LOCAL MATTERS

—The people's Life Insurance Co. moved to their new offices on West High street this week.

—A new U. S. Mail truck is being used by the local post office for town delivery and collection of parcel Post

The local fire department was called out Monday afternoon when the small house near the drawer on the Chester River Bridge caught fire. No damage was done.

—The annual meeting of the membership of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of the election of officers for 1930, will be held on January 23. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of the body, will make his yearly report at that time. The meeting had previously been announced, through a misunderstanding, and set for January 16.

—Officer Lantz, of the Maryland State Police, was critically injured about 3.30 Monday afternoon when the motorcicle he was riding skidded a short distance from Longwoods. He was found a few minutes after the accident occured by passing motorists, placed in a farm truck and rushed to Emergency Hospital, Easton, where physicians said he had sustained severe injuries about the head. He was unconscious when found, and at the time of going to press yesterday was said to still be in a serious condition.

THIEVES ROB STORE AT COLEMAN'S CORNER

Thieves broke into the store of Mrs. Mary E. Greenwood at Coleman corner Tuesday night and stole a dozen pair of ladies silk stockings, some cigarettes and about $10 in change which was in the money drawer.

Entrance was made by cutting the slats out of a shutter and breaking the window.

TO MAKE PILES NEXT WEEK

The steel for the reinforcement of the concrete piles for the new Chester River Bridge has arrived and work on making the piles is expected to start in full force next week.

The 100 ton weight test on the test pile near the Kent shore settled this pile beyond the one-eighth of an inch maximum and the pile will have to be driven further for a solid foundation. The top of this pile is two feet above the finished line and it will be driven to this line for another test. If the second test fails the pile will have to be drawn and a longer test pile driven.

FARM BUREAU BANQUET

The 7th annual banquet of the Kent County Farm Bureau will be held on Wednesday evening, January 15th in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School at 6.30 p. m.

Mr. William G. Smyth will act as toastmaster and the principal speaker of the evening will be Mr. Amon Burgee, of the Frederick County Farm Bureau.

Other speakers will be Mr. E. Thomas Massey, president of the Kent County Farm Bureau; Mr. James W. Davis, president of the Maryland Farm Bureau; Mr. M. Melvin Stewart, secretary of the State Farm Bureau.

Mr. James D. Davis, secretary of the Kent County Farm Bureau will give his report of the years activities of that organization.

The banquet will be served by the ladies of St. Paul's church and the Washington College orchestra will furnish music for the occassion.

DEATHS

Frank Keyser died at his home in Skinner's Neck, January 1, 1930, aged 63 years. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Jennie Edwards, of Baltimore, Md. Funeral services were held yesterday, Friday, January 3, at 2 p. m., interment in Wesley Chapel cemetery. The bearers were: Messrs. John E. Boulter, James Boulter, John Kelley, T. Ringgold Jones, Harry Price and Stirling Kelley. Rev. Mr. of Wesley Chapel M. P. Church: Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

"MARYLAND WEEK MEETING"

Next week, January 7 to 10, in Baltimore will be held the Annual Meetings of the various farm organizations. This series of meetings is widely known as the "Maryland Week Meetings."

The meetings are all to be held in the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Special rates and arrangements have been made to insure ideal conditions. Splendid programs are ready for the thoughtful consideration of those interested in farm problems.

The following Maryland Associations are affiliated in the big series of meetings: State Horticultural Society; Crop Improvement Association; Dairymen's Association; Beekeepers Association, Vegetable Growers Association; Agricultural Corporation; Tobacco Growers Association; Stockmen's Association; Poultry Association. Group meetings, with fine programs, for each special organization are provided, also joint meetings of the whole group each afternoon.

The big banquet will be held Thursday night with Dr. Symons, Director of Agricultural Extension, as Toastmaster. On Wednesday night the Stockmen's Association hold their "famous feed" at the Claremont Hotel with a splendid after dinner program.

In connection with the Crop Improvement Association, a Corn Show is to be held January 7 to 9. Six classes are open to adults and one class for Juniors. Yellow Dents, White Cap, Golden Queen and similar types are eligible to compete. Single ears of any variety compete in the single ear class.

Soybeans (' peck) have a class. There is also a class for 4-H Club Potatoes. See County Agent for premium list. A number of Kent growers will contest in the corn classes. Entries are to be shipped prepaid to Maryland Crop Improvement Association, Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland, unless the grower takes his entry with him. The latter is the most desirable plan.

The Horticultural Meetings are on January 7th and 8th. Men of note from other States are to bring important messages in their various lines of work. Maryland Specialists also have parts in the full and splendid program.

Space does not permit of detailed programs of all the meetings. The County Agent has information on all phases of the meetings and will be pleased to give it to those interested.

It is hoped that a goodly number of Kent's men and women will find it possible to attend these meetings designed for their rspective interests. The Extension Service stands ready to assist in any way possible Special stickers for the automobile windshield will enable you to have special parking prvileges. Call the County Agent for details.
