NEWS AND COMMENTS

BY SEPTIMUS

The eagle, the chosen emblem of our country, has proved so distructive to small animals and birds that there has been a bounty offered on those that are killed. In Alaska last year hundreds of dollars were made in that way. Now, numbers of clubs are taking a stand against the wholesale killing of these birds and are considering ways and means to prevent their destruction.

In a voting contest some years ago, the following words were selected as the most beautiful in the English language: Melody, eloquence, modesty, honor, heaven, hope, purity, splendor, virtue, faith ,nobility, love, harmony, liberty, adoration, innocence, joy, sympathy, divine, and happiness.

The city of New York has 5,600,000 people, of whom nearly 2,000,000 are foreign born. It has more Italians than Rome, more Irish than Dublin, more Germans than Bremen, and one-tenth of all the Jews in the world. Last but not least, it has more telephones than London, Paris, Berlin, Petrograd and Rome combined.

Two hundred and fifty millions is the approximate sum spent on art, according to a statement made by the American Art Dealers Association, an organization made up of the dealers of the entire country.

What Miss Ida Tarbel thinks of Women's Suffrage.

"'What do I think of the results of ten years of suffrage?' Miss Tarbell repeated the queston. 'Well, the results are what I expected. I don't feel that women have contributed anything new or worth-while. I always have felt that women could have more influence without the vote than with it. Does that seem paradoxical? I will explain.

"'Without the vote, women could not become involved in party politics. The party machines paid no attention to them, and made no attempt to influence them nor rope them in. What has happened? Since the granting of the vote, even the suffrage leaders admit that women have gone into the parties, have divided into party lines.

"'I maintain that this ten years' experience has proved that women have become the tools of party leaders, just as men have. They have thought of parties rather than of issues.

Oscar Soderholm, Worcester, Mass., florist, has crossed a tomato and potato successfully by grafting. He calls the new hybrid "tomapotato." He started out with the theory that since a potato plant has stronger roots than a tomato, a tomato plant with potato roots should bear more heavily. He has only proven his theory correct, but his hybrid plant also is bearing potatoes underground. The plant grows as high as ten feet. Tomato seeds and pieces of potato are planted at the same time. When the stems of the plants are about the thickness of a lead pencil he grafts the tomato into the potato stem. Soderholm now is planning to do the same with cucumbers and Hubbard squash, to take advantage of the stronger roots of the squash to increase the production of cucumbers.
