WEDDING NOTES

A wedding of interest to many took place Saturday, March 1st, when Miss Melfa Marker and Raymond L. Wright, both of Clayton, Delaware, were married. The ceremony took place at high noon in the St. James Methodist Protestant Church. Miss Marker is a sister of the pastor of the church, Rev. J. Lee Marker, who performed the ceremony.

The ceremony was attended by the members of the family after which a reception was held at the parsonage of the church. After a happy hour of congratulations and best wishes the couple entrained for Washington and other points.

The groom is prosperously engaged in farming near Clayton where they will make their home.

FIREMEN REFUSE WOMAN'S PLEA

Evanston, Ill., Mar 3.—The firemen rushed to Mrs. John W. Dahlstrom's apartment, for she had called them.

They had their funny hats on, and they carried axes and extinguishers. They stamped into the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Dahlstrom, ready to do or die, if need be, for dear old E. F. D.

"Do you," inquired Mrs. Dahlstrom, "put out things?"

"We put out fires," said the firemen.

"Put him out," she said, pointing to Mr. Dahlstrom, who sat quietly in the corner. A corncob pipe hung desultorily from his mouth. From time to time he inhaled deeply, and then permitted the smoke to slip in lazy spirals from a corner of his lips.

He's no fire," said the firemen.

"Maybe not." said the lady, "but I'm firing him now. He sits around all day Sunday just smoking. If you have a spark of energy you will extinguish him from my presence."

Dahlstrom in his chair inhaled deeply. He seemed in deep thought.

The firemen gave Mrs. Dahlstrom a hurt look and stamped away.

"We do not put out husbands," said the firemen.

—The State Road Commission will no doubt awarded to the Old Line Construction Company of Chestertown two contracts for building concrete roads amount to 2 1-2 miles on a bid of $39,000 as they were the lowest bidders. One of these roads is located near Black station in the upper section of the county and the other near Coleman's Corner in the vicinity of Betterton. It is expected that these roads will be completed in time for the homecoming celebration and road day, to be held in May.

TOMATO MEETING WELL ATTENDED

ALL PHASES OF INDUSTRY DISCUSSED

The meeting at the Court House on March 1st to discuss the tomato situation was well attended. Interest was keen. Over one hundred growers and canners enjoyed the discussions.

Mr. L. M. Goodwin, Canning Crops Specialist, in the Extension Service, discussed factors to profitable production and used splendid lantern slides to illustrate his talk. He cited data which indicates the following as factors necessary to profitable tomato production, vis:

1. Liberal fertilization.
2. Good seed of an adapted variety.
3. Early planting.
4. Careful Cultivation.

As to fertilizer, using experience and results as a guide, 1000 lbs. per acre of 4-8-10 fertilizer seems wise, in fertile well manured soils.

Several varieties have been carefully tested, Marglabe, Greater Baltimore, Indiana, Baltimore, Tri-State or Radebaugh selection of Greater Baltimore possess quality and yielding ability both of which are important to grower and canner.

To insure the early planting in field, Mr. Goodwin cited the results of several years work in this and nearby states in which the plants raised in open beds were tested or compared with plants raised in muslin covered frames. The plants from muslin covered plant beds are ready to set 10 days to two weeks earlier than from the open beds and the early plants consistently outyield the plants raised in open beds and therefore set in field at a latter date. Increasing the yield per acre so as to produce tomatoes more cheaply per basket is the means of making profit per basket or tons fewer acres each produced at a profit are better than many acres of no profit tomatoes or tomatoes produced at a loss the aggregate of which making over-production and low prices.

The County Agent has a supply of plans for the muslin covered bed also an excellent bulletin dealing with Tomatoes entitled "More Tomatoes from Fewer Acres."

Mr. Goodwin called attention to the need for care in cultivation of tomatoes. Many reverse the best practice. They use shallow cultivation when the plants are small and keep going deeper as the plants grow this practice reduces yields greatly since the shallow cultivation should come at the end of the cultivation period when the roots of the plants grow out fill every nick and corner of space allotted to them. Deep cultivation at this time cuts off many feeder roots therefore reducing yields and profits.

Mr. F. M. Shook, Secretary of the Tri-State Packers Association discussed the possibilities of profitable marketing of tomatoes. He cited the results obtained in Indiana for the past three years under Government Grading. This plan has worked out very satisfactorily to both grower and packer. Premium price is paid for 1st grade tomatoes ($20 per ton) while half that amount is paid for No. 2 tomatoes and culls are not paid for at all. Two remarkable points are noteworthy. First, the rapidity and efficiency with which the farmers learned to leave immature green or half ripe tomatoes on the vine, which if picked were refused by the grader and therefore worthless. These tomatoes if left on vine until ripe were marketable at good price. First year 19 per cent of the tomatoes brought in, grades as culls, next year only 5 per cent were culls and the third year only 3 per cent of culls were picked.

The second point of interest is that the grower got a high price per ton, therefore more profit and the packer due to the quality of tomatoes got more cans per basket or less cost per case of canned tomatoes than under the old plan of buying, thus both grower and packer are pleased with the grading service. Packers present in meeting stated their willingness to buy on the Government Grading. It is hoped that the farmers and growers may get together on this plan which is more desirable for both parties.

County Agent McVean distributed the plans for the muslin covered beds, the bulletin mentioned, and enrollment blanks for the 10 Ton Club. Members of the club strive to grow 10 or more tons of tomatoes per acre on each acre planted. Those who competed in this Club last year produced about 8 tons per acre on the average, for not every entrant meets the requirements, but even so, the heavy yielding are the profitable acres. Any farmer desiring to get plans and information may have them from the County Agent.

SAINT PATRICK

BY ALICE MATHEWS

O goodly Saint Patrick from Ireland's green hills
Why even you rname sets a-gog many thrills:
And we of Amercia would honor you too
For the marvelous deeds that we love to review
On this day of days when we all get together
And wear something Green, a flower or a feather!
They say snakes from Ireland you wooed quite away
Or made wear "Greenjackets" that held them at bay:
And though your adventurous deeds great and strong
To a page of the past now right truly belong,
Yet we turn pages backward in Time's own day book
On March seventeenth always happily to look
At the portrait of You, with a love that doth time
Its yearly expression in prose or in rhyme.

ASSISTANT AGENT APPOINTED

E. W. KING TO TAKE POSITION VACATED BY J. Z. MILLER

Mr. E. W. King a University of Maryland graduate in agriculture has been appointed the position of Assistant County Agent, which has been vacant since Mr. J. Z. Miller was transferred to Cecil County last September.

Mr. King was graduated with the class of 1926 and since that time has been in agricultural work, as inspector in the grading of fruits and vegetables for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, also as Assistant County Agent in Louisana. Mr. King was a member of the University of Maryland Glee Club which toured the Eastern Shore several years ago. He comes well recommended and backed by successful achievement. He should prove to be a valuable assistant to County Agent McVean. He will devote considerable effort to the 4-H Club Work, which has done more to fix Kent County in the public mind than possibly any other agency.

Mr. King will bring his family to Chestertown in the near future, while he begins his duties at once.

County Agent McVean has planned an ambitious program of work and needs help in the effort to improve the economic position of the farmer through more efficient marketing and through more economic production.

SACRED CONCERT

SUNDAY, MARCH 16, AT 3.30 P. M.

The Kent County Musical Society will give a concert of Sacred Music on Sunday, March 16th at 3.30 p. m. in the William Smith Hall of Washington College. The public is cordially invited to attend this concert. No charge will be made, but a free will offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of the production.

The concert will consist of a number of varied Religious pieces rendered by the Chorus of the Society, one given by the Double Quartet of Washington College, and the Lenten Cantata of Sir John Maunder, "Penitence, Pardon, and Peace," will be the concluding number of the concert. This increasingly popular work will be featured by Rase and Suprano solos, by Mr. Roy Schmidt and Mrs. Cleveland Smith, respectively, and by a number of Chorus effects, charmingly varied.

To free Mrs. Smith from the double duty of solo work and directing, Dr. Walter Rockwood Ferris, now of Easton, will act as Guest Director for this number. It is of interest to note that Dr. Ferris is said by the publishers of the work to have been the conductor at its premiere in America, when given by the Orange County Oratorio Society of New York, shortly after its publication in England.

The complete program of the Concert will appear in next weeks paper.

BIBLE CLASS BANQUET

On Wednesday evening the "Men's Bible Class" of Kennedyville M. P. Church taught by Rev. J. McLain Brown, held a Banquet in the School Building. Promptly at 7.30 p. m. the members of this class and their guests had arrived and had taken their seats in the Assembly Hall.

Mr. William T. Hague, the President of this class, presided at the meeting. The stage was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants. On the stage were seated the teacher, Rev. J. McLain Brown; the President, Mr. Wm. T. Hague; Vice President, Mr. George R. Rasin; 2nd Vice President, Mr. Granville Ward; Secretary, Mr. Wm. C. Dempsey, and Treasurer, Mr. E. T. Othoson.

The meeting was opened with singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" with Mrs. Norman Hopkins at the piano, accompanied by the Men's Bible Class Orchestra. Mesrs, Otho Fogwell, Mason Willis, Edgar Lipscomb and Wm. Fogwell.

The Scripture reading was by the pastor, Rev. J. McLain Brown, then the President, in an impressive manner, introduced the teacher and Officers of the class, to which each one responded. The members were introduced in a body and a warm welcome was extended to the invited guests which made every one present feel the sweet chrisitan fellowship, all working for one great cause in serving the master.

The prayer was offered by Mr. Wm. T. Hague, after which the male quartette composed of Messrs. Wm. Fogwell, Albert Hague, Wm. T. Hague, E. T. Othoson, sang, "Speed Away."

Rev. C. S. Marshall, of Warwick, Md., addressed the audience, his subject being "The Bible," " A lamp to my feet and a light to my pathway." which all enjoyed very much.

Another song was sung by all called "The Son of God goes forth to War," after which a beautiful piano selection was played by Mrs. Norman Hopkins, class pianist.

The quarette then sang "The Beautiful Land."

The closing song "Blest be the tie that binds" was heartily sung by all, after which the Benediction was pronounced. Owing to the inclement weather, Prof. Fox, of Washington College and Mr. John N. Bennett, who were to have part in the programme, could not attend. After the program all were invited to the dining room tables where a splendid plate supper was spread, consisting of chicken salad on lettuce, ham, deviled eggs, salads and all the nice trimmings. One hundred suppers were served. At a late hour all left for their homes, having spent an enjoyable evening.

Captain James Haddaway, of Neavitt, stated this week that recently he caught a rock of average size which had in its stomach an eel eighteen inches long. The eel was dead, but perfect in every particular. Many fishermen have brought in rock with little hard crabs in the stomachs, but this is the first instance known in Talbot where this fish had swallowed an eel, especially of this size.

William Larrimore, of Neavitt, recently returned to his home with the first soft crab of the season. He reports the local waters well filled with hard crabs of every size, but to his surprise he found a soft crab near the shore. The crab was of ordinary size, and perfect in every particular. Mr. Larrimore now raises the question. When do crabs begin to shed? This is the earliest date known for soft crabs.

FISH ARE RUNNING

Rock Hall fishermen have been making some fair catches of rock fish this week. The largest catch reported was 1700 pounds and other catches ranged from 900 to 1500 pounds.

The fish were iced and sent to New York by truck where the price during the first of the week averaged about 21 cents a pound. On Thursday it was reported to have dropped to 16 cents.

Fishermen in Chester River report large catches of white perch.

PROTECT OUR SONG BIRDS

At this season of the year when practically all species of migratory birds (especially the song and insectivorous birds) are returning to Maryland covers to begin housekeeping for the season of 1930, it is very essential that we should give them adequate protection, thereby assuring a successful propagation season.

Our attention is very often called to the fact that unscrupulous boys are killing song and insectivorous birds by the use of sling-shot, air rifles and other means, which is not only unlawful but very detrimental to our supply and again, it is very annoying to persons interested in birdlife to see the depredations caused to our feathered friends by these boys who, as a rule, thoughtlessly kill or attempt to kill thru malicious devilment rather than for the purpose of seeding and securing food.

We are endeavoring, thru the cooperation of the State Board of Education, thru the teachers of the public schools of the State to educate the pupils to the necessity of the conservation of birdlife and sincerely appreciate the efforts which are being used in the schools by, not only the teachers, but the supervisors and county superintendents as well, who have whole-heatedly endorsed our educational campaign and are co-operating with us in every manner possible to make it effective.

The agriculturists and gardeners of our State should be very much interested in our program for the conservation of birdlife as it is impossible to grow crops without the assistance of the insectivorous birds which annually destroy millions of insects and obnoxious weeds which are so detrimental to the growing of crops and flowers. If it were not for the birds assisting in this manner, starvation would overtake the country within a few years. Therefore, we appeal to the agriculturists and gardeners of Maryland at all times to furnish ample cover and protection for the birds and especially those which are so beneficial to their interests.

The expense of building and maintaining bird houses which furnish nesting places for numerous species of birds is so small that the general public should by all means furnish more homes for their feathered friends. Not only are the birds beneficial to those persons interested in tilling the soil and to those persons growing flowers, but the enjoyment received from the presence of birds around the home and on the properties is a very valuable asset.

Chapter 568, Acts of 1927, provides it be unlawful for any person to kill, catch or have in their possession, living or dead, any resident or migratory wild bird other than a game bird; or purchase, offer or expose for sale any such wild non-game birds, the plumage, skin or body, whether said bird was captured or killed within the State of Maryland or within any other State, Territory or country. This Act also provides it to be unlawful to take or destroy or attempt to take or destroy the nest or the eggs of any wild bird, whether said be game or non-game, or have such nest or eggs in possession under a penalty of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 for each and every offense.

We earnestly solicit the co-operation of the public in assisting us to conserve our song and insectivorous birds, as well as the game birds of our State.

E. LEE LeCOMPTE,
State Game Warden of Maryland.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS LOYOLA

Washington College won the intercollegiate basket ball championship on Saturday evening of last week by beating Loyola 40 to 34.

Washington maintained a five point lead from the start and gradually increased the lead until at the end of the first half the score stood 20 to 11.

In the second half the visitors started caging long shots and within four minutes of the end of the game Loyola lead by one point. However two baskets in rapid succession put Washington comfortably in the lead and they won by a 6 point margin.
