Chestertown, Maryland

LOCAL MATTER

—Buoys have been placed on both the East and West side of the Kent Island Narrows to mark the new channel that was recently built by the government at a cost of $75,000.

—The ducking season for Maryland waters opened yesterday. The day was an ideal day for everything except ducking as there was hardly a ripple on the water at sun up.

—Mr. H. Stockton Startt, local buyer, has shipped a large quantity of turkeys this week. The price paid was 40c a pound alive. He paid one lady $7 each for 25 toms.

—A large number of small Mississippi cat fish were placed in the lake of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club last night. The small fish were furnished by the State Conservation Department.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rogers, of Maplehurst, moved this week back to their home in Crumpton. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rogers, who have also been living at Maplehurst moved this week to an apartment in the Dodd house on West High Street. Mrs. Ida Skipper Parks will move to Maplehurst.

—W. D. Cohee, of Queen Anne's county, who brought the charge of perjury against Gorden Swift when Swift misstated the age of Cohee's daughter when applying for a marriage license in Chestertown, has petitioned the court to parole Swift in his custody. Swift was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Plans for the coming roll call of the American Red Cross were announced today by the local chapter, which is working towards a goal of six hundred members, assigned by the national headquarters of the Red Cross. The campaign starts on Armistice Day and closes on Thanksgiving day.

As explained by Mr. Howard Turner, chairman of the Kent County chapter, the Red Cross locally and nationally lives by memberships. The dues so received support the local program and the national services. From the national headquarters, the chapter obtains guidance and advice and the visits of field workers. Furthermore, the national organization stands behind the chapter in event of disaster. Should this community be overwhelmed by a disaster, the national Red Cross would send in its trained workers and support the work with its resources. The chapter represents the national organization locally, being an integral part of it.

Mr. Howard Turner, of Betterton announced that the following committee chairmen had been appointed in Kent County to take charge of the roll call in their localities: in Millington, Mrs. Merritt Brice; in Massey, Mr. E. Thomas Massey; in Galena, Mrs. Geo. R. Jones, with Mr. Roland Pennington as vice-chairman, in Kennedyville, Mrs. James W. Urie, in Still Pond, Mrs. William Medders; in Betterton, Mrs. Howard F. Owens; in Lynch, Mrs. A. N. Stavely; in Worton, Mrs. Carroll Loller; in Chestertown, Mrs. Barclay Kilbourn; in Fairlee, Mrs. Frank Smith; in Pomona, Miss Amelia C. Brooks; in Rock Hall, Mrs. H. O. Selby; in Washington College, Dr. Paul E. Titsworth.

The people of Kent County are strongly urged to seek out the worker in the community without waiting to be asked to renew their Red Cross membership. Put the Red Cross window flag in your window showing that your home is represented by memberships. Show that you are doing your part in helping Kent County to reach its assigned goal of six hundred members in the American National Red Cross.

Miss Nan Price, of Betterton, was the guest of Mrs. William B. Usilton this week.

Mr. Edward Corwin spent several days this week in Philadelphia.

Miss Nellie Cooper, of Dover, who has been spending the week with Miss Mary Slay left yesterday.

Miss May Ireland is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Comegys, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perkins spent last week end in Baltimore and attended the wedding of Mr. Murray Perkins and Miss Crane, daughter of Mr. William Crane formerly of this town.

Mr. James Metcalf spent the week end with friends in Warrington, Va.
