W. C. BOWS TO SWARTHMORE

Washington College foot ball team held the strong Swarthmore team to three touch-downs in the game at Swarthmore last Saturday, the latter sioring in the second, third and fourth quarters. Although Washington was in a position to score they were unable to charge through the heavy Swarthmore nine. The game reflects credit on the part of the locals against a much stronger team.

The Washingtonians will not play this Saturday.

TRANSCRIPT'S MUSINGS

THE WIND

By Douglas Malloch

My the wind's a funny fellow!—
Lots of times just wants to bellow,
Roars down chimneys, roars up streets,
Roars at everyone he meets,
Doesn't turn a corner rightly,
Doesn't speak a word politely,
Till you hear the people say,
"My, the wind is bad today!"

Then again, tomorrow maybe,
He doesn't even wake the baby,
From the country to the town
Brings a bit of thistledown,
Stirs the roses in the garden,
Whispers, "Rose, I beg your pardon."
Till you hear the people say,
"Why, the wind is nice today!"

Yes, the wind is really funny,
One day sad, and one days sunny,
One day just a gentle breeze,
But the next an awful tease,
Sometimes singing, sometimes raining,
Either smiling or complaining,
Acts his best, or makes a fuss—
Very much, indeed, like us.

It is very disconcerting now that the senate has decided to put a high tariff on South American products that Chile has declared that she shall not allow the American to send into that country chewing gum, which she consider an American vice and she does not wish her citizens to become contaminated; for Chile thinks our natonal evils are chewing gum and prohibiton.

"Be observng, my son," counseled Willie's father. "Cultivate the habit of seeing, and you will become a successful man."

"Yes," added Willie's uncle. "Don't go through life like a blind man. Learn to use your eyes."

"Little boys who are observing get on much faster than those who are not." Aunt Jane put in.

The youngster took their advice to heart. A day passed, and once more he stood before the family council.

"Well, my son," said his father, "have you been using your eyes?"

Willie nodded.

"Tell us what you've learned."

"Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willis, "Aunt Jane's got an extra set of false teeth in her dresser, and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips hid behind Emerson's Essays in the bookcase."

"The little sneak," exclaimed the family wth one voice.

The Premier of England and his daughter, Ishbell have had a soothing effect not only on the nation but also on Washington society. We have not heard of any contest between Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Longworth as to where they shall sit, for over a week.

The beauties of the movies are making as much money by their testimonials as by their appearance on the film. How much nicer to buy something recommended by them than a simple article, not used and extolled then these public idols.

All the world loves light, and the countries far and near joined in the jubilee which was given to Edison on last Monday night not only the president of the U. S. was at Dearborn to due him honor, but voices were heard across the ocean when Einstein joined in thanking the great inventor for his gift to mankind.

It is a fitting memorial to him that the city of Newark will cause to have erected a perpetual light to his memory. Unlike most inventors who do not live to see the fruition of their toil. Edison has lived to be acclaimed the greatest inventor of all time

HEALTH NOTES.

KEEP AT A SAFE DISTANCE

Urging victims of the "common cold" to think of the other fellow as well as of their own discomfort, and as far as possible to keep their germs to themselves, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Maryland State Department of Health said:

"Now that the season of the common cold is here, it would be a good idea for each of us to constitute himself a committee of one on keeping fit. The best safeguards against any communicable disease are those mentioned in the rhyme which tells you that the six best doctors anywhere are sunshine, water, rest, air, exercise and diet. To that we must add a precaution about dressing according to the weather and in this climate with its sharp changes that is an important part of our prescription for keeping fit. Then we must add still another bit of advice. It is, to keep at a safe distance from people who have colds, especially those who shower everything in sight with their germs when they sneeze or cough.

"That is the preventive side of the story but sometimes we are unfortunate enough to be below par and to be caught unawares in a shower of germs sprayed into the air by a careless sneezer or cougher. Soon we begin coughing or sneezing or sniffling ourselves. The best thing to do in case that happens is to go home; go to bed; send for the doctor and to follow his advice. It is safe to predict that he will tell you to stay in bed until the attack is over and you will find that it will save time and strength to obey his orders.

"There are two aspects of the common cold yours and the other fellow's. The discomforts of a cold are such that they force you to think of yourself. But this is a time to think of your neighbor also. Don't be hospitable when you have a cold. Neither visit nor receive visitors. In kindness to others let me repeat to keep at a save distance from them.

"Sneeze or cough into your handkerchief. Use cheese cloth or paper napkins as handkerchiefs and then destroy them as promptly as possible. You can get a generous supply of paper napkins at small cast and you can keep the used handkerchiefs from being a source of harm, by dropping them into a small paper bag or old envelope that you can keep in your pocket or beside your bed, until you can destroy the whole thing.

"Have your own glass or drinking cup; your own towel and soap. These precautions you want to observe whether you are sick or well but, especially for the sake of the other fellow, be sure that you observe them when you have a cold."

BRIDGE RIGHT OF WAY SETTLED

The right of way for the Queen Annes approach of the new Chester River Bridge was secured this week by the State Roads Commission from Mrs. Ida Skipper Parks, owner of the property. This proeptry has been in dispute for the past two months due to a disagreement on the price to be paid for the property.

The agreement was reached on Tuesday by a compromise in the price. It is reported that the agreed price is $3500.

Work is expected to start within a very short time as an engineer, representing the contractor, was in Chestertown last Sunday and will meet with Mr. Rolph Townshend, district engineer, this week to go over necessary preliminary details.

Mr. Benjamin LeSueuer, of the State Roads Commission, will be the chief inspector on the job and he arrived in the county this week.

GETS 18 MONTHS FOR PERJURY

Gordon Swift, of Queen Anne's county was sentenced to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction on Wednesday by Judges Adkins, Wickes and Keating, when he was found guilty of perjury by falsely stating the age of his 14 year old sweetheart, Emma Cohee when applying for a marriage license at the office of the Clerk of the Court for Kent County.

When applying for the license, Swift stated the age of the girl to be 22 and the license was issued and they were married by Rev. W. H. Grant, pastor of the Rock Hall M. E. Church. The girl's appearance might easily lead one to believe she was made older than she is.

The charges were brought by Mr. W. D. Cohee, father of the youthful bride, and Swift was placed in the county jail in May where he has been ever since.

The couple were apprehended in Wilmington shortly after their marriage on May 25th, and the girl returned to the home of her parents in Queen Anne's county.

Swift is 38 years old and is a widower with two children.

LIGHT BUOY FOR CHESTER RIVER

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough has been informed that the Bureau of Lighthouses, as early as may be practicable, will take steps to establish a gas light buoy off Cockeys Island, near the mouth of Chester River, to take the place of Black spar Buoy 5 off the Eastern Neck Island Shore. This change will greatly aid traffic at night and in thick weather going in and out of Chester River, as the shoals marked by this buoy are dangerous to navigation when weather and darkness prevents pilots from seeing the buoy.

MY LORD'S GIFT SOLD

Contracts have been closed for the sale of historic and picturesque old "My Lord's Gift," farm, near Queenstown, whereby this tract becomes the property of Thomas Marsalis, wealthy and influential New York banker and broker. The property was sold by Mrs. Nannie McKenney Jacobs, and William McKenney, Jr., owners, through the Eastern Shore Estates Co., represented by Jones and Harris.

"My Lord's Gift" is one of the largest farms in Queen Annes county, containing about 700 acres of land, with a water front of between two and three miles on the beautiful Chester River. The land was an original grant from Lord Baltimore, in recognition of certain peace treaties with the Indian tribes here. Thereby the name "My Lord's Gift" was given the tract.

TOWN STUDENTS SWELL THE FRESHMAN CLASS AT COLLEGE

It will be of interest to our readers to learn that Chestertown High School graduates of last June make up a considerable part of the largest Freshman class ever registered at Washington College. These students are Janet Atwater, Kathryn Baker, Lois Baxter, Thomas H. Bramble, Jr., William T. Brown, Alice E. Dole, Priscilla F. Everett, Charles J. Harris, Jr., Emily Jewell, Daniel W. Ingersoll, Jr., Mary Ann Kreeger, Joseph W. Lewis, Albert T. Nicholson, Robert W. Penn, Walter H. Rees, Margaret M. Rohrbaugh, Helen F. Smith, Norman D. Sutton, Fred G. Usilton, Jr., Anna E. Walbert and Mary E. Walbert.

College authorities and other students are remarking on how well the above mentioned students are fitting in with an all around college life, being good students and taking a great part in all college activities. Thus a home institution benefits its own community.

PENSY TO ELECTRIFY ROAD

Announcement was made this week by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that negotiations which have just been concluded by the company with the city of Baltimore now open the way for complete electrification of the Pennsylvania railroad from New York to Washington.

The new agreement, which has been in negotiation for several years, covers extensive station platform and track improvements in and through Baltimore and the construction of two new double-track tunnels in the city limit, which will enable the company it was announced, to extend the electrification of its lines from New York to Wilmington, Del., to Washington and the Washington terminal area for both passengers and freight. Actual work on the Baltimore improvements will be undertaken immediately.

Between five and six years are allowed in the agreement for completion of the tunnel work, new station, freight warehouses, grade crossings and electrification. It is anticipated, the company says, that before the expiration of that period, the electrification from New York to Wilmington will have been completed.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEETS

The Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Mission of the Diocese of Easton met at Christ Church Easton on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

In point of attendance and interest it was a most successful meeting.

Among the speakers were the Rev. Lord Bishop, of Aberdeen, Scotland, and Bishop Jenkins, of Nevada.

Definite plans were completed this week by the Ladies' Aid Society of Sudlersville Methodist Episcopal Church, for a community banquet to be tendered to Jimmy Foxx, member of the champion Athletics, on Wednesday evening, November 13. Admission will be by ticket only, and covers will be laid for about 250 guests. Even before the Athletics became champions of the world, Sudlersville neighbors and friends of the popular and sensational young Queen Annes County ball player began making arrangements for a testimonial banquet.

MILK BASIC PLAN UPSET

TO RETURN TO OLD BASIC PLAN NOVEMBER 1ST

The new basic plan of the Interstate Milk Producers Association was completely upset yesterday when County Agent McVean received word from the Association that the old plan would again become effective November 1st.

The new plan, as announced last week in the Transcript, was to the effect that all milk during, October, November and December would bring basic prices and that the new basic for 1930 could be determined by the average production of these three months of this year.

The announcement made yesterday was to the effect that starting November 1st all milk delivered during November and December would be paid for at the old basic price and the basic for 1930 would be determined by the average production during October, November and December of 1927, 1928 and 1929.

The reason for upsetting the new plan is given in three reasons as follows:

1. Since the plan was announced the milk production has increased 30 per cent. causing the market to be flooded which is threatening to break the present market price.

2. In order to stimulate production there has been an overfeeding of roughage which threatens the supply making feed scarce during the later winter months.

3. The demand for dairy cattle has increased causing the price to go up.

To further explain these reasons and to discuss the milk situation, Mr. Alebeck, president of the Interstate Milk Producers Association will be in Kent county on Monday and Tuesday of next week and meet with the various milk locals as follows:

MONDAY

KENNEDYVILLE—10 A. M.

WORTON—2 P. M.

MASSEY—7.30 P. M.

TUESDAY

CHESTERTOWN—7.30 P. M.

Dairymen are urged to meet with Mr. Alebeck at one of these meetings to talk over the situation.

DEATHS

William S. Moffett, a prominent Kent County farmer, died at his home, in Morgneck, near Chestertown, Tuesday night, aged 59 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mina Lusby Moffett and the following children: Harry C. Moffett, of Newark, Del.; Mrs. Stella May Stedham, of Warwick, Md., and Lusby Moffett, at home. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at two o'clock conducted by the Rev. Dr. John White; interment at Shrewsbury. The pall bearers were Messrs. Robert Moffett, John Moffett, Jr., J. Hydie Thompson, Wm. A. Bell, Louis Atkinson and William McMahon. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd in charge.

Miss Grace Moore formerly of Centreville, but recently of Baltimore, died at the Church Home, Baltimore, on Saturday, October 19. Her remains were brought to Centreville and interred in the family lot on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Thomas W. Skirven, 88, died Monday night at the home of her son, Frank Skirven, near Fairlee. She was born in Brookline, Windham county, Conn.

She was identified with the historic St. Paul's parish in Kent for more than sixty years, having come to this county where she was married soon after the Civil War. For years she conducted the choir at St. Paul's.

She is survived by five sons, Messrs. Percy G. Skirven, historian and genealogist, who lives in Baltimore; Frank Skirven, of Fairlee; Thomas Arthur Skirven, of Kilbourn, Wis.; Edmund H. Skirven, of Michigan; and Charles H. Skirven, near Fairlee. Her husband died some years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Paul's Church Thursday morning at 11 a. m. by the Rev. John White, and Rev. S. S. Hepbron, burial was in the churchyard of St. Paul's Church. The bearers were: Messrs. Charles Skirven, Charles Skirven, Jr., Frank Skirven, Harry Skirven, Jr., C. Romie Skirven and William G. Smyth.

Mrs. Skirven spent the latter part of her life visiting among her sons and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Smyth, Chestertown.

James Caleb Boggs, 20, center on the University of Delaware football team who injured his neck in the game withm Suskuehanna College Saturday on Frazer Field, Newark, was today still in serious condition in the Homeopathic Hospital, Physicians, it is understood, have not determined definitely whether or not his neck is broken.

LOS ANGELES HERE MONDAY

The Los Angeles, Giant Navy diragable and the ZMC-2, the new all-metal airship is scheduled to fly over Chestertown at 1 p. m. Monday.

The airships will make the trip across the bay from Baltimore while on a tour of Southeastern cities.

GOBBLES FOR MOVITONE

Representatives of the Pathe Movietone spent a day this week at the turkey farm of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baker taking sound pictures of the large flock of turkeys there.

It is understood that the turkeys acted their part well by gobbling when requested and not showing embarrassment when a close up was required.

JOINS BANKING FIRM

Announcement was made this week by Barroll, Winter & Co., Investment Bankers, of Baltimore, that Mr. John Z. Bayless had joined the firm in the capacity of vice-president.

Mr. Hope H. Barroll, Jr., is a member of the firm and Mr. Morris K. Barroll, of Chestertown is the representative in this section.

NEW FURNITURE STORE HERE

Announcement is made in an advertisement on page eight of this issue of the opening of a branch furniture store of Klein & Co., of Easton, in Jones & Satterfield warehouse opposite the Railroad station. The new store will open on November 1st, 1929, with Mr. Yoffie in charge. During the opening month, special prices are offered on furniture, radios stoves, etc.

LADIES EASTERN SHORE SOCIETY MEETS

The annual ladies' night of the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore was held at the Hotel Belvedere last night, narly 300 members, their wives and other guests being present. Each Eastern Shore county was represented. Governor Ritchie was among the guests. One ballroom was reserved for dancing and another for cards. Special entertainments also were provided. Supper was served at 11.

HIP SLAPPING DISCONTINUED

Discontinuance of "hip slapping" of persons returning from abroad by customs agents was ordered recently by the Treasury Department.

In announcing the order Seymour Lowman, Assistant Secretary, said many protests against the practice and other "such undignified methods of attempting to discover contraband" had been received.

Searched For Flasks

From time to time persons landing said their hip and coat pockets had been slapped in searching for liquor flasks.

"It is expected," he said, "that inspectors of customs when they suspect a person of having liquor or any other contraband in their possession will search the suspect. This is clearly within the law, but promiscuous 'hip slapping' is not the same thing and has been forbidden."

TURKEY ASSOCIATION MEETS

Announcement was made at a meeting of Maryland turkey growers of Kent county that the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association will advertise 10,000 dressed turkeys for sale. The bids on these birds which will close November 15th and the birds will be supplied from all sections of the Shore.

The Maryland Turkey Growers Association have made plans and will endeavor to sell 2 carloads of live turkeys at a fair price.

In the meantime many cards are being received by the local association stating the number of birds that will be for sale by various individuals. Some of these cards have no name signed to them which makes them worthless.

Turkeys, handled by the local association, will include those from members of the Maryland Turkey Growers Association for Kent County, only.

RECORD TOMATO SEASON

The tomato season this year has established what is considered a record by farmers of fifty years experience, by the shipment of hundreds of baskets of tomatoes on Thursday of this week. These farmers state that the season this year has been the longest in thier memory. There has been no glut and the price has been above the average.

County Agent McVean is busy measuring tomato patches of entrants in the ten ton tomato club and it looks as if there will be a number of ten ton patches this year.
