—Mr. W. E. Sturtwant, of Ardmore, Pa., stated in an interview last week, that the Primrose or Skipper farm development will be started this spring. At the present time the company which Mr. Sturdwant represents has an option on the property.

—The lot in the rear of the jail was disced and leveled this week in preparation for the sowing of lawn grass. This will be a great improvement to the court yard. A concrete walk is being laid between the Court House and the Jail.

Let Us Sell You A Ton of Evidence

Last Spring our Mr. Ford called on Mr. Henry Austin, of Felton, Del., to sell him some truck fertilizer whereupon Mr. Austin asked him the price of our 5-8-5 Truck Goods and Mr. Ford informed him; Mr. Austin said, "I am amazed at any such price for I can buy the same analysis for $4.00 less per ton."

To this Mr. Ford replied, "that may be true, for we could make a goods to analyze the same for $6 less per ton, but you must remember this, that there is as much difference in the articles of plant food as there are in man food. We could use cyanind at a cost of $2.00 per unit of ammonia and other mineral ammoniates for about half what we pay for the animal ammoniates, such as fish, bone, tankings, in our truck goods.

Mr. Austin said, "well, send me a ton of Evidence." He took our ton and tested along side of three other makes of fertilizers which cost him from $3.50 to $5.00 less per ton. And during the season the experimental plot was the show of the neighborhood and people came for miles to see it.

Later in the season Mr. Austin called up and wanted two tons more of our goods sent at once. Mr. Ford said, "I have no other cars now for Felton and it will cost $2.00 more per ton to truck it that distance. Mr. Austin said, "I don't care if it costs $20.00 more per ton, as I have grown twice as much produce from yours as I have from any of the other three brands and I want it.

If, therefore, you are not already a patron of ours, let us sell you a ton of EVIDENCE.

Very truly yours,

THE NEW FORD CAR

The Following Are Some of the Out-standing Features of the New Ford Car:

STEERING GEAR

The steering gear of the new Ford is of the irreversible type, with worm and sector, as used on the Lincoln car. The gear ratio of 11.25-to one gives wonderfully easy steering. The gear case is made of three steel forgining, electrically welded together. Because of severe strains to which the housing is subjected, steel forgins were selected in order to make it as strong as possible.

The steering wheels is of steel with hard rubber cover. The wheel is 17 1-2 inches in diameter.

FRAME

The frame of the new Ford car is heavy and strong with three cross members, and is tapered to meet body requirements.

SPRING

The transverse, semi elliptic springs on the new Ford car have been designed and built to give exceptionally easy riding qualities to the car. They are built of the finest spring steel. The leaves are wide and following the most modern practice, are thin, giving the springs the required flexibility so essential to easy riding qualities. These leaves are in varying sizes and built up to give just the proper spring action to each body type in conjunction with hydraulic shock absorbers. This gives the car smooth riding at all speeds and over all kinds of roads, the spring acts independently when the car is driven over paved roads where the surface is smooth, the shock absorbers come into action and takes up the shocks of the rough roads or when ever bumps are encountered.

WHEELS

The new Ford car is equiped with steel spoke wheels, with drop center rims, this equipment includes a spare wheel. These wheels are of Ford design and are noted for their high quality and durability. The steel spokes, one-quarter inch in diameter, are welded to the hub shell and rim. The drop center rim has two advantages. First, it adds strength to the wheel. Secondly, it greatly facilitates changing of tires. The hub shell, carrying the weigh of the wheel fits over the brake drum, to which it is bolted, and it may be removed as a unit without disturbing the brake adjustment. There are 30 spokes in the wheel, and each spoke is set at a certain angle in relation to the other one, giving it both a bracing and pulling function. In this way the road shocks are distributed equally over all. None of the the outer spokes of the wheels cross, which makes it easy to clean.

LOCAL MATTER

—The Royal Swan Beach Club will hold a get-together dinner at Betterton tomorrow. About one hundred and fifty guests are expected.

—The colored county health nurse received minor injuries and her automobile was badly wrecked in an accident near Rock Hall last week.

—Mr. Eli Elliott and Miss Ida R. Hawkins, of Chestertown, were married at Christ M. P. Parsonage by Rev. N. O. Gibson on Saturday of last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hines have purchased Riverside farm and will erect a $25,000 home on the old home site this spring. Messrs. Duyer Bros. will build the house.

—The Breger Ice Cream Co. are planing the building of a $50,000 milk station at Millington where they will receive milk for the manufacture of ice cream.

—The United States Tariff Commission reports that the data on the importation of Italian tomatoes is almost complete and will be ready for a report before the canning season opens in the United States.

—Work will start shortly on the remodeling of the J. H. O. Stokes home on Still Pond Creek. The Chesapeake Land Association have bought the property and will make a handsome club house out of the Stokes home.

—Evidence that supports the argument that canvas-back ducks are still being killed on the Susquehanna flats by poison from the guns at Aberdeen, was found this week when Mr. Arthur Brice picked up a number of dead ducks on the bay shore this week. The government has been keeping the ducks off of this poisoned area but thinking they had left the bay, this barrier was let down.

Today, Prosperity Follows the Tractor

NECESSITY and the changing times have brought about great improvements on the farms. The young farmer and the older farmer who keeps his mind young are working on the new and profitable scale. They are making money by handling the most productive work in the least time with the lowest labor cost. They are increasing per-acre yields—plowing more furrows per trip—planting every hill full—cultivating more rows—cutting wider swaths. They are beating down the high price of labor by making that labor do two and three days' work in one, and that method leads to farm profit.

The tremendous call for the standard farm tractors—the McCormick-Deering 10-20 and 15-30, and now the new FARM-ALL—is evidence of the new era in farming. When you repower your operations, stick to McCormick-Deering and the many McCormick-Deering machines built to go hand in hand with these tractors. An easy way to get first-hand information on these tractors and machines is to ask us for a demonstration. No obligation, you understand. Stop in or phone us.
