HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT

Horseshoe pitchers from all parts of the state of Maryland will have an opportunity to prove their skill is a State-wide horseshoe pitching tournament to be conducted during the summer months.

The tournament will be under the direction of the State Play grounds Athletic League and according to the present plans, elimination contests will be staged in the various communities and winners in these contests will meet in the county seats of the various counties and pitch for the county championship.

To Tour Eastern Shore

Charles F. Lustnauer, field director of the Playground Athletic League, which will have charge of the contest, sponsored by The Sun and The Evening Sun. He will tour the nine counties of the Eastern Shore to interview horseshoe-pitching enthusiasts and assist in scheduling contests to determine the counties' representatives in the finals for the State championship.

The county-wide contests will be supervised by the league, and each winner, who will represent the counties in the finals in Baltimore about the middle of September, will be presented a pair of chromium steel horseshoes.

The dates for the county contests have not yet been set. The winners must be selected before September 7 in order to arrange the schedule of games for the State championship.

The State champion will be presented a pair of gold horseshoes. The second prize is a pair of silver ones and the third an extra pair of chromium shoes.

Entry blanks will appear in the Sunpapers. They are to be filled out and sent in by the prespective competitors.

Score sheets also will be printed. These should be kept and signed by the scorer because the player must show them at the county eliminations to prove he is a qualified horseshoe pitcher.

Kent county should be a strong contender in the tournament as material such as Gozman, Biggers, Falls, Petterson, Harris and many others can certainly handle the artificial hoop with a little practice.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUISINGS

While Passing Along the Way

Eyes that see so many things
Of life in full display.
Ears that hear the sweet, the grim
While passing along the way.

Lips that smile at things worth while,
In deep dispair to pray,
Hands that help the needy ones
While passing along the way.

Feet that tread the ups and downs
From glory to dismay,
Hearts that miss, yearn and love
While passing along the way.

A soldier brave I want to be,
At fate's command obey,
Just try to do the best I can
While passing along the way.

FLORENCE M. VAN KIRK.

The tragedy of politics—the fall of Clemenceau, Wilson, Asquith and Lloyd George—led Senator George, of Georgia, to say at a dinner in Houston:

"Politics is the most ungrateful calling anybody can take up. A school marm said one day:

"Yes, children, Lloyd George saved England just as truly as Joan of Arc saved France."

"A little girl raised her hand and asked:

"When will they burn him, then, teacher?"

Kent and upper Queen Annes counties have done marvelously well in putting the hospital drive over the top. The workers are to be congratulated on their success.

A court has decided that a cow in the road always has the right of way. This indicates that the courts are just learning what the cows have always known. —San Diego Union.

It's flabbergasting how much work a man will do on a boat and like it.

A shipyard in the spring is the one spot on earth where you will find everybody overworked and nobody complaining.

"Do you understand exactly what a debenture is?"

"Not yet," answered Farmer Corntossel. "One of my reasons for pushing our boy Josh through college is the hope that he'll get smart enough to explain it to the family."—Washington Star.

They Will Miss Much

President Hoover, his Cabinet officers are most of the members of the diplomatic corp expect to forego their Summer vacations.

When you and I in cold and clammy
woods
Are living like the prediluvian
Lapps,
They will remain in well-bred neighborhoods
With all refined conveniences, poor chaps!

No midges, no mosquito bites for them,
No hornet hordes, no midnight bullfrog bellows,
No poison ivy on its crafty stem,
No Summertime delights at all, poor fellow!

Now that Congress is taking a recess the country is free from auxiety for the time being. But this great country is still attending to what is vital to every one. "Tending to its biz."

'Tending to Biz.

From the Washington Star.

Junetime with the roses
Comes along once more.
Blossoming discloses
Beauty as of yore.
Though wild motors daily
Here and yonder whiz,
Old World keeps on gayly
'Tending to its biz.

For each changing season,
Bring warmth or cold,
Earth will find a reason,
Joyous, as of old.
We will still be ready;
For the problem is
To keep going steady,
'Tending to our biz.

Philander Johnson.

Very Simple

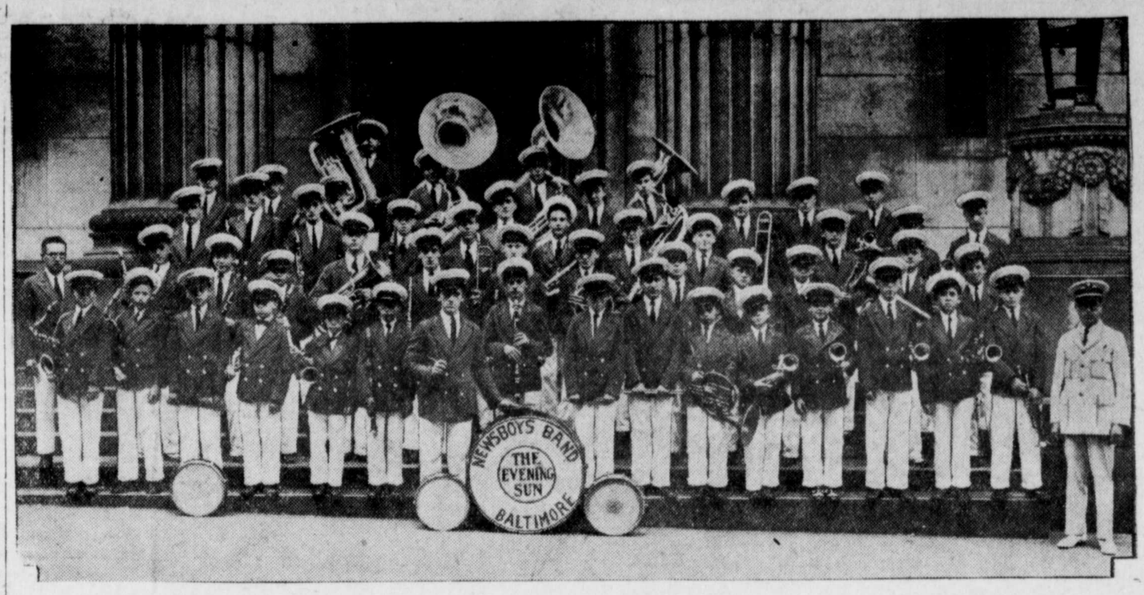

"Yes," said the timid passenger to the airplane pilot. "I understand I'm to sit still and not be afraid and all that; but tell me, if something happens and we fall, what do I do?"

"Oh, that's easy," said the pilot. "Just grab anything that we're passing and hang on."

The candidate was interrupted in his speech by a heckler who asked if he was in favor of prohibition.

"I am (prolonged cheers from the drys)—"not" (prolonged cheers from the wets)—"going to tell you.

AMBULANCE REPORT

REPORT OF THE KENT COUNTY MARYLAND AMBULANCE AS OF JUNE 30TH, 1929

The Kent County Maryland Ambulance was started on its first trip February 7th, 1929. since which time it has covered 2339 miles on trips as follows.

Easton, 14; Elkton, 1; Cambridge, 1; Wilmington, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

The expense to run the Ambulance to date has been veryy small, as the Gasoline and Oil was donated for the year by the Holt Oil Co., and for which the Board of Control is very grateful.

Our contributions likewise have been very small and the paid patients smaller, hence one can realize that sooner or later the expenses will increase to such an extent, that we will be compelled to call on the citizens of Kent County for contributions, but why wait to have the call made, hence we suggest that you send your contributions in at once in order that we may have sufficient funds in hand to pay all obligations as they occur.

The Ambulance rates are as follows:

To all Kent County citizens no charge is made, unless they come under the Workmans Compensation Law, but contributions are expected where the patient is able for the service rendered.

To other than Kent County citizens the rates are:

Easton	$20.00
Elkton	20.00
Wilmington	30.00
Philadelphia	50.00
Baltimore	50.00

To all points other than above the rates are 25 cents per mile each way or 50 cents per mile one way, no charge under $5.00 in any case.

At the present time we have a cash balance of $91.71 with unpaid bills amounting to approximately $15.00.

W. H. ELLIOTT, Secretary,
P. O. Box 161,
Chestertown, Md.

HOG CHOLERA AVERAGE

During the first six months of this year there were eight cases of hog cholera reported in Kent county against a ten year average of 59.

While hog raising in Kent county is not generally considered to be on a large scale, yet it is very important factor as a sustenance for the farmer's family and farm hands and the loss of the hog crop by cholera is a serious drawback to profitable farming.

Through years of experience and experiments, it has been found out that practically all outbreaks of cholera are caused by the feeding of garbage that contain meat scrap, and the carrying of the disease to other premises through infected hogs and other animals. Care to avoid the infection by eliminating these two causes would be a decided step toward stamping out the disease in Kent county.

Of the 15 outbreaks in the state during June, thirteen were apparently due to infected pork in garbage, table scraps, kitchen swill, etc., while 2 were due to the purchase of infected hogs.
