THE TRANSCRIPT

CHRISTMAS IS NEARLY here. It is a joyful season to every one who will let the Christmas spirit enter into their hearts. Bright faces, hurrying feet and arms loaded with bundles all show the approach of the happy season. Nature partakes of our joy and the woods are bright with vivid green and scarlet berries. Our stores are trimmed with holly, and made attractive with colored electric lights, while they invite the passer by to buy at home. There's something about Christmas that opens the hearts of the people and makes them think of their unfortunate neighbors. "Peace on earth, good will to men," is in the air. To our neighbors, our friends and every one in the Community, we wish a very Happy Christmas.

WEDDING NOTES

An unannounced feature of a surprise birthday celebration tendered to the Rev. John White, rector of Old St. Paul's Parish, at the rectory in Fairlee Monday night was the marriage of Miss Anna Louise Akers, daughter of Capt. Frank Akers, commander of the oyster police boat Murray, and Mrs. Akers, of Rock Hall, to John Alfred Hersch.

When they arrived at the rectory they found an assemblage of seventy-five parishioners gathered to honor their rector. They were married in the presence of the group.

Subsequently the rector's birthday celebration proceeded according to schedule. A feature was the serving of a turkey dinner by the women of the parish.

Chiropractic
is more than the art of Adjusting

While Adjusting is a necessary part of Chiropractic, it is relatively of least importance. The matter of prime importance is locating the mal-adjusted vertebrae and interpreting its effects. This requires an exact and comprehensive knowledge of the structures and uses of all parts of the human body. Mere skill in adjusting no more equips a Chiropractor than the ability to hold a knife makes a surgeon.
