OLD DOCTOR'S IDEA IS BIG HELP TO ELDERLY PEOPLE

In 1885, Dr. Caldwell made a discovery for which elderly people the world over praise him today!

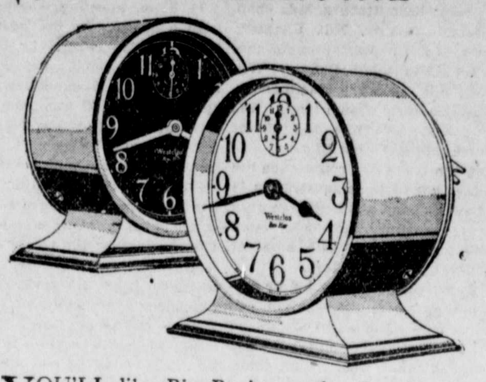

Years of practice convinced him that many people were endangering their health by a careless choice of laxatives. So he began a search for a harmless prescription which would be thoroughly effective, yet would neither gripe nor form any habit. At last he found it.

Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out of sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. It relieved the most obstinate cases, and yet was gentle with women, children and elderly people.

Today, this same famous, effective prescription, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the world's most popular laxative. It may be obtained from any drugstore.

Frenchman First to Get Idea of Sewing Machine?

France has celebrated the centenary of the invention by one of her citizens of the sewing machine. It is claimed that it was M. Barthelemy Thimonnier, a native of Arbresle, in the Rhone, who first conceived the idea of making a machine do the work of hand-driven needles, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph.

Thimonnier was a tailor, but, once he began to work on his idea, he became so engrossed in it that he neglected his own business to the point of ruin, and many of his neighbors roundly declared that he was a madman. He persevered in his experiments, which were the more difficult because he had not even an elementary knowledge of mechanics, and in 1830 took out his first patent.

An inspector of mines who happened to be visiting the region at that time realized the great potentiality of Thimonnier's invention, and installed him in a workshop in Paris.

Helium Production

The production of helium from natural gas in the United States for filling balloons and airships originated in the United States bureau of mines in the spring of 1917 just after this country entered the World war. Helium had been discovered as a constituent of natural gas in 1905 at the University of Kansas by Professor Cady and Doctor McFarland. It had been discovered in mineral substances by Sir William Ramsay as far back as 1895, and its properties were then studied sufficiently to demonstrate that if it could be obtained in sufficient quantity it would prove the ideal gas for balloons and airships on account of its extreme lightness and absolute inertness.

Odd Smallpox Cure

Voltaire, back in 1723, suffered from smallpox. He recovered after being in bed a month. To the father of a woman who was to play a great part in his life in the following 16 years, he made this optimistic report of the remedy which he is confident alone made possible his quick recovery.

"Smallpox is, in a simple form, merely the blood ridding itself of its impurities, and positively paves the way to more vigorous health.

"The doctor gave me emetics eight times, and made me drink a hundred pints of lemonade. This treatment, which you will think extraordinary, was the only one which could possibly have saved my life."—Detroit News.

Old English Castle

Lumley castle, near Chester-le-Street, England, it is thought, can establish its claim to be the oldest inhabited castle in the two counties of Northumberland and Durham. It was originally built as a manor house about 933, and continued as such for about four centuries. In the Fourteenth century Sir Ralph Lumley had the castle remodeled by building the four corner towers or keeps and connecting the building on all sides but the west. The castle has been in continuous occupation of the Lumley family ever since its original erection in the days of the Saxon kings.

Defenders of Jerusalem Worthy of Their Race

When Titus, son of Vespasian, soldier, emperor of Rome, after a long and exasperating siege, took Jerusalem, Mount Zion held out last of all against the legions. In spite of the efforts of Titus to save the splendid temple Herod had rebuilt and beautified, some recreant flung flaming torches into it and caused its utter destruction.

It seemed as though with it all hope of preserving their nation had vanished, and the remnant of the Jewish defenders of their city hurried across the bridge over the Tysopaeon gorge between Zion and Moriah, into the old city of David, and the ancient palace of their kings, where they put up a fierce resistance to the Romans until the last man was slain or wounded, and the buildings David had built, and others had added to, had fallen in ruins about them.

Diesel Engine

During the last decade of the Nineteenth century Dr. Rudolf Diesel of Leipzig brought out an internal combustion engine which involved in its operation a principle that had never before been applied in practical mechanics. Doctor Diesel understood the value of high compression and conceived the idea of mixing the fuel and air at the very moment when power is needed for the working stroke. He came to the conclusion that cheap, low-grade oils could be utilized as fuel if introduced into a highly heated charge of compressed air at the proper time. He enlisted the aid of manufacturers and after some experimentation brought out the most economical heat engine that had ever been produced.
