BIGGER POULTRY PROFITS

WITH HIGH GRADE BROODERS

SOL-HOT NEWTOWN BUCKEYE

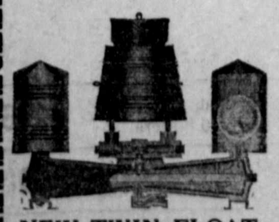

Poultry raisers in ever increasing numbers are being convinced of the folly of trusting the brooding of the chickens they have paid good money for, to anything but the best brooders. The SOL-HOT, NEWTOWN and BUCKEYE are leaders in the field of coal and oil burning brooders. This leadership has been gained by long and satisfactory service. Ask the users. The SOL-HOT is a new line with us this season and has the well earned reputation of being the 100 per cent. efficient oil burning brooder, and is equipped with the new twin float oil level.

We also carry a full line of poultry feeders, fountains, etc. Come in and see the largest and most complete display of brooders we have ever carried, or, if you cannot come in write for booklets.

Yours for larger poultry profits in 1928.

HEALTH NOTES

In 1926, the last year for which there are complete returns there were 30,450 cases of smallpox throughout the United States with 380 deaths. This was an improvement over 1925 when there were 39,639 cases and over 1924 when there were 55,538 cases."

Maryland has one of the best vaccination laws in the country and the majority of the people in the State have cooperated willingly and intelligently with County, City and State Departments of Health in conforming with the law. Therefore Maryland's contributions to these tremendous totals have been slight compared with those from other States. Over against the 100,000 cases throughout the United States in the last three years, Maryland has had 30 cases, 16 in the counties and 14 in Baltimore City.

Every case of smallpox that occurs is regarded as a potential epidemic and is treated as such and an effort is made to find and vaccinate every individual who has been in contact with the patient. In addition to making provision for emergency measures, our Maryland law requires every child to be protected against smallpox by vaccination before he or she can be admitted to school. Observance of these regulations over a long period of years has been a means of protection for a large part of our population.

Previous to enrollment in school, the responsibility rests upon the parents. After that it is shared by the teacher and any teacher who admits a child who does not show evidence of successful vaccination is responsible under the law and is subject to a fine.

We can picture what could and probably would happen if our health officers were lax in the administration of this law, by observing what happens in other communities which do not avail themselves of this means of protection. Take Nebraska, which has a population of approximately 250,000 less than Maryland as an example. Recent reports from that State show that they had 806 cases of smallpox in 1925 and 691 in 1926.

In these days of unlimited travel by every imaginable means of transportation, disease knows no boundaries. Nobody can afford to take chances on smallpox. Vaccination has stamped out the disease wherever it has been systematically practised. Our Maryland record proves that it pays to be vaccinated.

AGRICULTURIAL NOTES

Adding dry skim milk powder to the feed of growing chicks has proved an excellent preventive of coccidiosis, and its use has increased materially in the preparation of chick feeds.

Many dairy cows are undersized and are low producers because they did not get enough of the right kind of feed when they were young and growing. After a heifer has freshened and is producing milk it is difficult for her to make up the growth she failed to get as a younger animal because of poor feeding.

Ample sunlight in dairy barns, together with dryness and ample ventilation are potent agencies in preventing tuberculosis in the dairy herd and other diseases as well. Another element of prevention lies in building up vitality and resistance to disease. Animals whose bodies are in a vigorous active condition throw off many infections which might otherwise cause serious illness.

Copper carbonate dusting which has proved convenient and effective in disinfecting seed wheat affected by flag smut and stinking smut is not effective when the grain is infected with loose smut. The hot water treatment is required to penetrate the grain and kill the fungus inside the kernel. Directions for the hot water treatment as well as other methods of disinfection are printed in Farmers' Bulletin 1540-F, obtainable upon application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

During the winter, if dairy cows are in the stable, they should be watered two or three times a day. Drinking cups in the stable enable the cow to drink as often as she desires and are considered by many farmers to be a paying invesment. It is a good practice to warm the water for the milking herd during the coldest weather. because it is probably cheaper to heat the water with wood or coal than for the cow to heat it in her body on expensive feed. This is especially true with higher producing cows. Heat the water to about 15 degrees or 20 degrees F. above freezing.

Farmers, List Your Repair Needs

It would be hard to find a farmer who at some time or another had not lost valuable time waiting for necessary repair parts. Take this territory and total up the time lost in this way and it will astonish you. And all because repairs are not ordered as early as they should be.

There is no better time than right now—just before the busiest season on the farm—to go over your machines carefully, make a list of repairs you are likely to need and send it to us. With this list in our hands, we can order our stock so as to be prepared t meet every call promptly.

Repair part service is a necessary part of our business. We realize what it means to you in time and money to get what you want at once. Help us to help you by bringing up your list now and bringing it to us.
