Oddities for Traveler to Observe in Hawaii

"Believe it or not," but Hawaii grows a variety of bananas whose fruit ripens within the trunk of the plant.

This was one of the verified assertions submitted in a "believe it or not" contest conducted by a Honolulu newspaper.

Other "believe it or nots" were:

Every word in the Hawaiian language ends with a vowel.

The smallest kingdom in the world once existed in the Hawaiian islands. The kingdom of Miloli, on the Napali coast of Kauai, a few hundred yards wide and a few miles long, was formerly inhabited by about 200 Hawaiians under their own king.

The water from a waterfall in Nuuanu valley never reaches the ground direct.

In Honolulu you can stand on dry pavement on one side of the street and see it rain on the other side.

The island of Moolikini, a little south of Maui, was lost by Hawaiian royalty in a poker game.

The nightingale of Kona is not a bird; it is a jackass.

The old Kaumakapili church in Honolulu was built with two steeples to carry out the wish of King Kalakaua.

Institute That Houses Millions of Microbes

The Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine, Chelsea, England, contains the largest collection of microbes in the world. They number some 1,500 different varieties growing in little glass tubes about five inches long, and though they look harmless enough, some amongst them would, if let loose and distributed, probably start an epidemic which might easily vie in deadliness with those recorded in the Middle ages. All these tiny organisms, the majority of which produce diseases of various kinds in human beings, animals and plants, require constant skilled attention much as do flowers and vegetables in an ordinary garden; while some are so delicate that they can only be bred successfully in incubators, corresponding to the hothouses of horticulturists.

Part of Lost Atlantis?

The five inhabited Scilly islands are St. Mary's, Tresco, St. Martin's, St. Agnes and Bryher. The capital is Hugh Town in St. Mary's. This, together with Star castle, dating back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, is situated on a sandy peninsula known as the Garrison. The town has a harbor, used by the Penzance steamers, and a roadstead where large vessels may lie at anchor.

The main industry of the islands is flower growing. The islands have figured in history at various times. Supposedly, they are all that is left of the lost continent Atlantis. Then some suppose they were the Cassiterides, or "Tin Islands" of the ancients. They are now part of the Duchy of Cornwall, thus belonging to the prince of Wales.

Home of Francis Drake in Small English Town

One of the rooms in the oldest house at Staines, England, the Knowle, where Sir Francis Drake lived for a time, has been stripped of some valuable wallpaper, which has been sold to a London antiques dealer. This paper, hand-painted with Chinese pictures, was prepared about 1730 by a famous Chinese artist, who came from Shanghai. Its removal from the wall involved a long and anxious process. After being dampened the paper was backed to prevent mishap, and then carefully peeled. Owing to cold weather the process was intermittent, and some days were spent before the paper was finally removed. The Knowle was for centuries in the possession of the Pellett family. It is a curiously-built house, almost surrounded by a low corridor, suggestive of a ship's alleyways, though the original architecture has been affected by later additions to the building. Sir Francis Drake, like other distinguished sailors, seems to have been a great lover of dogs, and placed tablets on the walls recording the loss of some of his pets.

GIVING AWAY LIQUOR ON ELECTION DAY

For the information of all persons concerned, the following Act of the Legislature, passed March 24th, 1896, is published:

AN ACT

Prohibiting the sale of Spirituous or Fermented Liquors in the counties or the State on the day of Election.

SECTION 1. Be is enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, that it shall not be lawful for the keeper of any hotel, tavern, store, drinking establishment, or any other place where liquor is sold, or any person or persons, directly or indirectly, of any kind, on the day of election hereinafter to be held in the several counties of the State.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That any person violating the provisions of this Act shall be liable to indictment by the Grand Jury of the county where such offense is committed, and shall, upon conviction before any judge of any of the Circuit Courts of the State, be fined a sum not less than fifty dollars for each and every offense; one-half the fine is paid to the informer and the other half to the County Commissioners for the use of the public roads.

Article 33 of the Code of Public General Laws, as amended by the Acts of 1900 and 1901, says:

Whoever, during the hours of registration, or revision of registration, or during the hours of election or canvas of votes or of making returns thereof in any precinct, shall bring, take, order or send into, shall or attempt to bring or take or send into any place of registration or of election any distilled or spiritous liquors, wine ale or beer, or, shall at any such time or place drink or partake of such liquors, shall upon conviction thereof be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than $100.
