HELEN JEPSON TO SING HERE

The Kent County Musical Association is very glad to announce that Miss Helen Jepson, of the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company, will be the Artist at its first concert to be given on January 20, 1931. She will bring her own accompanist for this engagement.

Miss Jepson delighted her audience in Chestertown last season, and the community will be happy to know of her coming again. She is scheduled to appear in the principal role in Pagliaccio, opposite John Charles Thomas, in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia this week, and will broadcast over the Columbia Network on November 21st.

Miss Jepson's fine natural talent was discovered four years ago while vacationing at Chautauqua, N. Y., and was offered a scholarship at the Curtis Institute of music, Philadelphia, where she has since pursued her studies..

The chorus will be assisted by Miss Jepson in one number when she will take the Obligato in the Italian Street Song, by Victor Herbert.

LOCAL MATTERS

—The opening cotillion of the Washington College Cotillion Club was held in the gymnasium on Friday evening. The Cotton Pickers orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

—A Hallowe'en costume dance will be held at the club house of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club tonight, Saturday.

—Two automobiles, one driven by Miss Margaret Stoops, and the other by Mr. Edward Wilkins were in a collision on the Quaker Neck road in front of the road gate of Mr. Leon Brown. The car driven by Miss Stoops was turned over and slightly damaged. No one was hurt.

—While reconditioning the home of Mr. W. F. Russell, Jr., on Washington Ave., as the result of a recent fire, a 35 ft. well was found under the back porch. The existance of the well was unknown to the owner of the house. The well was dry.

—The annual Hallowe'en pajama parade and bonfire at Washington College was held on Thursday evening.

PLAN BOAT SLIPS AT CLUB

PRESENT PIER TO BE ENLARGED WITH L HEAD

The Aquatic committee of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club and interested yachtsmen are considering a plan to build an L on the present pier making twelve permanent slips for twelve yachts.

The plans under consideration will extend the present pier thirty-five feet further out in the river and an L which will reach 200 feet down the river. The entire pier will have sheet piling and the boat slips will be built on the short side of the L.. This will make an ideal yacht basin.

Mr. John H. Baley, contractor, of St. Michaels, met with a number of yachtsmen yesterday to discuss the project.

If the plans are carried out this pier will be the most up-to-date piers on the Chester River and will be ideal for aquatic sports of all kinds. It will provide ample wharf space for regattas which was lacking during the affair this summer.

Regatta Held Here 1860

Mr.. John H. Bailey, of St. Michaels brought to Chestertown yesterday a silver loving cup which was won by his grandfather in a regatta held at Chestertown in 1860.

The inscription on the cup states that the cup was won in a Chesapeake Bay log sailing canoe race for canoes under 29 ft. waterline.. The name of the canoe was the War Eagle. Another cup in the possession of a resident of St. Michaels indicates that there were two regattas held at Chestertown that year.

The annual regattas held by the local club and the Miles River Yacht Club are a renewal of the friendly rivalry which has existed among boat owners in this section of Chesapeake bay for the past 100 years.

PERSONALS

Lieutenant and Mrs. Harry H. Derringer were week end guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Alice Derringer.

COUNTY-WIDE ACHIEVEMENT DAY

By Helen Skellinger Home Demonstration Agent

The Annual Fall Meeting of the Kent County Council for Home Demonstration Work was held on Wednesday with 125 women participating.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Walter T. Morris, with business meeting and recognition of Master Farm Homemakers, Mrs. L. A. Sutton 1928, Mrs. Wilbur Morris 1930, Mrs. Howard Rees 1930, Club Presidents, local leaders, Women who have attended Rural Women's Short Course Four years or more and Project Demonstrators.

A delicious lunch, planned according to all health rules, was served by the Guild of Emmanuel Church.

The afternoon program consisted of talks by Mrs. Harry T. Williams, State and County Community Chairman of the Farm Bureau; Miss Florence Mason, District Agent for the Eastern Shore, talked on the exhibits, which consisted of butter and sponge cakes, icings, biscuits muffins, a vegetable dish and poster.

1. The number of women participating.
2. The quality of the product.
3. Attractiveness of the exhibit.

Flatland placed first; Rock Hall second; and Galena third. Every exhibit had some first class product. Number 1 seemed to be the deciding factor.

Anyone who saw the difficulties Betterton overcome in getting to Chestertown appreciates what it means for the women from distances to take care of the family at home for the day, prepare their exhibit, drive 15 to 20 miles, place the exhibit by 11 o'clock in the morning. They were all pleasant and smiling.

All the Stunts and the Play were fine.

Personally, I thank everyone for their hearty cooperation in making October 29th, 1930, a success.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

MARTIN EDWARD NEWSOME

A Resolution adopted by the Chestertown Section of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce at the regular monthly session, October 23, 1930:

WHEREAS, an all wise Providence has taken from our midst a beloved fellow citizen Martin E. Newsome, and

WHEREAS, by his devotion to his city and county, Martin E. Newsome has exemplified the ideals of American citizenship, and,

WHEREAS, Martin E. Newsome served as president of the Chestertown Mercantile Section since January 1, 1930, and was a faithful member of the Section since its organization in 1927, and

WHEREAS, because of his devotion to the public welfare his time and talents were always cheerfully given to the service of his fellow man.

Therefore Be It Resolved, that this meeting of the Chestertown Mercantile Section of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce does extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their irreparable loss shared by our organization and the entire community.

Adopted this twenty-third day of October, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty, at Chestertown, Maryland.

OPEN SEASON FOR WILDFOWL

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, IS THE FIRST DAY FOR SHOOTING DUCKS IN KENT COUNTY

The State and Federal laws provide an open season for the hunting of wildfowl November 1st to January 31st, inclusive; however, the law prohibits the hunting or killing of swan and wood duck (summer duck) at any time.

It is unlawful to kill more than 15 wild ducks of all species and 4 wild geese in any one day; it is unlawful to have in possession more than 30 wild ducks and more than 8 wild geese at any one time.

It is unlawful to take out or ship out of Maryland any wildfowl except a licensed hunter of Maryand may take out as personal baggage two days' bag limit as provided by law but he must produce his hunting license when requested. .

It is unlawful to ship out of this State more than two days' bag limit in any one calendar week and in shipping wildfowl, same must be in the open, tied by head or feet and tagged accordingly, or, in a container slatted so that the birds are visible at all times.

It is unlawful to hunt at night time. The State law provides night time to be one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise the following day. The Federal law supersedes same and provides it to be unlawful to hunt between sunset and sunrise.

It is unlawful to hunt wildfowl from any boat of any description except sink box and bushwhack rigs are legal on the Susquehanna Flats, Monday, Wednesday and Friday during the months of November and December, and Saturday added during January.

It is unlawful to hunt wildfowl with a gun larger than No. 10 gauge fired from the shoulder.

It is unlawful to hunt wildfowl on the waters of the Chester River in Kent County below the Chester River Bridge at Chestertown on Tuesdays, Wednesday, Thursdays and Saturdays during November and December, except it shall be lawful to hunt wildfowl on Wednesdays in the month of December on the Chester River and its tributaries between Bay Bush Point on the Wicliffe Farm and Durdings Creek.

It is unlawful to hunt wildfowl in any section of Maryland on Sunday.

Due to the drought condition which has prevailed throughout Canada during 1929-30, reports from the Canadian authorities are to the effect that the sportsmen of Maryland must necessarily expect a decrease in the wildfowl supply for the season of 1930-31. This decrease will naturally cause more concentration of birds on watered areas such as are found along the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

Honorable Paul G. Redington, Chief of the Biological Survey, has issued an appeal to the sportsmen of this Country, requesting their co-operation and warning us that unless the sportsmen themselves assist in trying to save brood stock to return to Canada in the spring of 1931, drastic measures might have to be imposed for the following season. There is very strong sentiment on this Continent opposing the use of the automatic and pump gun, baiting of blinds, the use of live decoys, bitterly opposing pot-hunting by shooting wildfowl bedded on the waters in front of baited blinds and favoring the reduction of the open season.

We appeal to the sportsmen of Maryland to assist us in trying to further protect our wildfowl supply. Any female wild duck or wild yoose killed this coming season means less eggs for incubation during the prepagating season of 1931.

Therefore, Mr. Hunter, think of your fellow sportsmen. Your co-operation will undoubtedly help prelong your sport in future years.
