"CARDEN OF ALLAH"

One of the greatest desert romances ever filmed, "The Garden of Allah," a Rex Ingram production for Metro-Goldwyn of Robert Hichens' famous novel comes to the Lyceum Theatre on Thursday and Friday, March 15th and 16th.

Filmed in the sand wastes of the Sahara, the locality in which the story takes place, it has authentic reality. It tells the tale of a Trappist monk's love for an English girl, of his marriage to her, and of his subsequent return to the monastery after three months spent with her on the desert.

Alice Terry in the role of Donini, the girl who sends her lover back to the rigid seclusion of his cell even though she is rapturously in love with him at the time, has the greatest opportunity of her career. She is supported by Ivan Petrovich, a Serbian leading man new to American audiences, and ac sat of contintental players. Petrovich will doubtless become the new screen favorite on the strength of his portrayal of the monk who is torn between love for a woman and faith to his trust.

"The Garden of Allah" is a haunting romance filled with passion, heartbreak and thrilling adventure.

LOCAL POST SECOND IN STATE DRIVE

The Frank M. Jarman Post No. 36 finished a strong second in the State in the drive for new members held during the month of February.

Each Post in the State was given a quota based on the number of ex-service men in the territory that the Post covered and the local post went over the quota with an average of 121 per cent. The Maryland Guard Memorial, of Baltimore, won the trophy with 124 per cent. These two posts were far ahead of the winner of third place, which was the James L. Love post.

The Frank M. Jarman, Post held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening with twenty-eight members present and was addressed by State Commander Wallace Williams.

Commander Wiliams told of the value of the Legion to the nation and also to the individual Legionaire. He brought out many interesting facts about what the organization is trying to do for the betterment of the community and country at large.

The officers of the local post are endeavoring to arrange interesting meeting for each meeting night which is the first Wednesday of each month.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

THE HAPPIEST HEART

Who drives the horses of the sun
Shall lord it but a day;
Better the lowly deed were done
And kept the humble way.

The rust will find the sword of fame,
The dust will hide the crown;
Ay, none shall nail so high his name
Time will not tear it down.

The happiest heart that ever beat
Was in some quiet breast;
That found the common daylight sweet

By John Vance Chency

The candidates are thicker than peas. They are brushing their hats so as to throw them in the ring. There is one embarrassing question which they do not wish to answer, "Are you wet or are you dry?" "Are you wet or are you dry?" The candidates are asked by Borah, Such an embarrasing question too. You see they grow sorer and sorer.

Walsh of Montana, a Roman Catholic and a very dry, has become a candidate for the Democratic Nomination. And Smith is very wet. Which will be the people's choice; and Reed: We are listening to hear what Senator Heflin will say.

We are glad to know that the membership of the Fire Company is growing. Team work is what is needed in our town. All working together for the common good.

It ain't the individual
Nor the Army as a whole,
But the everlastin' team work
Of every bloomin' soul.

Turn About Is Fair Play

The prisoners in a Richmond jail have presented the jailer with a new pistol as a token of their high regard. It is now up to the jailer to reciprocate by presenting each prisoner with a hacksaw and motorcycle.

We who have meat and who can eat may have pity for this unfortunate man.

Wistfulness

He had a million dollars,
And he's getting many more.
His simple breakfast is a woeful joke.
And now he sadly hollers
For those happy days of yore,
When his appetite was fine,
though he was broke.

HEREDITY AGAIN

Jack had just brought home his report card, which was very poor. His father, scanning the card, remarked, "How does it happen, Jack, that Bill always gets such good grades and you do so poorly?"
"You forget, father," replied Jack, "that Bill has very clever parents."

PERFECT CANDOR

Famous Artist—Now, will you give me your candid opinion of my picture?
Hardened Critic—It is absolutely worthless.
Famous Artist—Yes, every one knows that your opinion is utterly worthless, but nevertheless I am anxious to have it!—Regina Leader.

Speaking of Epitaphs, the following was found in an old English Church yard:
"Under this sod and under these trees,
Lieth the body of Solomon Pease—
He is not in this hotel nor in this pod,
For he's shelled out and gone up to God."

The Bishop of Ely and the Viscount Lascellis, the King of England's son in law have gone on a real crusade against the modish short skirt. Why should women lose the grace, dignity and charm which is associated with the dress of the previous generation? says the venerable Bishop.
The campaign was started with this rhyme:
"Half an inch, half an inch, half an inch shorter.
The skirts are the same of mother and daughter.
When the wind blows each one of them shows
Half an inch, half an inch more than she oughter."
The Bishop disclaimed the authorship of the above poem but added one of his own:
"Mary has a little skirt,
So neat, so bright, so airy;
It never shows a speck of dirt,
But it surely does show Mary."

Some people's prayers are about as selfish as was the shoe shiners who taught his children to pray for everybody but the makers of white oxfords and fancy sandals.

PENINSULA NEWS

Following announcement of the plan to organize a 75-piece County Wide Brass Band for Queen Anne's County, under the leadership of Prof. Charles F. Schlosser, of Baltimore, a number of communities have responded and expressed enthusiastic interest in the proposal.

Announcement was made last week that Herbert Z. Beaven, former partner of A. Howard Johnson in the operation of a canning plant at Price, had purchased a half interest in the elevator and mill owned by Frank W. Brower at that place. The business in future will be conducted under the firm name of Brower & Beaven.

One of the airplanes sent out from Anacostia to comb Chesapeake Bay, its shores and tributaries, in search of the plane driven by Commander T. G. Ellyson, with Lieutenant Commander Hugo Schmidt, and Lieutenant Rogers Ransebaum, which has been missing since Monday morning, was compelled to make a forced landing at "Eversley," the country home of Mrs. Alice G. Wilmer, seven miles from Centreville on the Chester River. Although the plane turned completely over in landing, neither the pilot, Lieutenant Sykes, nor his companion was injured, and the plane was only damaged to the extent of having a broken propeller. A telephone message to Annapolis brought another plane with a new propeller and the cripled plane was soon on its way.

Ferry service between Baltimore and Love Point will be improved by the addition of a new double-end modern type ship if the properties of the bankrupt Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway are bought by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the foreclosure sale this month, it was learned recently.

Plans of the Pennsylvania, it was said, are concerned only with the railproperties and the terminus in Baltimore, and not with the steamboat lines of the foreclosed company. The railline runs from Love Point to Ocean City.

That Federalsburg is to posses an adequate water system, municipally-owned, is evidenced by the activities that already are taking place looking toward such a system.

Although attacked from the back by five negroes, and thrown to the ground, where they attempted to hold him, while his prisoner made his escape, Special Officer Ernest J. Stacey, of Somerset County, fought his way through the negroes, even though he was compelled to shoot his original prisoner before he was finally stopped.

FARM EQUIPMENT WEEK WILL START MONDAY

Farm Equipment Week, March 12 to 17, 1928, is a week which benefits everybody, whether they know it or not, according to Joens & Satterfield (local dealer). This "week" is a "Style show" for plows, tractors, wagons, planters, etc., and will show the latest wrinkles in modern labor-saving farm machinery. Practically everyone is interested in or dependent on the farm in some way and, therefore, are affected by the use or non-use of farm machinery.

Modern farm machinery has done more than any other thing to make farm life easier and increase the farmer's income by enabling him to reduce hired help bills, increase his acreage and yields, and raise better quality crops.

Jones & Satterfield will co-operate in observing the week by special exhibits of farm machines, demonstrations, lectures by factory experts, movies, and other forms of entertainment and distinction. Saturday the 17th will be the big day.

NEW TRUCK FOR FIRE COMPANY

Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company will soon boast of a number 3 fire truck.

The new truck will be built around a Pierce Arrow chasis and will be especially equipped for country calls. It will have a more powerful engine and will weigh much lighter than the present Pierce Arrow truck number 2.

The new equipment will, aside from the necessary small equipment be equipped with a centrifigal pump, a water tank, and a small suction and discharge hose which is much needed when the water supply is limited. The truck will also carry equipment for pumping from the town mains.

The new engine will cost much less than the present number 2 truck and will save the heavier equipment from the wear and tear of the country roads.

TOWN COMMISSIONERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Commissioners of Chestertown was held on Monday evening of this week.

At this meeting the Commissioners voted to build a board walk from the corner of Cannon and Mill streets to the Victory Sparkler Plant, there being no side walk on this street.

The Commissioners also voted to erect a light at the corner of Campus Ave. and Mt. Vernon Place and also a light on Philosopher's Terrace.

KENT CALF CLUB MEETS

The Kent County 4-H Calf Club met in the Court House, Chestertown on Tuesday evening of this week.

A number of issues of importance to the club were discussed and March 30th, was set as a tentative date for the annual 4-H Calf Club banquet.

This club, under the direction of County Agent Hoarce B. Derrick, is partly responsible for the increased interest in the county in pure bred stock, and their annual exhibit at Timoneum Fair is a credit to the county.

90 EMPLOYED AT LOCAL PLANT

The Victory Sparkler and Specialty Plant on Mill street is employing more labor today than any factory ever operating in Chestertown.

Ninety men and women are now working on the manufacture of fire works and the manager states that he has work for fifty more employees.

While the bulk of the employees come from Chestetrown, yet a large number communicate from Rock Hall and vicinity as well as from other towns in Kent and Queen Anne's county.

The empolyees are working on a piece-work basis and the last bimonthly pay check was $2300.

TO OPEN SEED AREA

At a meeting held in Baltimore last week by members of the Oyster Advisory Committee, with Conservation Commissioner Swepson Earle, steps were taken for the opening of the oyster-seed area at the head of Chesapeake Bay. It is expected that the areas will be opened by the latter part of this month.

Oysters from the seed areas will be used for planting purposes only, Mr. Earle said. Many dredgers are expected to be on hand at the opening of the areas. The crop of them will be worth approximately $50,000 through sales of the seed oysters to private planters, he added.

CHARLES WOOD HOME BURNED

Fire destroyed the home of County Commissioner Charles D. Wood shortly after mindight, Monday of this week. Mr. Wood was awakened by the smell of smoke and found the rear of the house afire. He aroused his wife and daughter and all three were compelled to leave the house in their night clothes, and seek refuge in a tenant house. All the house-hold goods and clothing were destroyed.

The Rock Hall Volunteer Fire Company responded to the call and succeeded in saving the outbuildings.

The home has belonged to the Wood family for many years, Mr. Charles Woo dhaving moved there the first of this year from the Tolchester farm. It was one of the oldest homes in that section of the county.

GOLDSBOROUGH ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Present Congressman To Seek Re-Nomination In Democratic Primaries

Washington, March 6th.—Congressman T. Allan Goldsborough, of the Eastern Shore Maryland District, filed Monday with the supervisors of Elections of the nine counties comprising this district, his certificate of candidacy.

In announcing his candidacy to the TRANSCRIPT Mr. Goldsborough said that he had very much enjoyed his Congressional service and desired to continue it if this met with the approval of his constituents.

Mr. Goldsborough has been a member of one of the most important House committees—the Committee on Banking and Currency—ever since he has been in Congress, the work of this committee being so heavy and important as to necessitate its being made what is known in the Congress as an "exclusive" committee;—that is, its members are ineligible for service on any other House committee.

Mr. Goldsborough is investigating particularly the administration of the national currency system in a way to increase its efficiency in stabilizing business conditions, and many of his views have been adopted as the permament policy of the Federal Reserve System.

At a meeting of the Maryland State Bankers' Association at Atlantic City on June 2, 1924, Mr. Goldsborough explained how the Federal Reserve System was endeavoring, with much success, by the raising and lowering of rediscount rates and the purchase and sale of eligible commercial paper, to maintain business stability by restraining business over-expansion, production, and speculation on the one hand, and business collapse and panic on the other.

Mr. Goldsborough's speech was the first public utterance on the subject, and it is interesting to note that on January 24th, Mr. Reginald McKenna, former Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain and now president of the Midland Bank, in an address before the directors of the bank of England explained how the aforementioned policy of the United States Federal Reserve System was stabilizing the business of the world. Mr. McKenna said, in the course of his address:

"Although gold is still the nominal basis of most currencies, the real determination of the movements in the general level of world prices is thus the purchasing power of the dollar. In a very real sense, the world is on a dollar standard."

It is further interesting to note that the first measure of general legislation introduced by Mr. Goldsborough was a bill involving the conception that legislation should be directed toward making the purchasing power of a dollar the real standard rather than an arbitrary and unalterable gold content.

Congressman Goldsborough also has done a great deal of work in an endeavor to achieve constructive farm relief, as he considers agriculture the basis industry of the country.

Mr. Goldsborough has been active in matters especially helpful to the people of the Eastern Shore of Maryland. In addition to farm relief, he has worked very hard for the sea food industry, the dredging of rivers and harbors, compensation and deserved pensions for veterans of the World War, and other wars, and income tax reduction for persons of moderate means.

Recently he secured permanent twice yearly sittings of the Federal Court on the Eastern Shore, where the Federal Court had not been held for one hundred and twenty-seven years.

Mr. Goldsborough is now serving his fourth term in Congress, having been elected each time with an increasing majority, as follows: 67th Congress, 2,879 majority; 68th Congress, 5,593 majority; 69th Congress 6,903 majority; 70th Congress, 9,501 majority.

—Announcement has been made of the election to position of director and vice-president of the Harter B. Hull Company, Baltimore Dodge Brothers distributors, of Gilbert A. Jarman, who has been passenger car sales manager of this concern for the past year.

The legalist has yet to learn that love prevails where law fails.

DEATHS

Mr. Jonothan Dixon Maxwell, of Worton Manor, died at his home in the third district on Wednesday evening of this week, March 7th, of pneumonia, aged 62 years.

Mr. Maxwell came to Kent county from New York State six years ago and since that time he has been active in the civic affairs of the county. He was a strong advocate of road improvement and took the position that the progress of the county was largely dependant upon the ability to travel the roads at all times.

He was organizing chairman of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce and was an active worker in that organization until recently poor health compelled him to take a more inactive part.

Mr. Maxwell was one of the pioneers in the automobile industry and two years ago he attended a banquet at which the ten pioneers of this industry were in attendance. At the time of his death, he was a director of a large manufacturing company which took him out of the county on numerous occasions.

Surviving Mr. Maxwell is his wife, Mrs. Nora C. Maxwell and two sons, Messrs. Jesse Dixon Maxwell, of Kent county and Elmer Joseph Maxwell; also one brother, Mr. William E. Maxwell.

Funeral services were held yesterday, Friday evening, at 2 p. m. at the home. The bearers were Messrs. Earl Pinder, Earl Nicholson, A. S. Turner, Charles Jessup, S. Scott Beck and S. R. Collins. C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The remains were carried to Peru, Indiana for burial.

James G. Harris, one of Kent County's prominent citizens and farmers died at his late home on his Rock Point farm Wednesday morning, March 7, 1928, aged 57 years. Mr. Harris a few years ago in addition to his farming interests was largely engaged in the tomato canning business. He represented Kent County in the House of Delegates in 1911 and 1913 He was born near Still Pond in this county and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James S. Harris. He is survived by his widow and several children.

Funeral services were held yesterday, Friday afternoon at 2.30 p. m. at the Still Pond M. E. Church, Rev. S. S. Hepbron offiated. Interment in Still Pond cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. Walter B., Roger B., Arthur L., John R. and James S. Harris and W. A. Greer. B. R. Fellows, undertaker.

MAXWELL ACQUITTED AT LOWER HEARING

STATE TAKES APPEAL—CASE TO BE TRIED AT APRIL TERM

The court room at Chestertown was crowded on Monday afternoon of this week for the trial of Mr. William A. Maxwell, of Quaker Neck, charged with reckless driving, man-slaughter, driving under the influence of liquor and failure to keep to the right of the road.

The charges were the result of an accident at Urieville Mill when an automobile, driven by Mr. Maxwell collided with a wagon drawn by two horses, the result of which one horse was killed and Mr. Ayers, a passenger in Mr. Maxwell's car received fatal injuries.

While Mr. Maxwell and James Park the colored man driving the wagon, are the only living witnesses of the collision, a number of people who arrived at the scene shortly after the accident were called on to testify.

The trial was held before Justice Olin B. Stafford and Senator S. Scott Beck and Mr. Harrison W. Vickers represented Mr. Maxwell. Mr. Stephen R. Collins represented the state. The trial lasted three and a half hours and after the testamony and arguments were heard, Justice Stafford reserved his decision until six p. m. Tuesday when verdict of not guilty in all four charges was rendered.

States Attorney Stephen R. Collins noted an appeal and the cases will be tried during the April term of Court.

CARROLL COUNTY PAGEANT

The Pageant of Carroll County will be staged June second and fourth as the major event in the commencement of Western Maryland College. A cast of 2,000 persons will present the history of the county from the days of the Susquehannock Indians to the present. Churches, Clubs, schools, business firms, and civic organizations will participate.

The students of Western Maryland College will play a prominent part in the spectacle.

The following students at Western Maryland College from Kent County will participate in The Pageant of Carroll: Charles Willis, Betterton, Md., and Julia Williams, Worton, Md.
