THE TRANSCRIPT

BEFORE OUR NEXT issue the glorious 4th will have come and passed. The celebration of that day has changed very much since the introduction of automobiles. Formerly it was usual to choose a prominent citizen from our midst who would read to the assembled crowds, the Declaration of Independence, while flags were flying and the noise of fireworks was heard everywhere. Now our idea of a sane Fourth is to get into our cars and spend our holiday somewhere in the open or at the sea shore. But no where, more than on the great highways should the doctrine of "equal rights" be practised. After every accident, most of them caused by some one breaking the speed laws or some road hog who is thinking only of his own pleasure regardless of the rights of others, each eager in the "pursuit of happiness" for himself though our great document says that that pursuit is for all. Memorial day, Flag Day and Armistice day are all great national days now, when the flags fly and the many privileges of our country are lauded, but we have gone a long way from the great things which our flag stands for. Valor, Truth and Purity, three virtues which, if rightly practised, would rid our nation of its crime ridden record, and make each one of us mindful of the rights of all. So, when our flags are waving in the breeze, let us think of what it stands for and say with John Daly:

Here's to the whole of it
Stars stripes and pole of it,
Body and soul of it,
Oh, and the roll of it.
Sun shining through,
Hearts accord with it,
Swear by the sword for it,
Thanking the Lord for it,
Red, White and Blue.

THE VISION OF THE Kent County Public Health Association to establish an up-to-date twenty bed hospital in Chestertown to meet the hospital needs in Kent county and the upper part of Queen Anne's county, was realized this week when contributions amounting to $35,441 was reached Wednesday evening. While a portion of this sum was in large contributions from residents of this section and others interested in this section, the bulk of the money was contributed in small sums from every part of the territory except one which has failed to report to-date. Special note is made of the large number of subscriptions received from the rural sections and the untiring efforts of those who traveled many miles while working in the campaign. Reverend John White, chairman of the campaign, spent days of work and travel in interest of the drive and his smiling countenance reveals the satisfaction of a "Job well done." The success of the drive may also be partly credited to the unfailing faith of the Public Health Association, of which Mrs. Nora C. Maxwell is president, in the people of this community in this humanitarian move.

DEATHS

Mrs. Mary R. Aldridge, widow of the late Wm. R. Aldridge died at home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Wilkinson, in Baltimore, Friday, June 28, 1929. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul Wilkinson, one brother, T. D. Bowers, of Chestertown and three grandchildren, Gladys and Marion Aldridge and James Metcalfe, Jr. Funeral will be held from the residence of her brother, T. D. Bowers, on Washington Ave., Chestertown, Monday, July 1, 1929, at 10.30 a. m. Interment Chester cemetery. The bearers will be: Messrs. Wm. B. Usilton, W. B. Copper, J. D. Bacchus, James G. Metcalfe, Dr. H. L. Dodd, W. W. Hubbard.

Rev. Dr. Sexsmith will have charge of the services. Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Ida D. Hicks, wife of Mr. William T. Hicks, of Chestertown, died at the home of her husband in Chestertown on Friday last, June 21, 1929, aged 76 years.

She was born in Talbot county and was one of nine sisters and the last of the nine to die. Mrs. Hicks was a consistent member of the M. E. Church and was active in the W. C. T. U. and other societies of that church.

She moved from Galena to Chestertown with her husband and family some years ago and conducted the Kent House here for several years where she made many friends. She was a homemaker and looked well to the comforts of her family a devoted wife, mother and friend. She is survived by her husband and six children.

Misses Minnie E. Hickes, Ella S. Hickes, Mrs. H. A. Schreyer, of Linthicum Heights, Mrs. T. S. Toler, of Fayettville, North Carolina, and Norman Hicks, of Carneys Point, N. J.

This ends the life of a good woman.

Funeral services were conducted at her home on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m., by Rev. Harry Wright and Rev. A. H. Covey. Interment in Galena cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Ernest Hicks, James Hicks, Frank Cohee, William Stevens, Edward Stevens, and Norman Pennington. B. R. Fellows, undertaker in charge of funeral arrangements.

Modern Coed Has Own Standard of Freedom

I have come in contact with a number of modern coeds at various institutions; and many of them have been able, not to say willing or eager, to discuss excessively delicate subjects with the utmost freedom, as long as the discussion remains on a scientific or dispassionate basis. If there is anything that many modern coeds will not talk about I don't know what it is.

I am quite unable to state, however, that they are infinitely more sophisticated than their mothers, or than the preceding generation of coeds; because I have no way of knowing how much their mothers knew. I have a strong suspicion, however, that their mothers knew a great deal more than they admit knowing; and it seems quite obvious that a great many dowagers who stand deliciously aghast at the conversation and the crimes that are laid at the door of the younger generation are ready to listen to the conversations and to repeat them at every opportunity.

I might even go so far as to hint that if opportunities do not present themselves, they make their own opportunities. It takes a high-grade of statistician to worry the inner meaning out of this state of affairs.—Kenneth L. Roberts, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Clock Made for Pope Marvel of Ingenuity

The most beautiful clock in England is said to be found in the British museum. It is believed to have been made by Pope Sixtus V, that pontiff, brought up (as some tell) a swineherd, who amassed when he reached the holy see such treasures as eclipsed the wealth of Europe; to whom much of the magnificence of Rome is owed.

Three stories high it stands, telling on its dials the fast days, the signs of the Zodiac, the motions of the sun and moon in their course. Besides the minute dial a cherub raises a sickle as the hour strikes, while his neighbor turns an hour-glass over.

But you will need all your eyes for the topmost story, divided into four balconied tiers. On the lowest the gods of the days of the week pass slowly round. Above, the Virgin and Child are seated, before whom angels make obeisance as they pass by. Next, the four ages of man strike the quarters on a bell. On the topmost balcony Death comes forward at the hour and strikes a bell, the figure of Our Lord retreating meanwhile.

Crowning it all a beautifully molded cock perches on the dome; and when the chimes have rung he flaps his wings and crows!

Scene of Bloodshed

The famous Sigiriya rock of Ceylon has a story of blood behind it, says an article in the Times of India.

Standing 11 miles from Dambulla on the Trinco road, it rises sheer to a height of 450 feet above the surrounding plain and was the stronghold of one Kassapa who seized the throne after killing his father and attempting the life of his brother.

Kassapa lived there for 18 years and during that time he built cisterns, courtyards and palaces on the rock. Eventually he was defeated and killed in battle by his brother.

War Tank's "Innards"

Generally speaking, the major part of the inside of a war tank is taken up by the engine or motor. There is enough room at the sides of the motor to let the mechanic get around for adjustment. In front there is space for the driver. In front of the driver is either a machine gun or a light six-pounder gun which shoots through a port in the armor. The machine gun is usually mounted in a sort of tower which can be moved so as to give an all-around fire. There are sometimes additional guns with ports on either side of the tank.

Due to the prevailing High Money Market, it was necessary that the last issue of Federal Land Bank bonds should bear a higher interest rate than issue immediately preceding.

Therefore, the Federal Land Bank hereby gives notice that on and after May 1, and until further notice, all loans made by the Kent and Queen AnneNational Farm Loan Association shall be at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum instead of 5 per cent as heretofore.

Come in and let me explain the provisions of a Fedral Farm Loan to you.
