EARTH AND THE SENATE.
200 AMERICAN DIALECTS.
SENATOR NYE, IN A HURRY.
A MILLION-YEAR MACHINE.

The earth turns on its axis, about 1,000 miles an hour, 25,000 miles in twenty-four hours. Because of its size, the earth's motion is slow.

At the same comparative rate of speed you could not detect any motion in a cart wheel, revolving once in twenty-four hours.

However, as President Hoover justly complains, there is something slower, and that's the Senate's motion on the tariff.

It has been considering a tariff bill, as the President says, "since June, with fifteen schedules to work out, and has not yet completed schedule 1."

Dr. Greet teaches English to girls at Barnard College and proves, with his phonograph, that there are two hundred American dialects, between the two oceans, the Great Lakes and the Gulf.

At least all Americans understand each other.

It is not so in France. There a peasant fsom Brittany cannot understand another from the Midi.

The number of the American dialects reminds you of a beautiful poem about the soldiers each remembering a different name, but "all sang Annie Laurie."

Americans may speak 200 dialects, but they all understand each other when they talk about the dollar, which is a sort of national "Annie Laurie."

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, wants Wall Street and "all speculation sifted." What's more, he wants a remedy ready by February '.

That's a short time for so big a job.

The Malay, in his breech clout, bets on cock fights.

The proud Red Indian piles up his shirt and blanket, bets them on a pony race, standing in dignifed nudity.

Two ways of getting something. One is to work, the other, to gamble.

Ninety per cent of human beings prefer the gambling way.

That will be changed a good deal later than February 1, 1930.

Daniel Guggenheim and his son, Harry S. Guggenheim, recently appointed American Minister to Cuba, have wound up their admirable work for aviation with an additional gift of $500,000. They had already spent $4,000,000 encouraging new flying ideas, the establishment of a school of aeronautics, and other intelligent flying promotion.

The people are indebted to the Guggenheims, father and son, for this work. Big fortunes justify themselves by doing big things.

The Pacfic Relatons Conference opened in Kyoto with two unpleasant notes.

There were Chinese attacks on Japan and her policies. And the Japanese Viscount Shibusawa, of Japan, said the wound caused by American exclusion of Asiatic emigration, "so needlessly reflected on our national honor, s stiil open, and will remain open until the matter has been rightly settled."

That wound may be open, but it should not be. There is great respect for Japan in this country, and our exclusion programme is practically a confession of inability to met Japanese competition here at home.

Incidentally, the United States exclusion laws are no more severe than those enforced by the British Government in Canada, less severe than those in force in Australia and New Zealand.

And Japan says little about exclusion of Japanese immigration by her recent ally, the British Empire.

New York's hospitals own $1,000,00 worth of radium, 16 grams, which wouldn't occupy much space on the tip of your finger.

That is a good investment. $1,000,000 worth of the finest machinery that men ever made would wear out ten thousand times with that radium still working, sending out electrons from its millions of atoms at frightful velocity, penetrating and destroying germs of disease, deadly to men, without proper precaution.

A million years will pass. New York will disappear. Oceans and continents will change their places. And the tiny particles of radium will still be at work.

In Paris, where American fools spend their money and wise Americans study French efficiency, those that seek to please the fools have invented something new. Finger nails are to be dyed emerald green, in keeping with emerald jewelry, now fashionable and other nails will be dyed sapphire blue.

The colors will be in keeping with the painted faces of some modern women.

The most important financial news, nothing to do with Wall Street, tells you that New Jerseys, first among the States, has absolutely wiped out the gypsy moth.
