THE TRANSCRIPT

OUR PRESIDENT HAS appointed next Thursday as a day of Thanksgiving to Almightly God for an abundant harvest and for all the blessings of this past year. This custom has been ours ever since the Pilgrim fathers set aside one day for special Thanksgiving to their merciful father. Theirs had been a strenous year, but when they had gathered in the fruits of their toil, they appointed a day of Thanksgiving in which all were to join. Another thing we can learn from the Pilgrim Fathers: When they found that their store houses were filled, they invited the Indians around them to their feast and for many days, they fed their hungry neighbors. Our land is a different one from theirs. We have abundance sunshine, rivers of water and fertile ground. So it behooves us to keep this day, and like them to remember to share our blessings with those who need our sympathy and help.

THE EXTENT OF the sad aspect of the disaster of the stock market can only be known by those who have access to the books of the big brokerage houses, nor can the slightest conception be formed by the average person of the financial tragedies that have been involved. There have been many pathetic scenes witnessed by those who have come in personal contact with those who have lost their all. A few days ago many who were considered, and who actually thought themselves rich are today penniless. It is almost unbelieveable the number and class of people who were playing the stock markets and who have been financially wrecked. What the result on general business is going to be no one knows. There is a wide difference of opinion among well-posted financiers and others of a keen knowledge of business in general and of finances. Many plans for the future have been blasted and many heretofore happy homes have been wrecked. With it all it is hoped many valuable and costly lessons have been learned.

THE SPEECH BY Hon. Brook Lee at a dinner in Frederick this week, which we take to mean an announcement of the candidacy of Gov. Ritchie to succeed himself as Governor for the fourth time. This announcement has cleared up an interest which has existed in the Democratic party in this State for some months. The announced candidacy of State Senator MacIntosh, of Baltimore county, some weeks ago was not unexpected as it had been generally understood for some months that he wanted to be the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1930. Now that the Governor's position is understood it gives a choice to the people of the State between Governor Ritchie and Senator MacIntosh. In his speech Speaker Lee stated that Governor Ritchie is the "strongest vote-getter who can run in 1930 as the Democratic candidate for Governor."

TURKEY MARKET LOW

The market for live turkeys reached a new low mark yesterday when the price offered was 30 cents a pound, and it was hard to find buyers to handle the birds at this price.

This is the lowest price offered for turkeys in recent years and in spit of the price a fair proportion of the Kent county crop has been sold.

The condition of the stock market was blamed for the apathetic attitude of lovers of antique furniture, by John S. McDaniel, of Easton, Md., whose collection appraised by dealers at $92,000(wass old by the Anderson Galeries, Inc., in New York on Saturday for $35,750. Estimates of the value of the collection, one of the largest in Maryland, had been as high as $150,000. Smallr pieces sold at prices above the appraised value, but the large pieces of the early 18th century found little demand.
