NOW AND THEN

Misty Morning
From the Houston Post-Dispatch

I saw the gray mist lying
In folds across the bay,
And the west wind was trying
To blow the mist away,
But the mist was too heavy
And to the surface clung,
And it whipped the red faces
Of wayfarers and stung.

And then the west wind slackened,
And then the sun came out
And the gray mist was lifted
From all the bays about;
It changed from gray to gold and
Held all the rainbow hues
And trailed out in such scarfs as
We're told the fairies use.

"And many a misty morning
Brings forth a perfect day,"
Is a thing to remember
When grey mists hide the way;
The sorrows of the moment
Before they have grown old
May be transformed by loving
To scarfs of changing gold.
Judd Mortimer Lewis.

Among the 1890 fashions which are coming back again is the family album. As there is no longer space to hang the home pictures on the walls and my lady's toilet table is too full of beauty helps to give them room, the album loose leaved and minus red plush, has been revived. Now instead of bustles and rats we see portraits in sport suits, but what will they look like sixty years hence.

HOW TIMES DO CHANGE!

During a recent first showing of a movie in a Broadway theatre in New York, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and the Talmage sisters were present in person, and autograph collectors were crowding down the aisles toward the stage.

"Why don't you get the autograph of that white haired gentleman in the fifth row?" said a newspaper man to one of them.

"Who is he?" inquired the girl excitedly.

"Only General Pershing."

She smiled in mingled mirth and pity.

"Signatures of soldiers don't mean anything to us."

The Prince of Wales and Bobby Jones,
Out in the English weather,
Forgetting titles, crowns and thrones,
Are playing golf together.

Ye little Dukes, improve your play
And study how to do,
And you may golf some happy day
With the King of Putters, too.

Of all the mix ups in the city is day light saving where through trains run on standard and suburban trains on daylight saving time.

Going to the fair;

By others it is three."

Last Monday was a proud day for Kent when she showed to the visiting crowd how progressive she has grown in these days, by eliminating muddy roads and having fine driveways though her borders. We are hoping that the weather man will be kind.

Slogans have been found very effective in advertising. Recently they have been adopted with success by chambers of commerce in advertising their respective cities. San Francisco's slogan, "America's Coolest Summer City," is the means of attracting many tourists to that city every summer. Recently Knox, Indiana, very appropriately, adopted for its slogan "We Know Our Onions," as it is the center of the world's greatest onion growing district.

"Rich drinkers," says Senator Jones, of Washington, present one of prohibition's most baffling problems. He doesn't say who is baffled, but we take it for granted he means the drinkers. Drinking and staying rich in these days is the most b. p. that we can

SON OF KENT WOMAN WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Keith W. Johnson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Bertram Johnson, 411 N. Greenwood Stret, Eureka, Kansas, won first place in the Senior State High School Scholarship contest, which was sponsored by the Kansas State Teachers College of Emporia. Keith placed first among more than two hundred of the best students in the high schools of the State and won an award of $100 and if he chooses to attend the Emporia College he will receive an additional $60. He finished with a score of 470.56 out of a possible 500 points.

The ten students receiving the highest grades in this test received monetary awards ranging from $100 for first and $10 for the tenth ranking student. The funds are collected by a committee of which William Allan White, of Emporia, is the chairman.

On several previous occasions Keith has brought honors to Eureka High School by his scholastic ability. For the past four years he has represented it in the scholarship tests. He has won first in biology and in current history, second in physics, and also placed in algebra.

He has been out for football and basketball for the past two years. Also Keith has done a great deal of work other than school work and has saved quite a sum of money which he intends to use in acquiring a college education.

On Saturday, May 10, Keith represented Eureka in the Summerfield scholarship tests which entitle the winner to a four-year course at the University of Kansas with all expenses. Through the medium of the test given on that date and other tests which are to follow later, ten students will be selected from Kansas high schools for these scholarships. As the same group of boys who took the Emporia tests will take the Summerfield, every indication points that Keith should rank high in that test also.

Mrs. Johnson will be remembered as Elizabeth Whitaker of Galena.

HEALTH CENTER IN NEW QUARTERS

The Kent County Health Center is located in its new quarters which have recently been built adjoining the Voshell hotel on High street. The move was made this week due to insufficient room for the development of increased public health service in Kent county.

The new quarters contain offices for the Kent County Public Health Association, the county health officer, and the county health nurses; a room for eye, ear, nose and throat clinics, a fully equipped dental clinic and an addition in the rear for venerial clinics.

Starting September 1st, Kent County will have the services of a part-time dentist whi will conduct the dental clinic who will be equipped with portable dental equipment for visits to the schools.

The new health center is one of the most up-to-date centers in the state and will be under the direction of Dr. R. G. Beachley, full-time county health officer.

Submits Health Study

Dr. R. G. Beachley, with the assistance of Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, President of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce, has submitted a study of the health conditions in Kent county and the public health work carried on here to the Division of Public Health, Department of Public Welfare, General Federation of Women's Clubs. This organization each year conducts these contests for which prizes are awarded the state in which the largest number of health organizations complete the study and special recognition is given for the community submitting the most complete satisfactory report.

Last year the prize was awarded to the state of North Carolina.

JOY BOAT AT FREDERICKTOWN

LINER CONVERTED INTO RECREATION CENTER

The first real ocean liner ever to come up the Sassafras River is tied at the dock at Fredericktown. This large boat was procured by Captain Leyare, former owner of Leyare's Auction Boat which is well known in Chesapeake Bay waters. Captain Leyare is converting the boat into a floating carnival and when completed will be known as the largest chautauqua, Glad Boat, Theatre, Restaurant, and Club House afloat. At the present time the boat is equipped with a large dance floor.

The boat was built at Portland Oregan during the war and is 285 feet long, 45 feet beam and draws 11 feet of water. It is built of Oregan pine and has five decks containing 50,000 square feet of floor space. The armistice was signed before it was put in commission and it was brought to Baltimore and was tied up there until bought by Capt. Leyare.

Captain Leyare expects to bring the large ship to Chestertown later in the summer.

KENT'S SOILS CLASSIFIED

A valuable and welcome work has been begun in Kent County under the direction of the State and Federal Governments. The work is being done by Mr. H. B. Winant and John B. Bewley, both University of Maryland men. These men are making a survey of the soils and napping the areas where each series is found. The work makes possible more definite crop and fertilizer recommendations. The nature of both the surface soils and the subsoils will be recorded. The classification of Kent's soils in the light of mature knowledge and nation wide experience in soil mapping is a forward step that should mean much to farm owners, operators and prospective buyers.

ASK FOR FERRY FRANCHISE

A petition for a writ of mandamus was filed last week with the Circuit Court and an order obtained compelling the County Commissioners of Queen Anne's County to show cause why a franchise to operate a ferry line from Kent Island to the Western Shore should not be granted to the Bay Bridge Ferry Corporation.

The order was signed by Judge Lewin W. Wickes and a hearing will be held in Centreville at 10 a. m. Monday June 19.

The franchise asked for was to operate a ferry from Kent Island to Sandy Point in opposition to the new route of the Claybourn Annapolis Ferry Company from Kent Island to Annapolis

CRABS PLENTIFUL

With the first month of crabbing nearly over, reports reaching the Conservation Department indicate that a record number of crabs, both hard and soft shell, will be gathered this year, Swepson Earle, Conservation Commissioner, said last week.

Commercial crabbers in tidewater regions are finding it possible to average as high as $50 per day each.

"Years ago," he explained, "it was not uncommon for a crabber to make $100 a week catching the soft and shedder crabs in Tangier sound. From a reliable source today, the department has a report of a crabber receiving $300 in one week. He made as high as $90 in one day, I am told."

Large catches of both hard and soft shell crabs are being reported in Chester River.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam of Mrs. Catherine M. Potts who departed this life May 28, 1922.

We are so selfish about death. We count our grief
Far more than we consider their relief,
When the great Reaper gathers in the sheaf,
No more to know the season's constant change;

And we forget that it means only life.
Life with all joy. peace, rest and glory rife.
The victory won, and ended all the strife,
And Heaven no longer far away or strange.
By her daughter, Mary E. Thompson.

PLAN RURAL ROUTE CONSOLIDATION

According to the schedule as outlined by the Postoffice Department the six routes out of Chestertown will be consolidated into five routes after June 1st. The consolidating of rural routes has been taking place all over the country where there is a vacancy in a route carrier. The promotion of Mr. Fred S. Russell carrier on Route 4, to assistant Postmaster created a vacancy and the new schedule was ordered for April 1st.

The vigorous protest from patrons on rural routes out of Chestertown caused a postponement of the change to June 1st and Mr. Ridgely Brown has been serving route 4 as a temporary carrier.

Patrons are still protesting and it is rumored that the change will not go into effect June 1st, but no official word has been received by Postmaster Smith up to the time of going to press and unless word is received today the change of routes will take effect Monday. The new schedule will change the numbers on routes 5 and 6 to 4 and and 5 respectively and also divide the route 4 among four other routes.

MUSICAL A BIG HIT

Miss Louise B. Russell, is to be heatily congratulated on the Musicale she presented at Washington College on Tuesday. For balance and uniformity of excellence it exceeded any previous attempt. The large and enthusiastic audience heartily applauded the efforts of Miss Russell's piano students, while the visiting artists were given an ovation.

Amanda Ransdall Harman, violinist, an old favorite with local audiences played again a very difficult program. Her various numbers permitted the display of her brilliant techinique, superb tone and musical genius in its execution.

Earl B. Lippy, baritone, a Peabody student, charmed his hearers with the range and richness of his beautiful voice, presenting a group of numbers that exhibited the talent of an artist and bespeakes well for his future.

The cellist, Howard Mitchell, another Peabody student, presented in flawless style a mastery of this most difficult instrument, a varied program that held his listeners spell bound. His clarity of tone, exceptionaly true in the rendition of his numbers and wonderful execution stamp him as a coming artist of first magnitude.

Local pupils of Miss Russell who participated were: Misses Alice Marian Sterling, Katherine Titsworth, Mary Jo Wheatley, Evelyn Williams, Elizabeth Tibodeau Catherine Ayres, Mildred Covey. Messrs. Earl T. Willis and Robert Huey, Jr.

TO HOUSE FRESH AIR CHILDREN

A committee of local citizens under the direction of Miss Zella Newcomb, representative of the New York Herald Tribune, have organized for the purpose of finding hospitable homes in Chestertown, Fairlee, Rock Hall and Worton for two weeks during the summer for children who are sent out from New York City.

For more than half a century the Tribune Fund has been sending children from the sweltering tenements into the country and the pleasant "Friendly Towns" to which list our local communities are being added.

Some 400,000 children in New York City are condemned to live in crowded tenements, hemmed in by brick walls; their only playgrounds alleys filled with ash cans and decaying garbage or the traffic-crowded streets. Elevated trains rumble overhead and the air is thick with the exhaust gas of cars and motor trucks. Shops and push carts filled with cheap candies and highly colored drinks tease the pennies away from these children and lurid advertisements of picture shows stimulate their imagination. They never see a tree or a wild bird or a stretch of green lawn.

Last year the Tribune Fund sent about 17,000 children out of the city for a vacation of two weeks or more. 10,000 of them were the guests of private families in the "Friendly Towns." Easton entertained 42 of these children and Salisbury found homes for 70. Many of the other Eastern Shore towns took from 10 to 35. This is the first year organized effort has been mad to find homes for these little citizens of the crowded city in Chestertown, and its neighboring territory.

These children of the tenements are the future citizens of this country they will help make or break its laws. Our own children and these children face the problem of living together. The local organization feels sure Kent County will do its part to help them become better citizens and to give them better health and a royal good time as well.

Mrs. Thomas Massey who has been actnve in public health and social service work in Kent for a number of years has accepted the chairmanship of the organization with Mrs. Barclay Kilbourne as vice-chairman and Mrs. Nell C. Westcott secretary.

GALENA WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

WASHINGTON COLLEGE WINS OVER ST. MARY'S

Galena won the Kent County High School base ball championship on Friday afternoon of last week by defeating Chestertown in a well played game which was full of action.

The champions took an early lead which they kept through out the game although Chestertown scored seven runs in the eighth and ninth inning. Chestertown's four runs in the eighth inning were matched by five for Galena which put the game on ice.

Boyles on the mound for Galena allowed 13 hits but his team collected 15 hits from Falls pitching for Chestertown. Galena was charged with but 2 errors while Chestertown made 4. The game was played on the Kennedyville diamond.

While the high school game was in progress in Kennedyville, Washington College base ball team was busy taking the fast nine from Mt. St. Mary's in camp.

This game, which the locals won by a score of 4 to 1, was the last game of the season and closed a very successful season for the Kibler coached collegians.

The lacrosse team of Washington College lost to the strong team of New York University on Saturday by a score of 5 to 3 in New York. The locals players were trailing at the end of the half period by a score of 3 to 1 but tied the score in the early part of the second period. The New Yorkers added two more goals in the latter part of the game.

The local lacrosse team will meet Western Maryland at Westminster today which will wind up the season and from all accounts the two teams are almost evenly matched. Chief Beatty, coach of the Washington College Locrosse team has resigned from Washington faculty and his team will endeavor to make this last game a win.
