KENT COUNTY NOW boasts three active fire companies, ready at all times to render unpaid service. Yet the actual fighting of fires is only part of the work being accomplished by these organizations. In these days of selfish scramble for the dollar, service organizations of this kind add a much needed moral aspect. The idea of service to others without thought these and other organizations of self is gradually spreading throughout the county through the work of nothing but good can come of it.

THROUGH THE EFFORTS of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce and other agencies an investigation is being made in reference to the reduction of insurance rates. This is a worthy move and while investigations are in order, why not investigate the power, light, and gas rates. Reduction in power rates is being made in many towns on the Shore and as Maryland now boasts of one of the greatest hydro-electric plants in the country, the towns of this state have a right to ask for a reasonable power rate.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS WHICH brighten the prospect of the Chesapeake Bay bridge; the assurance of developments in the county which will lure many city folk to this county during the summer months, the scramble for water-front property, the building of a yacht and country club near Chestertown, all add to the prospect of a prosperous future for Kent county. Yet it is the duty of the business and social interests of the county to get back of and encourage these developments. Just what they will mean to the county require considerable forsight, but Kent county needs more people. An increased population means homes to be built, a greater consumption of food and clothing and an increase in the taxable basis of the county. After a through investigation of the creditability of these developments, lets give them a warm welcome and encouragement on every hand.

PENINSULA NEWS

Moves of Worcester county oystermen to evade payment of a 3-cent tax for each bushel of oysters caught received a setback yesterday when Robert H. Archer, Assistant Attorney-General, wrote H. H. Johnson, chief clerk of the Conservation Department, confirming the latter's opinion that a local law of that county did not give exemption from payment of the tax.

Upon returning from the funeral of his son, William Howell, who was killed in a clay pit on Saturday, John Howell, who resides on the Creswell farm, near Elkton, learned that his home had been destroyed by fire. Neighbors saved the greater part of the furnishings.

The Eldorado High School Building Dorchester County, was practically destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The blaze, it is believed, originated from a defective flue. The school is located on the main Maryland State road and a large crowd of motorists soon gathered, but owing to the lack of fire-fighting apparatus in Eldorado they could do nothing toward saving the building. The school has recently been remodeled at a cost of several hundred dollars. It was one of the first schools in Dorchester county to be used as a community center and also one of the first Maryland schools where busses were used to convey children from a distance. The loss is about $7,000, on which there was $5,000 insurance on the building and $500 on the equipment.

All the space in the East Armory at South and Harrison streets has been sold for the local Automobile Show which opens on February 28th and closes on March third. Mr. John Mitchell, chairman of the committee stated that there were more applications for floor space but that no more was available.

The Utilities Commission of Easton presented its report for 19[illegible] to the Council on Thursday and i[illegible] favorable showing. It makes [illegible]mmendations—one, that a cut of [illegible]nts be made in the price of gas, an[illegible]wo, that another oil burning electr[illegible] generating unit be purchased. This second recommedation is made in the light of experience with the Diesel engine installed last year, with a consequent great reduction in the production cost. With another unit installed, and the funds can be available from earnings and eventually permit of a substantial cut in the electric cost.

The headquarters of the Easton Hospital drive in the Gregg Building have been closed, and the Secretary dispensed with. The drive matters are now being handled by the committee in charge and Dr. McDaniel is acting as Treasurer. Already debts of the Hospital have been paid off that have been costing the institution over a thousands dollars a year in interest money. One other debt is to be liquidated as soon as sufficient funds come in, and after that improvements to the buildings and operating room will be taken up.

5 PER CENT. INTEREST ON FARM LOANS

Since the annual rate of interest was reproduced to 5 per cent. on November 15th, 1927, The Kent and Queen Anne National Farm Loan Association has received applications for loans totalling $73,000, showing the increasing popularity of this Co-operative method of borrowing money on farm lands.

If you are now carrying a 6 per cent. mortgage on your farm which never grows less, why not transfer it to the Federal Land Bank and get the benefit of the 5 per cent interest, enabling you to reduce your mortgage principal every year.

If you desire to purchase a farm the Federal Land Bank will finance the proposition to the extent of 50 per cent. of the purchase price on the 5 per cent. annual interest basis.

The Federal Land Bank proposition reduces the principal amount of your mortgage every year until it is finally liquidated on easy payments.

Come in and let me tell you all about it.
