MERCANTILE SECTION ELECTS

The annual meeting of the Chestertown Mercantile Section of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce was held at headquarters on January 28 for the annual reports of president and secretary and for the election of officers.

The officers for 1930 were elected as follows: President, M. E. Newsome; Vice-President, A. Sydney Turner, Jr.; Treasurer, C. W. Kibler, Jr.; Assistant Secretary, Harry F. Jefferson. The Executive Secretary of the Chamber acts in the same capacity for the Mercantile Section.

The third Tuesday of each month was selected for the regular meeting night, meetings to begin at 8.00 p. m. sharp.

In the report for 1929 the President, Mr. W. P. Newnam, mentioned among other activities of the Section their successful Dollar Day which was held last February; the work of the special committee on the placing of the Chester River bridge at the foot of High Street, the failure of which was in no way due to lack of effort on the part of the Chamber, the Section and their committees; the Buy-in-Chestertown Campaign with its Popularity Contest which was the greatest piece of cooperative advertising ever launched in this county; the successful efforts of the Section to bring the Elbourn Dress Shirt Factory to Chestertown; the registering and renting of rooms for bridge workers and their families; the completion of an industrial survey of Chestertown and its subsequent contracts with other manufacturing plants of a desirable type through the Gilbert Company who made the survey; the annual Christmas Treat which did not follow the regular beaten path of former years and which afforded much amusement to spectators and contestants.

Mr. M. E. Newsome will shortly appoint the various standing committees the chairman of which, together with the officers of the Section, constitute the Executive Board.

The Chestertown Mercantile Section works for the interest of the retail trade of Chestertown and is keenly interested in the civic welfare and progress of the town. The banding together of the leading merchants in this organization has been a great forward step. The volume of their work has increased from year to year and the Section is looking forward to a banner year for 1930.

TRANSCRIPTIANA

APPRECIATION
By William Judson Kibby

Life's a bully good game with its kicks and cuffs,
Some smile, some laugh, some bluff;
Some carry a load too heavy to bear,
While some push on with never a care,
But the load will seldom heavy be
When I appreciate you and you appreciate me.

He who lives by the side of the road
And helps to bear his brother's load
May seem to travel long and long,
While the world goes by with a merry song,
But the heart grows warm and sorrows flee
When I appreciate you and you appreciate me.

When I appreciate you and you appreciate me,
The road seems short to victory;
It buoys on up and calls "come on,"
And days grow brighter with the dawn;
There is no doubt or mystery
When I appreciate you and you appreciate me.

It's the greatest thought in Heaven on earth,
It helps us know our fellow's worth;
There'd be no wars or bitterness,
No fear, no hate, no grasping; yes,
It makes work play, and the careworn free
When I appreciate you and you appreciate me.

How keen and full of appreciation we must be in this age. In art we had just gotten used to the futurist style of painting when you have to stand a long distance away to see what the artist is driving at, when along comes the modernistic style, a style which is so confusing that a prize picture was hung upside down in a picture gallery, and no one knew the difference until the painter, himself chanced by; He rather indignantly told those who hung it that he had marked which side went up. And not to be outdone the music has become modernistic, too. A clash, a noise, and then what? Jazz, bewildered, retires in the background while we listen to the noise and wonder what it means. Again the reading public is puzzled with the modernistic literature. One who has a pretty fair vocabulary was obliged to resort to a dictionary many times in reading a modern theme, which neither the dictionary nor reason could define the meaning. This world is surely advancing at a pace, but we hope that it will advance fast enough to leave the modernistic in the rear.

How many of us, I wonder, arose at five o'clock in the morning to hear King George speak? It was a real test of friendship to the old country. Our president was listening in at that hour, but when we think that it was ten o'clock a. m. in England at that time it does look as though old Sol was showing partiality to that favored land. How many arose in the wee sma' hour of two a. m. in the far western states, has not yet been reported.

The stock market has settled down again. Those who have lost are keeping it quiet, while the great money kings are profiting by these losses.

Market Mother Goose

Sing a song of millions—
A pocket full of stocks,
Four and twenty good things
Gone upon the rocks.

The bears are in the counting house
Counting out their shares,
The lambs are in the pawn shops
Hocking all their wares.

The queens are in high dudgeon—
There isn't any honey;
What's the use of petting
Men who haven't money?

S. N. FLECK.

If You Know What She Meant

The lady of the house was telling the maid about the woman across the hall who had become extremely disturbed over the playing of a radio late at night and who had gone so far as to complain to the police.

"Ain't that awful," observed the maid. "She oughta be put in that home they have in the Bronx."

"What home is that, Nora?" asked the l. of the h.

"The Home for Indignant Women," was the reply.

—All members of Chestertown Council Jr. O. U. A. M., are earnestly urged and requested to come to the lodge room next Wednesday evening at 7.30 P. M. They will hear and see something that will be of great benefit to them. Let nothing keep you from attending. If you do you will regret it, as it will be of much importance to every member to be there.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE MEETS

LAND OPTIONS SECURED AND PLANS FOR NEW HOSPITAL BEING DRAWN

The Business Committee of the Kent and Upper Queen Anne General Hospital met Monday afternoon and transacted some very important business which will be of interest to all those residing within the area which the new hospital will serve.

The Treasurer W. B. Copper reported a cash balance of $23,000 and all bills paid.

The committee appointed to secure a suitable site made its final report which was accepted unanimously. Options have been secured from Margaret C. Bell, William A. Bell and John W. Barroll on seven and one half acres of land adjoining Reid Hall campus and overlooking Chester River. The choice of this location was made after a great deal of work on the part of the committee. Some eleven possible sites were carefully considered with the final choice being made as above. It is felt that the location will meet with very general approval. By many it is considered to be the finest and most beautiful site for the purpose to be found on the Eastern Shore. Terms have been agreed upon and final purchase will be made as soon as the necessary matters can be attended to.

At the invitation of the committee Mr. Henry Powell Hopkins, Architect of Baltimore, was present and his services have been secured to draw plans and to supervise the work of construction. The committee feels that the choice of Mr. Hopkins is a particularly good one as he has made a specialty in his profesion of hospital work and has many splendid achievements to his credit. Mr. Hopkins is well known on the Eastern Shore and has a real personal interest in our new venture.

While it may appear to some that the whole hospital undertaking has moved forward very slowly, it should be borne in mind that many difficulties have been encountered. We are happy to say that thus far we have been able to solve them. The undertaking is not completed by any means and undoubtedly problems will arise in the future.

The committee appointed by the citizens of this community to raise a fund and build our hospital has been able to carry the work to this point because it has shown a high regard for the trust committed to it and has manifested all through a lively interest and a united front.

Preliminary sketches will be ready in about ten days and just as fast as information and news is available it will be given to the public. The architect has been instructed to prepare plans for a building of twenty bed capacity.

WILD FOWL SEASON CLOSED JANUARY 31

The open season provided by the State and Federal laws for the hunting of wild ducks, wild geese, brant and all other wild-fowl, which opened November 1st, closed at sunset on January 31st. Wild-fowl legally killed during the open season are permitted to be held in possession for ten days following the close of the open season. Therefore, wild-fowl may not be possessed in Maryland after February 10 (except live birds for propagation.)

It is earnestly hoped all persons having wild-fowl in possession when the season closes to use same on or before February 10th as any dead birds found in possession after the 10th of February will be confiscated and the person in whose possession the birds were found prosecuted. The Federal Government have one of their officers to inspect all cold storage plants, hotels, etc., immediately following February 10th and any dead birds found in possession confiscated.

Maryland has not been blessed with the abundance of wild-fowl this hunting season as has been the case during each of the past five seasons due to the fact that thousands of lakes, during the drought of 1929, became dry in Canada in the great breeding grounds. It is hope that the public will co-operate with the officers in enforcing the laws protecting the wild-fowl which remain in our waters after January 31st, whereby they may return to their breeding grounds and bring back young to our waters during the hunting season of 1930-1031 It becomes every sportsman to assist in prohibiting unscrupulous hunters from hunting or killing any wild-fowl after sunset January 31st.

The sport has not been up to the average in our local waters, especially in the upper part of Chester River. The Metcalfe Bros., who are members of a club located in the southern section of Kent Island have made the largest bags reported this season.

G. W. BALDWIN PRIZE WINNER

Recognition as one of the Frigidaire Corporation's outstanding salesmen in the entire United States was given Mr. G. W. Baldwin, of Chestertown, Md., this week, at the annual regional convention here, when he was called to the platform and amid blaring bands and cheering of 950 fellow-salesmen from this part of the country, was presented with $50 in gold.

Awarding of salesmen's prizes and introduction of new products were high spots of the convention at which speakers struck an optimistic note for 1930. Among the new developments in electric refrigeratin presented were a hydrator, for freshening vegetables; two new compressors and two sizes of commercial refrigerator cabinets. It was announced that there are now more than 1,300,000 Frigidaires in use.

DEMAND FOR TURKEYS THIS WEEK

R. B. Givler, of Reading, Penna., who has bought through the Chamber of Commerce last year when they undertook to sell turkeys for the growers and this past season through the Maryland Turkey Growers' Association of Kent County returned this week for another load of birds. As Mr. Givler uses very large gobblers his coming was most welcome as some of the other recent buyers refuse Toms that weigh over seventeen pounds. Mr. Givler has a banquet trade that prefers large birds.

The next meeting of the Maryland Turkey Growers' will be the annual meeting and will be held on February 19 for the reading of annual reports and the election of officers. Members can help in preparation for that meeting if they will forward their half-cent commision and close their accounts in time for the secretary and treasurer to make up their reports.

Members are also requested to send in the secretary as to the number of birds they have for sale and the weights. The County seems quite cleaned out of birds and when orders come it means a great deal of phoneing before birds can be located. This could be simplified if the Growers will cooperate.

FIVE MILES SLAG THIS YEAR

According to the new road law for Kent county which provides that approximately half of the county road fund shall be used for road construction and the other half for maintenance, Mr. Gilbert Taylor expects to have funds enough to build five miles of slag road this year.

—The Women's Auxiliary of Emmanuel P. E. Church are planning a commedietta to be held in the Parish House February 18th.

POULTRY INDUSTRY PROFITABLE

Hens on American farms in 1929 produced eggs at the rate of 45,600 a minute, U. S. Government statistics show, while poultry as a whole created a net income of more than $1,181,000,000 for the farmers of the nation. This places poultry well above wheat, oats, fruit, potatoes, and a long list of other farm products in rank as money makers for farmers.

Growing realization of the profits to be made from greater attention to the farm flock is responsible for the increased interest the farmer is now taking in the old hen coop. Once the chickens were left to "the womenfolks" by the farmer, who felt that poultry was a "pin money" proposition. Now, with farm poultry in the "big money" class, the head of the house is beginning to take upon himself a large share of the work necessary to successful poultry raising.

This greatly awakened interest in poultry as a major farm product has resulted in constant improvement of farm flocks during the past few years, particularly since leading hatcheries of the country banded together under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks for Greater profits," to pledge improved stock to farmers.

In spite of this effort to make farm flocks sure-fire profit producers many farmers have failed to realize the importance of good stock and of improved methods in obtaining best results from their hens.

Increased egg production is the first step to greater profits from the poultry flock. Hens must lay from 140 to 170 eggs a year to return a good profit to their owners, while the average for American farms is only 70 eggs per hen per year. Replacement of low-grade stock, and improved methods of caring for hens offer the two quickest method of securing best results from the poultry flock, poultry experts advise.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD

NEW PROJECT FOR WOMEN OF THE COUNTY ANNOUNCED

A series of demonstrations in preparing and serving meals and the use of pattern recipes and labor-saving equipment is announced by Miss Helen Schellinger, Home Demonstration Agent for Kent County. These demonstrations are part of a new project which Miss Schellinger is launching in the county and the exact dates and places at which they will be held will be announced as soon as arrangements are complete.

Among the things that will receive attention in this new project are the factors which influence the amount of time and energy spent in cooking, such as organization of work, types of utensils used, convenience of the kitchen, mastery of a good recipe and knowledge of how to vary it, and other practical problems of this nature.

The aim, according to Miss Schellinger, is to take as much of the monotony and guess work out of the preparing and serving of "Three meals a day" as is possible, and at the same time, find ways of accomplishing the task with greater satisfaction and less expenditure of time and energy. Since this project deals in the most practical way with tasks that make up much of the routine in women's work, she feels certain that it will appeal very strongly to the home makers of the county and that a large number of them will take advantage of the unusual opportunity which it offers.

Products prepared by those entering the project will be judged and in that way they will be able to determine how nearly standard their products are, their defects, if any, and the cause, and how to remedy them. It is emphasized that the aim is to assist home makers in mastering a few simple principles in cooking, so that they can apply them in the preparation of various foods. Attention will also be given to the making of menus that fulfil the requirements of good health for the family, and their variation for different occasions and conditions.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY MONDAY AND TUESDAY

The Chestertown High School will stage the musical comedy, "Miss Blue Bonnett," in the Old Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week, February 3 and 4.

The show is under the direction of Miss Olivia Abernethy, assisted by Miss Bryan and Mrs. Green and the cast is made up of the musical and dramatic talent of the High School.

The cast includes John Harwood, Rose Gordon, Paul Pippin, Marvin Williams, Francis Hill, Louise Crow, Alfred Hodgson, John Henry Crew, Carrie Walters, Jesse Moore, Adam A. Lewis, Elizabeth Baxter.

All seats are reserved.

CLOSED SEASON ON OTTERS

From State Game Department

Section 62 of Chapter 420, Acts of 1929, provided it to be unlawful to pursue, catch, trap, kill or attempt to pursue, catch, trap or kill any Otter in this State at any time under a penalty of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 for each and every offense and $5.00 additional for each and every pelt found in possession and said pelt or pelts confiscated.

Due to the high value of this fur-bearing animal and the extreme scarcity of it in Maryland, it was very advisable to close the season for an indefinite period, thereby allowing them to propagate and increase and we sincerely hope that the public will co-operate with us in the protection of otters.

WASHINGTON LOSES TO LOYOLA

Washington College lost a hard fought basket ball game to Loyola on the latter's court Saturday night by the score of 34 to 31.

Washington started the scoring and soon had a six point lead but Loyola put on a spirt which overcame this lead and gave them a seven point margin. Washington came out of the slump and the half ended with Loyola leading 19 to 17.

The playing during the second half was about even and only once was Washington able to take the lead by one point.

Washington will play Drexal tonight here and this will start a series of six home games out of seven which remain on the schedule.

DR. TITSWORTH TO HEAD COMMERCE BODY

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY CHAMBER DIRECTORS TUESDAY AFTERNOON — TO HOLD REGULAR MEETINGS

At a meeting of the Board of Directors on Tuesday of this week after their election by the membership of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce on January 23 the following officers were elected: Dr. P. E. Titsworth, President; I. Frank Huey, vice president; M. den. Smith, Jr., Treasurer; and Mrs. Nell C. Westcott, Executive Secretary. The meeting was exceptional in that there was a hundred per cent in attendance despite the unpleasant weather conditions and all officers were unanimously elected.

A new feature of the Board meetings of 1930 was decided upon when the Directors set aside the second Wednesday of each month for a regular meeting at 7.30 p. m. and extended to any and all members the privilge of being present at the Board meetings. It is hoped members will avail themselves of this opportunity in order to become better acquainted with the aims, plans and inner working of the organization.

This makes the third year in office for President Titsworth. The membership of the Chamber showed its approval at the annual meeting of such a step as Dr. Titsworth ranked highest among all votes for directorship. Pressure was brought to bear by the Directors at yesterdays meeting that he serve another term as the organization had made such splendid headway under his leadership.

The new members on the Board for 1930 ore: Messrs. R. H. Collins, Jr., Linwood A. Sutton, Harry C. Willis, Walter M. Kenly, J. Louis Roberts and M. E. Newsome, the new President of the Chestertown Mercantile Section. The following members of the Board are veterans of one year or more: Messrs. H. M. Baker, W. B. Copper, Dr. H. B. Simmons, and Mrs. Evelyn Harris.

A full report of the President on the activities of the organization during 1929 will be sent out to all members.
