1. Do you favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment?

Answer yes . . . . . .

2. So long as the Eighteenth Amendment remains in effect, do you favor the repeal of the Volstead Act without re-enactment so that the control of the manufacture, sale and distribution of beverages shall be left to the government of each State under the concurrent power provided in the Eighteenth Amendment?

Answer yes . . . . . .

3. Do you favor the amendment of the Volstead Act so that, as long as that Act remains in effect, the manufacture and sale of beer and wine may be permitted in any State where a majority of the people desire it?

Answer yes . . . . . .

4. So long as the Volstead Act remains in effect, do you favor its amendment so that whiskey and high proof liquors may be made for medicinal purposes and be sold by pharmacists just as other medicines on physicians' prescriptions?

Answer yes . . . . . .

5. So long as the Volstead Act remains in effect, will you oppose the passage by the State of Maryland of (1) any State-wide legislation for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and (2) any local laws for that purpose covering any county or the City of Baltimore a majority of whose representatives in the Legislature are opposed to such legislation?

Answer yes . . . . . .

6. Do you favor submitting to the people of Maryland an amendment to the State Constitution permitting a referendum on laws relating to the manufacture and sale of liquor as on other laws?

Answer yes . . . . . .

Mayor Broening's speech before a wet hearing at Annapolis as reported in the Baltimore American of March 5, 1920. The American headlined the account of the hearing as follows:

"Wets' Onslaught Led by Broening

The portion of Mayor Broening's speech quoted in the article follows:

"We are here as individuals not representing any class. I am here today to represent my individual views.

"I believe that a mistake was made in placing the Prohibition Amendment in the Constitution. The Amendment does not declare what is an intoxicating beverage. It delegates to Congress and the Legislatures of the several states the power to act concurrently in passing an enforcement law.

"It is the duty of every law-abiding citizen to observe the law, but we have a right to ask for the repeal of the Volstead Act.

"This Legislature, in my opinion, has the right to enact a law that will define the amount of alcohol to be contained in a beverage.

"The sovereign rights of states should be protected."

(From The American Issue, Maryland-Delaware Edition, September 28, 1929)

"Who Will the Republicans Nominate for Governor?

"THE AMERICAN ISSUE and the Anti-Saloon League are not interested in partisan politics as such. Naturally, we are interested in having a governor nominated and elected who will support the Constitution of the United States and the laws enacted thereunder.

"There has been much said about Governor Ritchie for a fourth term and the fight that will be put up to prevent his nomination. We repeat—we are not concerned about the success of either party or any particular candidate. We cannot lose sight of the fact, however, that there is in Baltimore City, centered around the City Hall, a group who are anxious for the nomination of Mayor Broening. In recent months the Mayor has made no statement on the prohibition question. The Republican party is nationally committed to the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead law. The result of the election in Maryland when the counties overwhelmed the wet vote of Baltimore City and elected Senator Goldsborough over Mr. Bruce with the kind of record he made ought to be sufficient notice to the Republicans that they cannot switch about and maintain the confidence of the people. THE AMERICAN ISSUE is opposed to the nomination and election of any man for governor who has publicly stated that it was a mistake in placing the prohibition amendment in the Constitution and who insists that the state should have the right to deal with the liquor traffic alone. THE AMERICAN ISSUE certainly is opposed to the nomination of any candidate who in the last state campaign signed the wet questionnaire satisfactory to the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and who campaigned the state as an out-and-out wet candidate.

"We believe the time is here to say something of this kind to the people of Maryland. We realize, however, that many men have had a change of heart on prohibition, but THE AMERICAN ISSUE will not advise the support of any candidate who does not come out open and above board and take a stand along the high plane set by Governor Goldsborough in his fight for United States Senator in 1928."

(From a Prohibition Clip Sheet of the Early Summer)

"More political activity seems to be shown by Mayor Broening than by any other candidate of his party. It is true that Mr. Broening is what is known as a good mixer. He is one who does not take positive stands on many issues. We have searched his record on the prohibition question carefully. We find that at a wet hearing at Annapolis on March 4, 1920, he journeyed to the State Capital and was one of the speakers for the Anti-Prohibition forces. The leading headlines in the Baltimore American the next day were 'Wets' Onslaught Led By Broening; The Mayor Declares For Sovereign Rights of the State.' Mr. Broening said: 'We are here as individuals not representing any class. I am here today to represent my individual views. I believe that a mistake was made in placing the Prohibition Amendment in the Constitution.' This speech of Mr. Broening was about as thoroughly wet as anyone on that side could possibly ask.

"In 192[illegible] let it be remembered tha[illegible] Mr. Broening was the John Philip Hill candidate for Attorney General. Our friends must not forget that wet ticket headed by Mr. Hill and the fact that Mr. Broening was on tha[illegible] ticket and openly supported Mr. Hill. If Mr. Broening has had a change of heart on the prohibition questio[illegible] we do not know about it.

"We will welcome any information along this line that any of our friends may be able to get from M[illegible] Broening."

Through the 25th of October, 1930, Mayor Broening's candidacy for Governor of Maryland has not be[illegible] endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League.

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!
