THE TRANSCRIPT

THE BRIDGE ACROSS the Chester River which has been so discussed as to location is actually beginning to be built. Whatever dissatisfaction some of our citizens feel as to its site, there is one thing about it whch is pleasing to the pedestran, and that is that a footway is to be built for them. The old bridge has always been a great promenade until the coming of the Auto and the truck which make a walk on it for pleasure out of the question, and it is gratifying to know that those who still love to walk will again be able to take daily exercise for their pleasure and profit. No town on the shore has as beautiful approaches as Chestertown, and one of the most pleasing is the view from Queen Anne's County with the sweep of the river washing its bank, so it will be a renewed enjoyment for every one.

THE following editorial appeared in last week's Centreville Observer:

"LIVE WIRES NEEDED"

"It is becoming more and more obvious with each passing year that what Centreville NEEDS is more men and women who are imbued with an idea of COMMUNITY SERVICE and who are willing to devote at least a part of their time to the TOWN'S welfare, instead of $100 per cent of their time to individual aggrandizement.

"The fact that Centreville has neither an alert Chamber of Commerce nor even a wideawake Merchantile Section, in itself is a sad commentary upon our community enterprise.

"But when the absence of any such civic organization actually spells LOSS to those who would be most benefitted, THEN the failure to organize becomes disastrous as well as regrettable.

"Take, for instance, the recent plan to establish a shirt factory in Centreville.

"Promoters came here to obtain a plant and to get sufficient labor. Instantly Chestertown—in enterprising, progressive and alert fashion—jumped at the idea and before Centreville could say Jack Robinson had provided the promoters with EVERY THING they needed.

"The result?

"Chestertown GETS the factory.

"Centreville LOSES it!

"The factory will have an annual pay-roll, conservatively, of $25,000 a year.

"Centreville merchants lose their share of THAT.

"Centreville banks will not handle THAT.

"Centreville professional men will get none of the financial benefits of THAT.

"The community, as a whole, simply loses $25,000.

"And why?

"Because we haven't community spunk, courage and enterprise enough to go AFTER thngs we really can GET. Are we RIGHT."
