CARNIVAL STARTS THURSDAY

Booths are being erected in the public square, Chestertown, in preparation for the annual carnival of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company which opens next Thursday, August 8th, and continues through Monday, August 19th.

The many new features which will be added this year promises to make this the largest and most elaborate carnival ever staged here.

The net proceeds of the first two nights, Thursday and Friday will be used to pay off the obligation assumed by the fire company on the purchase of the Kent County Maryland Ambulance, and any amount over this obligation will be turned over to the ambulance fund.

Ten per cent. of the net proceeds of the remaining eight nights will be donated to the hospital campaign fund.

The features of the carnival are as follows:

The opening night of the carnival will be known as "Civic Night" and there will be a parade of all of the civic organizations of Chestertown.

On Friday evening, August 9th, the band of the Maryland Training School will feature the entertainment and there will be an automobile parade of 75 new 1930 models of all the various makes for sale here.

Tuesday, August 13, Firemen's Night." Then will be staged the monster parade with fire companies and bands from many visiting towns participating. Prizes will be awarded the various winners.

Thursday, August 15, will be known as "American Legion Night" and the Fife and Drum Corps of the Elkton Legion post will parade and give a concert on the carnival ground. A similar organization from New Castle, Delaware, has been invited to participate.

On Friday, August 16th, the feature event will be a high dive into a life net by a firemen from another Eastern Shore company. Also on this evening a huge oil fire will be lighted and the firemen will demonstrate the latest methods in coping with a blaze of such a nature.

The carnival will close on Monday, August 19th at which time an automobile, speed boat, electric stove and various other articles will be given

COMMUNICABLE DEATHS INCREASE

The records of the State Department of Health show a marked increase in both sickness and deaths from communicable diseases in the counties and in the state as a whole during the first six months of the current year in comparison with the totals reported during the corresponding period of 1928.

From the first of January ta the end of June this year, 47,748 cases of notitable diseases were reported in the state, 21,097 in Baltimore city and 26,651 in the counties. During the corresponding period of 1928, the total number of cases reported was 35,202; of which 23,774 occurred in Baltimore city and 11,428 in the counties. The more favorable showing made by Baltimore city during the current year, in spite of the influenza epidemic of last winter, is due to the fact that 1928 was an epidemic year for measels, with 16,673 cases reported in the State during the last six months. Of the total, 12,139 occurred in Baltimore city and 4,534 in the counties.

The influence of the influenza epidemic of the current season is reflected in the figures for the six months ending June 30, for both Baltimore city and the counties. Influenza, with 23,809 cases recorded, 6,599 in the city and 17,210 in the counties, led all cases.

The total number of deaths from all causes recorded in the State from the first of January to the end of June of the current year, was 11,080, of which 5,803 occurred in the city and 5,277 in the counties, in comparison with 10,582 during the corresponding period of 1928, with 5,758 in the city and 4,824 in the counties. Influenza and the pneumonias were responsible for 2,209 deaths in 1929, and for 1,588 in 1928; tuberculosis for 936 in 1929 and for 892 in 1928, and whooping cough for 65 in 1929 and 52 in 1928.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUISINGS

"In Flanders Field Where Poppies Blow" has become a classic, and the poppies are worn by every one on Memorial Day to show that those brave hearts that are lying beneath the sod are still remembered. The following poem has been sent us by one in Belgium, as a memorial to John McRae.

"The Drums of the Fore and Aft"
For John McRae.
REQUIEM

To Flanders Field from far away
I, too, am come,
And standing by one cross the more,
In memory of our Mother shore,—
I hear the hum
Of happy voices passing dear,—
No distant gun,
But larks above you singing clear,—
My country's Son.—
So sleep you well in Flanders Fields,
The seed you sowed its harvest yields,
Your warring drum
Still beats the rally, like those two,
The little lads that Kipling knew,
You pass the marge,—
Far from the feeble wavering crew,
The grim, gaunt line that still held true,
Sounding the Charge!
The skies were grey, the day you passed,
From pain and dread and chilling blast,
Our thinning ranks(Hold fast, Hold fast!
You could not see the clearer day,
These fields grown green where children play,
But you who heard the larks high song
Above the groans, the filth, the wrong,
Will, surely hear their triumph cry—
Who grasped the torch to hold it high,
The dawn is breaking, faintly grey—
Sleep till there break the fuller day.

A friend is one who will tell you when you are wrong even though everybody else says you are right, but who will stand by you when everybody else knows you are wrong..—Doherty.

The twenty-eight Illinois farm wives who declared their independence and went for a vacation, have returned home.

"Eight-and-twenty farmers' wives
Went to have the loaf of their lives.
Said one, "I'll bet you Jim has forgot
To feed the calf in the orchard lot."
Another murmured. "I wonder if Hans
Will think of scalding the dairy pans."
So they turned about and they traveled home
As fast as their sight-seeing bus could tow 'em."

After all the fun which these lords of Creation have been making of women's scanty attire, they are now considering wearing the one-piece garment, and only one-piece. Perhaps the present hot weather will hurry up this vogue.

Others besides us probably have noticed that the weather bureau is never so accurate as when it is forecasting disagreeable weather.

Teacher(during a class on mining)—Now if I went West and leased land and got oil on it, what would I be?
Student—A Republican.—Life.

Poland is a land of the Jews, with 40 times as many Israelites as there are in Palestine. It has more Jews than any other countrty in Europe, and just about one-fifth of all there are in the world. More than one-third of Warsaw is occupied by Hebrews The city has a large Jewish quarter, containing 600 synagogues. Its streets are thronged with people who look more like the typical Jew of the stage than those we know in our cities. The Polish Jew often appears in the ancient costume of his people, wearing a skull-cap or fur cap without visor, and a long black cloak buttoned up to the neck and falling almost to the feet.

We were reading the other day that it is the custom of the Filopeno widow to mourn for her husband by not bathing at all for six months. She has not many opportunities to give up her widowhood we should say.

Bishop E. D. Mouzon told a story in an address in Nashville.

"A little girl," he began, "came home from her first visit to Sunday School in a very happy mood."

" 'Oh, mamma,' she said, "it was so lovely. A lady told us about a gentleman named Adam and a lady named Eve who lived in a lovely garden; and oh, they were so happy there till the servant came."

House of Happiness

Take what God gives, O heart of mine,
And build your House of Happiness!
Perhaps some have been given more,
But many have been given less.

TO IMPROVE PUBLIC PARKS

Landscape Gardener Views Grounds Tuesday—Work To Start In September.

Professor Ballard, Landscape Gardener of the State Department of Agriculture, was in Chestertown on Tuesday of this week in the interest of impproving the appearance of the two public parks on High street.

He was met by County Agent McVean, the Community Service Committee of the Chestertown Rotary Club the Commissioners of Chestertown and a lady representative of the old Town Improvement Association.

After discussing the situation with Professor Ballard in the office of the County Agent, the meeting adjourned to the parks.

Mr. Ballard made a number of notes and will shortly send a chart of improvements necessary to make the park a beauty spot in Chestertown.

In the discussion on Tuesday it was understood that the immediate improvements would include the thinning and trimming of the trees and the establishing of a turf from specially adapted grass. The present band stand will probably be moved.

In the lower square a boundry line will have to be established so as to prevent automobile drivers from encroaching on the grass.

FIRE COMPANY BUYS INHALATOR

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company, at the meeting on Monday evening of this week, voted to buy an inhalator which is an oxygean apparatus used to revive a person suffering form drowning, electric shock, overcome by gas, etc.

The decision to purchase the apparatus was made following the drowning of a young man at Rock Hall on Sunday at which time an instrument was ordered from Easton by airplane but the delay made it too late to be of any value. An exact duplicate of the machine ordered was brought from Baltimore by airplane and used to revive Spencer Frisby after he was buried in a well at Fairlee recently.

The cost of the apparatus is approximately $250 and donations of $55 were made before it was ordered. It will be delivered in Chestertown next week and anyone desiring to contribute toward the purchase of this life-saver should mail their check or give their donation to Mr. A. L. Sparks, president of the Fire Company.

The three ladies were placed in the ambulance and rushed to Elkton hospitel and the two men were carried there in an automobile.

The injured were:

Robert Hoover, 21, dislocated shoulder, lacerations of the eyes and dislocated hand; John Kleer, 20, abrasions of the eyes and several teeth missing; Mary Pattie, 17, fractured shoulder; Dorothy Pattie, 18, her sister, abrasions of the hips and legs, and Dorothy Manshaw, 20, lacerated legs and shoulders.

DEATHS

Mr. William H. Truslow died suddenly at his home in Queen Anne county, Friday evening, July 26, 1929, of heart trouble, aged 68 years.

Mr. Truslow was the founder and senior member of the Truslow Poultry Farm, which business he established at its present location in 1916. He has done more than any other one person in the development of the poultry industry in this section, paying to the poultry raisers in this and adjoining counties thousands of dollars each year for their eggs. He was recognized as an outstanding national poultryman, giving to the industry some of its most valuable ideas; he was looked upon as one of our best business men and was most generous in assisting his fellow poultrymen by giving them advice about the poultry business when requested.

The business which he founded is one of the largest and most successful of its kind in this country and will be continued by his two sons, Claude E. and Neal Truslow, who have been associated with him for years and have grown up in this business.

Mr. Truslow was devoted to the pleasures of the water and owned the fastest pleasure boats in the Chestertown harber. Some years ago a yacht club was organized here and he was elected commodore of the fleet. Since then the yacht club has joined with the country club and is now known as the Chester River Yacht and Country Club of which Mr. Truslow was prominent member. He enjoyed the companionship of a host of friends and was often referred to as "Father Truslow."

He is survived by a widow, two sons and 6 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m., conducted by the Reverend C. L. Atwater. The pallbearers were: P. M. Brooks, Thomas W. Perkins, Eben F. Perkins, Edward W. Emory, Walter B. Strong and W. Irvin Walker. Interment was in Chester Cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Richard H. Hague, retired farmer, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Susie Jones, at Rock Hall, on Monday following a long illness, aged 54 years. He is survived by his widow, one son, Walter Hague, also two sisters, Mrs. Susie Jones, of Rock Hall, and Mrs. Daisy Luthringer, of Cecil County, also one brother, Elmer Hague.

Funeral services were held from his late home at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Interment in Wesley Chapel cemetery. Rev. Grant officiating.

The bearers were: Messrs. J. B. LeCompt, J. Frank Leaverton, Edgar Hague, Charles Hague, Walter Francis, R. Sterling Jones.

NEW PROFESSOR OF BIOLOGY

To take the place of Dr. Viola A. Graham, who last spring, resigned from the professorship of biology at Washington College, the authorities have been fortunate in finding Dr. Helen E. Murphy.

Dr. Murphhy comes to Wasnington from the University of New Mexico where she has bear assistant professor and associate professor of biology since 1922. She received both her undergrduate and graduate work from Cornell in which institution she took her doctorate in 1920.

At Cornell, she was very highly thought of, for she was selected first as graduate assistant in biology and later as graduate instructor, even before she had completed her work for the doctorate. During the years 1920-21 she was acting assistant professor of biology at Colorado College, and during 1921-22 the acting biologist in Scripps Institute of the University of California.

Her writings on biological subjects have appeared in a number of scientific journals. She is a scientist, possesses ability of a high order and she has distinguished herself particularly among her students and faculty colleagues as a teacher.

Dr. Murphy, a native of New York State, has enjoyed a cosmopolitan experience as a student and teacher in the large universities of the Empire State, Colorado, California and New Mexico. Washington College is fortunate in adding her competency and experience to its teaching resources.

DROWNED AT ROCK HALL

Millington, Md.—Mr. Samuel Finn, aged 22 years, of Boston, Mass., a graduate in June from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was drowned at Rock Hall lost Sunday evening. Every effort to revive him was made without avail.

Mr. Finn was serving six weeks training with the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Edgewood Arsenal, near Baltimore, and Friday came to visit a college chum, James E. Spear, Jr., near town. Mr. Finn, Mr. Spear and several friends went bathing at Rock Hall. Finn was unable to swim and walked into deep water in the steamship channel. His friends dove for him and brought him up in ten minutes. Efforts to revive him were made by Dr. Selby and he was then rushed to Chestertown in the Kent County Ambulance to the office of Dr. H. G. Simpers.

Dr. Simpers placed Finn on a cot in his yard and started resuscitation work. He was assisted by the ambulance unit and members of Medical Detachmhent of the Maryland National Guard.

When all efforts at resuscitation failed, Finn was brought to Millington by undertaker, John H. Tobin to await the arrival of his uncle from Boston. Mr. Finn on his party was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ahern, Mr. Richard W. Comegys and sister, Pauline, and Mr. James E. Spear, Jr., of Millington; Miss Laura Emory, of Centreville, and Miss Louise Prettyman, of Galena.
