on the Eastern Shore particularly in Kent county which in the heart of the tomato district, has become serious.

A few years ago Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey grow more than half the tomatoes grown in the United States, but today tomatoes are grown all over the country from Maryland to California.

Officials of the Kent County Farm Bureau state that due to the strong competition from other sections, growing on the open market has become a thing of the past, and that unless limited acreage is practised there is doubt as to whether tomatoes will be a Kent county crop in the future.

However Kent County is suitable to the growing of tomatoes due to soil, climate and proximity to the canning industries and great markets of the east, together with years of experience of growing and for this reason the future may return a profit for the tomato crop but at present every effort should be made to grow better tomatoes so as to make a demand for the Maryland crop.

FOOD AND HEALTH MEETING

Miss Schelenger, Home Demonstration Agent for Kent county, is making arrangements for a large county-wide meeting in Chestertown on Friday, January 27th.

The meeting will be a general get-together of all the various clubs throughout the county and all those interested in food from a health standpoint.

The principal speaker at the meeting will be Miss Betty Amos, of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council. Her subject will be "Health and Food."

Aside from the meeting there will be a food exhibit. The County Council will offer a prize for the best bread made from whole wheat flour.

Mr. P. M. Brooks will offer a prize for the best white bread made from Rose Bud Flour.

Prizes will be offered for the best five jars of fruit and the best five jars of vegetables.

A prize will be offered for the best week's menue using home canned products.

The meeting will be held in Firemen's will bring out some very interesting suggestions of food from a health standpoint.

BUSINESS SCHOOL HERE

The George—Carolina School of Commerce is contemplating opening up a branch school of business courses here. The School has branches in over 200 counties in the United States and seeks to serve communities that cannot afford a large business school. A varied selection of complete courses in typewriting, stenography, bookkeeping and advanced courses in business administration are given for day and night students. It is believed the creation of such a school here would be of benefit to the business life of Kent county and fill a long-needed service in community educational life. The school would not conflict with high school work or the activities of Washington College. The chamber of commerce and other civic organizations in the county are interested in the proposed venture.

THE CHRISTMAS DANCE

The annual Christmas dance of the Chester Assembly was held on at the Washington College gymnasium on Friday evening of last week.

The hall was beautifully decorated with Christmas trimmings covering the ceiling and walls of the large gymnasium. A luncheon of chicken salad, biscuit and coffee was served during intermission. Three hundred people from Kent and Queen Anne's counties attended the affair.

MODERN WOODMAN OFFICERS

Chester Camp No. 8745 Modern Woodmen of America have elected the following officers:

Clerk, John W. Barnes; Banker Walter U. Lusby; Consul, M. E. Newsome; Advisor, Robert Moffett; Watchmen, M. Wilbur Thomas; Escort, J. S. Kreeger, Sentry, Charles L. Dodd; Managers, 1 year, T. G. Wroth; 2 years, J. S. Kreeger; 3 years, C. S. Smith; Physician, Dr. H. B. Simmons; Special Auditor, J. H. Sides.

AMBULANCE WORK RESUMED

Owing to the Emergency Hospital Campaign and various other drives that were being carried on in the county before Christmas, the Committee in charge of raising funds for a public ambulance for Kent County decided to postpone further activities until after the holidays. The chairman of the Committee, Mrs. John Clendaniel, Sr., asks the committees of the town organizations which are interested in the project to attend the meeting at the Health Center which will be held Tuesday evening, January 10, 1928, when plans will be discussed as to the best methods to follow in conductng the campaign. Nearly three hundred dollars have been contributed in response to letters that were sent out early in December. In order to keep all expenses down that all money contributed will go directly toward the ambulance itself asknowledgement of gifts will be made through the county papers. The sum needed is $3,500.00

FARM BUREAU BANQUET 12TH

Those who attend the annual dinner of the Kent County Farm Bureau next Thursday, anuary 12th, are assured of a sumptious dinner.

The ladies of St. Paul's church will serve the dinner and the menu is as follows: Fruit cup, roast chicken, giblet gravy, homing, peas, slaw, rolls, Maryland Biscuits, pickles, jelly, ice cream, assorted cakes and coffee.

The occasion will be the annual gathering ofall of the various Farm Bureau locals. The program as announced last week in the Transcript will be carried out, and although the name of the principal speaker has not been announced it is the belief that Mr. Thomas Panen will be theer. If this rumor is true those who attend can be assured of a real treat.

The annual reports of committees and officials of the Kent county Farm Bureau will be read. Mr. E. Thomas Massey, president will preside and the state president will be one of the speakers of the evening.

The banquet will be held in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School.

HONEYMOON HATE COMING TO LYCEUM

A colorful section of the romantic city of Venice, Italy, was duplicated at Paramount's studio in Hollywood for the new Florence Vidor starring vehicle "Honeymoon Hate" which comes to the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday, Jan. 11th.

Thousands of yards of earth were removed in the center of the twenty-six acre studio grounds and a great cement tank constructed. In this tank the Venetian buildings were put up, then the tank flooded with water.
