Sold $17,000 worth of Cars

and less than two-tenths of 1% for the Telephone

In speaking of Long Distance — the sales manager of a well-known automobile company says:

"I consider the TELEPHONE the most valuable, and at the same time the cheapest, sales asset I have."

With only ten long distance calls, costing the sum of $19.50 (one-tenth of one per cent), this man sold $17,000 worth of cars at a considerable profit to himself.

Another prominent motor vehicle concern makes four contacts every month with 300 customers in the smaller buying centers, three of which are made by telephone, and the fourth, by a personal visit of the same salesman. They have found that this method pays real returns.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jones came for a visit to their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy near Kennedyville. As Tuesday, April 17th was their fiftieth wedding anniversary, they were greatly surprised by receiving a shower of one-hundred beautiful anniversary cards from their relatives and hosts of friends. All day long relatives and friends called to see them; some would be going while others just coming and a few stayed all day, showing their esteem and appreciation of them. About fifty-three of their children, relatives and friends came and spent the evening with them. Mrs. Kennedy had prepared a beautiful wedding cake with white iceing and gold trimmings with the dates 1878—1928 on it. Mrs. Jones wore a beautiful dress of black satin and although fifty years had passed since her wedding day, no one could have told it from her happy smiling face and young heart within. Refreshments consisting of cakes, ice cream, ices and punch were served. Lovely white and pink carnations with fern, hyacinths and other cut flowers were brought them, also a number of other beautiful gifts, which were received with appreciation.

At a late hour, the guests departed, leaving best wishes. This golden wedding day will be long remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Jones as one of the brightest and happiest days in their lives.

"Sunny ways and happy days
Fortunes fairest, brightest rays,
Fragrant flowers and crystal skies,
Kindly hearts to sympathize,
Health and wealth and sweet content
Ever on your years be sent."
