Mr. William Carroll died last Saturday, February 15, at 4.45 p. m. at the home of his nephew, Mr. James Higman, of double pneumonia. He was born near Seaford, Del., in 1836. The greater part of his life was spent in farming near Greenwood, Del. For the past eight years, he had made his home with his nephew, Mr. Norman Higman, near town. "Uncle Bill," as he was known among his friends, had pased his 93rd birthday, and in spite of his advanced years was very active and a great reader, very fortunate in never having to wear glasses. He is survived by a number of nephews and nieces. The funeral took place from Concord M. E. Church, Concord, Md., last Tuesday at 1 p. m., with interment in burying ground beside the church. Rev. S. L. Hanby, pastor of Concord, officiated and was assisted by Rev. R. L. Tawes, pastor of Asbury M. E. Church, Millington. Mr. C. W. Adams, of Greenwood, Del, a close friends of the deceased, was the undertaker in charge. Mr. Carroll was a cousin of Charles Carroll, of Carrolton.

The nine foot road from Reddings corner to Fairlee, sarcastically called by some "A Sidewalk," beats mud one hundred per cent. Then the Rash Williams boulevard thro the town of Worton, which the State Road Commissioners had left a mud hole, makes us "sitting pretty" this winter. Only one more short piece of road leading from Melitota through Worton toward the Lynch-Hossenger corner road left and we are hoping soon to have it either slag or concrete. The Lord knows we waited long enough to get our share of state road.

Mr. and Mrs. Caroll Loller and Mr. and Mrs. James S. Matthews attended the banquet of the Kent County Turkey Association and report a fine time.

Brevityis the soul of modern journalism. A budding journalist was told never to use two words where one would do. He carried out this advice in his report of a fatal accident in the following manner:

"John Jones struck a match to see if there was any gasoline in his tank. There was. Age sixty-five."
