When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

THE MODERN FUNERAL

The methods and systems in vogue a few years ago, and still adhered to by many, are no longer applicable. In this age and generation a better understanding of the duties of the funeral director has changed the old order. One of the most difficult problems confronting the modern funeral director will be solved when the public realizes that SERVICE is the principal, and in fact, only commodity which we have to offer.

The casket and funeral appurtenances are negligible, or practically so, requiring little or no expense and, in the matter of expense, consist only with the costs of production.

Service is the main consideration—the care and disposition of the body of the one that has passed on. Knowledge and ability and a readiness to relieve the burden of those who are left to mourn.

Third National Bank

Chestertown, Maryland

The vital part of a bank is its vaults. Therein are stored not only the records and monies of the bank itself, but also the valuable possessions of safe deposit box customers, which we consider more important than the bank's cash. Therefore, in our bank building every consideration has been given to the safety and security of our vaults.

Not satisfied with thick walls and heavy entrances, a contract was made with the O. B. McClintock Company, the largest bank vault burglar alarm manufacturers in the world, to electrically protect our vaults.

The entire surface of the walls, ceiling and floor are surrounded with electrically sensitive protection. The vault doors are protected against attack of any kind.

No gang of yeggs with their disastrous burning outfit, commonly termed by insurance companies as the "torch of hades" will attack our bank because it is well-known among those of the underworld that tampering with a McClintock electrically protected vault spells positive defeat. Records show that more than forty-five bank burglars, hold-up men and their associates have been killed or imprisoned through the means of "McClintock" alarms.

Automatic supervision provides a strict check up on the officials of our bank so that at no time could our vaults be left for the night without being perfectly and properly safe-guarded.

Any attack made on the vaults of this bank will immediately cause an alarm from the heavy gong installed in its electrically protected housing on the outside of the building—any attempt to destroy or silence this big gong will at once cause the alarm to sound.

This wonderful system of electrical protection is recognized as the finest thing of its kind. Vault engineers, architects, bankers and burglary insurance companies have given it their approval. It is passed by the Underwriters' Laboratories in the highest rating, that to Grade "A".
