NEW OFFICIALS IN OFFICE MONDAY

Announcement was made this week that Miss Marion Caldwell, former Deputy Register of Wills, has been appointed Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners and will assume her new duties next Tuesday.

Miss Calwell has served as deputy Register of Willis for the past eight years and the vacancy in that office will be filled by Miss Miriam Smith, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith, of Chestertown.

Miss Caldwell will fill the position now occupied by Mr. William A. Wheatley, who succeeded Mr. John Medders to the office. This will be the first time in the history of the county that a lady has held the office of clerk to the Board of County Commissioners.

The newly elected county officials will assume their duties next Monday, December 1st, with the exception of the Treasurer's office where the change is made June 1st.

The Clerk's office is the only office in the Court House in which there will be no change in the personel. The new officials who will take office on Monday are Messrs. Samuel C. Loller and Leonard Wilson, Democrats who will succeed Messrs. Samuel J. Johnson and J. Ringgold Jones, Democrats, as County Commissioners. Dr. Frank Smith, Republican, will succeed Dr. Merritt Brice, Democratic, as Register of Wills, and Mr. John Vickers, , Republican, will succeed Mr. J. Thomas Hadaway as sheriff.

Dr. E. A. Scott, Mr. Henry Thompson and Mr. James Groves Democrats, were re-elected as Judges of the Orphans Court.

Mr. Robert A. Shallcross was re-elected Clerk of the Court and will retain the present personal in that office.

DISCUSS CHANGE IN TOWN CHARTER

The public meeting called by the Commissioners of Chestertown on Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing the advisability of making certain changes in the Charter of Chestertown, was well attended. The meeting was called as a result of a committee from the Mercantile Section of the Chamber of Commerce appearing before the commissioner recommending certain changes. Mr. E. Scott Thompson, opened the meeting and asked for nominations for a chairman. Upon the nomination by Mr. Alan A. Harris, Mr. W. B. Copper was elected and acted as chairman of the meeting and the recommendations of the above named committee were presented which was followed by an open discussion from the floor.

The recommendations included a change in the town government advocating the dividing of the town into four wards with a commissioner elected from each ward by the voters from each ward and a commissioner, to be known as Mayor, to be elected at large. Other recommendations included extending the town limits and a change in that section of the charter which determines who shall vote in the town elections.

The change in governemnt would give each section of the town a representative on the Board. The extension of the town limits would give the town the power to take in developed suburban sections. It was advocated that the Water Board be made part of the Town Board.

The last and most important recommendation is for the purpose of definitely settling the question of who shall vote in town elections. This question has always created considerable dissatisfaction on election day. It was advocated that Mr. A. S. Turner, Jr., presented the recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce. These recommendations were the result of an intensive study of charters of a large number of towns, and applying the best clauses to the needs of Chestertown. Mr. Turner also interviewed Dr. Flacke of Baltimore, an authority on the drawing up of town charters and who has drawn up Charters for Baltimore and most of the towns of Maryland.

The question as to whether only real estate owners be allowed to vote brought forth considerable discussion as did the question of extending the town limits. The latter question was explained by Mr. Marion Smith that it was advisable for the Town Board to have control of the developing new sections from a standpoint of straight streets, sewerage, water and drainage.

A motion was made by Mr. J. D. Bacchus and carried that the chairman appoint a committee of five to take the matter up with Dr. Flacke and prepare the changes and present them at a public meeting to be held at a future date.

Mr. W. B. Copper, chairman, appointed the following committee yesterday: Messrs. C. N. Satterfield, chairman, Marion deK. Smith, Jr., A. S. Turner, Jr., W. Ross Hubbard and R. Hynson Rogers.

NOW AND THEN

DAYS A-GROWING SHORTER

BY ALICE MATHEWS

Days a-growing shorter, longer too the nights,
Beautiful November this review invites,
God is in the glory everywhere we see,
More appreciative should we truly be!
Happier and better a little bigger too
Should our Souls a-growing every day all through
Be a-representing their good blossoming worth
As the winter solstice is a nearing Earth.
Days a-growing shorter—lisps November's sayer—
Beauty's crimson banners wave as skies get greyer,
Red and yellow flinging out their color-reels,
Drooping strength around us making last appeals.
Enthusiastic reaching one sees everywhere,
Play of light and shadow making hours fair—
Such is our November, yet who could rehearse
All its ripening beauty in imprisoned verse!

Be ye Thankful! A little bird was setting on a bough of a tree the other day almost splitting his little throat in an ecstacy of praise, and we thought "Why little bird there is not so much for you to be thankful for this year. The drouth has destroyed so much of the seed which you eat and the worms are way down in the ground this dry weather. So many of your little companions have died, too." But the little bird is like human beings. When they have little every extra blessings brings forth praise, but those who have an abundance very often forget to give thanks to the great giver of all good.

Such an interesting little book we have been reading lately, a book hard to read because it is hand written and the writing is very cramped, but it was telling of the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving in this country. After the first hard winter, they had a fine season for raising the fruits of the ground and with wild turkeys and venison in abundance they felt that it was only right to share their blessings with others. So they invited the neighboring Indians to feast with them. And such a feast as they did have! The Indians were so pleased at their entertainment that the Pilgrims had a hard time getting rid of their guests. They hung around the village for a long while, hoping to have just such a feast again.

Henry Ford now is a licensed hotel keeper. In his Wayside Inn, Sudbury, Mass., he has beds for travelers and serves meals. Now and then, Mr. Ford drops in to see how things are going. Here in the comfortable living room of the inn, in old days, sat Longfellow and his friends, talking late into the night with the landlord. In his "Tales of a Wayside Inn," the poet has the landlord telling the story of the midnight ride of Paul Revere.

Reading in the Papers that there was to be a Vesper concert up at the college last Sunday we went to hear it and was certainly delighted with the entertainment. Dr. Livingood is surely helping the music lovers by having them learn the classical music which is so appealing if one's ear is trained to appreciate. Selections from Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Handel, Shubert and Seredy, were all played well by the youthful band, and the glee clubs' songs were very pleasing. The only thing that was disappointing was that there was such a small audience to enjoy it.

Sir Thomas Lipton after losing the cup for the fifth time has proved himself such a good loser that he has won the hearts of his American opposers. They invited him over recently and presented him with a cup for being such a good sport.

The Lipton Cup

"Sir Thomas L.,
You lose so well,
Defeat but serves to make you splendid;
So here's a cup
With cheer filled up,
By admiration's hand extended.
Your boat came in
As just a chaser,
But still you win
The human race, Sir.

THANKSGIVING DAY

As far as we are able to learn Thanksgiving Day passed off quietly in Kent county. No automobile or other accidents have been reported.

Some of our citizens attended church, some went gunning, some visited friends and some spent the day at home. Business places were closed and the day was observed as a holiday.

—The thermometer reached a new low record of the season when it registered 14 degrees above zero Friday morning.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McIntire, of Chestertown, were given a reception by the official board and members of the M. E. Church on Wednesday afternoon in honor of the 56th anniversary of their marriage. They have been prominent and active members of this church for many years. Mr. McIntire conducted a grocery busines in Chestertown for many years but retired from active business some years ago. Mr. McIntire is well and favorably known throughout the county and enjoys the friendships of many citizens here.

They were presented with a purse of gold of $56, a dollar for each year of their wedded life.

REQUEST LANDING AT CLIFFS

At a meeting of the County Commissioners on Tuesday of this week a petition was presented, containing one hundred and fifty one signers requesting the Commissioners to purchase a small tract of land for a landing at Cliff City. It is understood that the present county landing at Cliff City is too small to handle the small boats that use it.

The Commissioners appointed a commission composed of Messrs. M. deK. Smith, Jr., Robert L. Kirby and Frank Cranor to study the needs of that community and if the demand is sufficient, to lay down a public landing of sufficient size and in such place to best serve the public.

FISH NET HEARING WELL ATTENDED

The hearing held at Rock Hall on Wednesday evening of this week by the Army Engineering Dept. for the purpose of hearing arguments for and against the anchoring of nets in the vicinity of Tolchester, Rock Hall and Love Point, from a standpoint of navigation.

A report of the meeting stated that the only objection presented at the meeting was from up-the-bay fisherman and was based on a standpoint of fishing rather than navigation.

Mr. Herman Jacobs, president of the Waterman's Protective Association, presided at the meeting and the Army Engineering Dept. was represented by Colonel Warren T. Hannum. The meeting was largely attended by watermen interested in the project.

Colonel Hannum stated that his department would render a decision today, Saturday.

C. H. S. IN SEMI-FINALS

WILL MEET OXFORD FOR SHORE TITLE

The Chestertown High Soccer team stepped into the Shore finals on Wednesday of this week when they defeated Greensboro at Centreville by a score of 6 to 0.

The first half ended 0 to 0 but the local team seems to have the ability to come thru in the second half and on Wednesday they accumulated 6 points in this period. This victory makes the locals champions of the northern section of the Eastern Shore and they will meet Oxford, champions of the southern section next Friday, December 5th, for the championship of the Shore. The winner of this game will play the Western Shore Champions on December 13th.

Chestertown won the first intercounty game from Elkton at Chesapeake City last Friday 11 to 2. The first half of this game ended with Elkton leading 2 to 0. In the second half the locals accumulated 11 points and held Elkton secreless. Joseph Russell, former High School athlete, is coaching the Chestertown team.

THREE FIRES THANKSGIVING DAY

Following three week of inactivity among the fire fighters of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., three calls on Thanksgiving Day kept the local firemen busy.

The first call came at 11.30 a. m. from the farm of Mr. Irving W. Walker when the tenant house, occupied by Wm. H. Elliott, colored, caught fire from the kitchen chimney. The fire spread rapidly and when firemen arrived on the scene the house was in flames. The house was a total loss, covered by insurance.

The second call came from the house on the farm of Mr. Frank Jarrell in Morgnec, occupjied by Mr. Russell Post. A spark from the chimney had set fire to the roof but the occupants of the house extinguished the fire before the firemen arrived. As the fire truck was returning to the fire house the alarm sounded again for a rubbish fire in the jail yard which was extinguished with the booster system from two fire trucks.

Working on the superstititon of three fire together, firemen felt relieved when they returne dto the fire house from the third alarm.

—Fine pictures all next week at the New Lyceum Theatre.

SPORTS OF WEEK

NOTRE DAME DOWNS NORTHWESTERN—ARMY TO PLAY RAMBLERS TODAY—MT. ST. MARYS DEFEATS WASHINGTON— YALE LOSES—OTHER SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

BY POLK T. BRAMBLE

Harvard and Yale, unable to win from any other teams of any standing, had to play each other in order win a victory, which Harvard succeeded in doing last Saturday, 14-0.

Although Northwestern outplayed Notre Dame Saturday during the first half, it takes two halves to complete a foot ball game, and Notre Dame outsmarted the former team and won 13-0.

Army and Notre Dame play today at Soldiers Field, Chicago, before the biggest crowd of the year. Notre Dame is picked to win the game.

The Freshmen and the Sophomores played a scoreless tie on Washington Field Tuesday, before a big crowd. Neither team showed a great deal of knowledge of the game, but the contest, as usual, was hard-fought and interesting.

Billy Petrolle hammered Jimmy McLarnen to pieces in New York on Monday night in the biggest upset of the year.

One of the big games of the year will be played in Philadelphia today when Washington State, champion of the Pacific Coast, will play the Villa Nova team. Washington will perhaps win, but Villa Nova always has teams but that play the game for everything in it

Washington College closed its football season Saturday at Emmitsburg, when Mt. St. Mary's defeated them 45-6. Sweeping end runs and long forward passes were the principal assets in Mount St. Mary's attack, the visitors offering a very weak defense to check these two styles of play..

The Mountaineers started scoring in the first session on a brilliant end run by Mattia. Connell failed to make the extra point. The local collegians put over three touchdowns in the second period by a series of long and runs coupled with some very clever forward passing.

The Malloynen showed much aggressiveness in this period and pulled several puzzling plays that completely baffled the Washington College outfit.

While there were several thrilling plays during the game, especially by the aerial route, it was left to Hopkins, a wing man for the Mountain team, to bring the crowd to its feet. On the opening kickoff of the third period, Hopkins caught the ball and ran through the entire Washington team for a 75-yard run to a touch-down.

The Washington College score came in the middle of the fourth period with a well-executed forward pass, Reinhold to Robinson, who after snatching the ball from the air got away for a 25-yard run for a touch down.

The national list of unbeaten and untied football teams has been cut to nine.

Three elevens fell by the wayside over the week end, Rose Poly losing to Indiana State Normal Friday night and Northwestern to Notre Dame Saturday, while Western Maryland was held to a tie by Albright.

Although topped by four smaller colleges, the real leaders are Alabama, Washington State and Notre Dame, with Utah only a step behind.

The list, as compiled by the Associated Press, follows:

College	Won.	Points.	Opp. Points
Mount Morris	8	249	25
Oklahoma City	9	239	42
St. Olaf	8	203	32
Heidelberg	8	294	20
Alabama	8	234	13
Notre Dame	8	231	68
Washinfton State	8	205	20
Utah	7	299	20
Tulsa	6	124	12

The east could boast not one college football team neither beaten nor tied today. The last to surrender was Western Maryland which could get no better than a tie with Albright last Saturdey.

With Western Maryland's fall, the Army went into the eastern lead with eight victories and one tie so far, but with a game with Notre Dame just ahead. Dartmouth and Western Maryland were in deadlock for runner-up position with seven victories and a tie. All other eastern teams have suffered at least one defeat.

Colgate's Score Highest

In total points, Colgate, although idle, easily retained its lead with 349. Dartmouth was second with 294 and Cornell third with 260. Defensively Western Maryland led the list with 14 points against while the Army was just behind with 15.

LACKED EXPRESSION

Grandma—Doesn't that little boy swear terribly?"

Little Grandson—"Yes'm; he sure does. He don't put no expression in it at all."

TUBERCULAR CHRISTMAS SEALS

Tuberculosis Christmas Seals remind us of the approaching holiday season with it's joy, happiness and spirit of free giving. This Thanksgiving Day marks their twenty-fourth annual appearance in Maryland and throughout the United States, in the quest for funds with which to prevent and combat tuberculosis. The Seal Sale is sponsored in Maryland by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

Christmas Seals also remind us that 1692 Marylanders last year died from tuberculosis, of this number 830 were residents of the Counties of Maryland. Medical authorities estimated that there are approximately nine active cases for each death recorded, which indicates that at present there are more than 15,000 cases of tuberculosis in Maryland today, and of this number more than 7400 are residents of the counties.

Since the first Christmas Seal appeared in 1907 the death rate from tuberculosis in Maryland has been cut by approximately sixty per cent. Nevertheless, tuberculosis still reigns as the leading cause of death between the ages of fifteen and forty, or the ages of greatest production. Christmas Seals prevent and combat tuberculosis in Maryland by helping to support the "Miracle House" which is maintained at Claiborne, Maryland, State-wide Chest Clinics, Nursing Service, Health Education, Industrial Work, and Medical Research.

RABBIT FEVER REPORTED IN STATE

BE CAREFUL IN HANDLING OR SKINNING WILD RABBITS

Within a week after the opening of the hunting season, the first of this season's cases of tularemia—rabbit fever, as it is usually called—was reported to the Bureau of Communicable Diseases of the State Department of Health. A bulletin on rabbit fever, issued by the State Department of Health, shows that the disease is usually contracted either in handling or skinning infected rabbits, or through the bite of disease-carrying ticks and other insects. In addition to the Wild rabbits, other animals that are susceptible to it include hares, squirrels, chipmunks opossum and wood chuck. In some sections of the country it has also been found in some species of game birds.

The disease is spread from animal by the bite of infected insects especially the rabbit tick and the wood tick.

The presence of the disease in animals that are being skinned or exposed for sale may be detected by a characteristic speckled appearance of the liver and spleen which are dotted with white or yellowish spots ranging in size from a pin point to others much more noticeable. In human being the infection may be picked up through a scratch or break in the skin. It may also be contracted by rubbing the face or eyes with the hands after they have touched infected material. The use of rubber gloves by persons in skinning rabbits or preparing them for the table is accordingly advised.

The disease is usually accompanied by a typhoid-like fever of two or three weeks duration, accompanied by great prostration with long, slow convalescence. The attack often starts with a severe chill, and with other symptoms similar to grippe. In many cases an ulcer develops at the site of the infection with marked enlargement of the glands that drain the ulcer. The diagnosis may be confirmed by blood test and should suspected cases occur in the counties of Maryland, the laboratory of the State Department of Health s prepared to make the necessary tests and will do so at the request of the State Department of Health is prepared to make the necessary tests and will do so at the request of the family physician or the Health Officer.

Tularemia was made reportable in Maryland three years ago. Eleven cases were reported in the State in 1928, and 23 in 1929. Of those reported in 1928, 6 occurred in the counties and 5 in Baltimore City. Of those reported last year, 13 occurred in the counties and 10 in Baltimore City.

Tularemia occurs principally among wild rabbits. It has not been found in rabbits raised in rabitries. Thoroughly cooked rabbit is accordingly harmless.

Henry Barrett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barrett, of Whiteford, Md., was killed enstantly on Thursday, November 13, when he touched a power line carrying 6,600 volts which dangled across his path a few feet from the ground.

The water question at Chesapeake City, has become such a serious one, due to the long drought this year, and the Town Council feels the necessity that some action should be taken looking to future needs. For that reason a public meeting was called for Monday night, to discuss the advisability of installing a town's water system.
