THANK YOU For 1930

A Message From Jefferson to His Patrons

Working against the trend of Business we have been able with your cooperation, to show a little progress in a year when merely to hold one's own has been quite a feat.

And so as the year fades out, we extend to all of our customers and friends, both old and new, our sincere thanks for the generous support that made 1930 possible. And we pledge ourselves to maintain for your express benefit a store of better quality and values, and to continue the co-operation and service that will help make 1931 a profitable year for all.

DRECO Ended His Troubles

Ill health forced Mr. Fred L. Anderson to stay home from work

Mr. Fred L. Anderson

"My stomach was in a very bad shape," said Mr. Fred L. Anderson of 144 3rd St., Morgantown, W. Va. "My stomach simply refused to digest food and my appetite dwindled away until I was hardly eating a thing. In fact I felt so badly I was forced to stay home from work.

"I thank the day that I started on the Dreco treatment, for it went to the root of my troubles and now I am working every day."

World Pays Tribute at Shrine of Bobby Burns

Many places have been "made" by the genius of a great writer. Scott has done more for the tourist agencies and the railways of England than any of his countrymen, because his range was so wide. He discovered the Trossachs and Loch Katrine, and even made the Peak of Derbyshire world-famous. But there are no more hallowed spots than those which dot the Burns country.

The country town of Ayr lies in the center of a fine sandy coast, with wonderful sea view across the great firth. There is no house in the kingdom, no palace or castle or great mansion, that has half the attraction for the world as the little thatched biggin at Alloway where Robert Burns was born. In its visitors' book are inscribed the names of men and women famous in literature, art and statecraft, the names of peers and peasants and of kings, all come to worship at the shrine of genius.

Close by is the Auld Brig o' Doon, leaping in a single gray and graceful span the little stream whose name has gone round the world. Close by, too, is the haunted kirk, where Tam o' Shanter saw witches and warlocks holding revelry in its churchyard. In the town itself can still be seen the Auld Brig of Ayr, the theme of one of his finest poems, whilst the river Ayr is forever associated with the ode.

Twins in Class Mean Trouble for Teacher

"Twins," complained the young teacher; "they're more trouble! It's fun for them, but for us—"

There were Evelyn and Elinor, for instance, small twins, whose great similarity was the despair of the young kindergarten teacher. If only their mother would dress them differently or put some distinguishing mark on them! Should she ask them in the morning which was which and put labels on them? Or what should she do? They were adorable, blue-eyed, fair children with soft, light hair. If only the hair of one were straight and the other curly! But, no; even their ringlets were exactly alike. What should she do?

One morning they came to school and, O, joy! One had a tooth out, right in the middle of her upper jaw! The teacher ascertained that the lacking tooth was from Elinor's set of pearls. Now her problem was solved and when she looked at Elinor and called her by name Elinor, and not Evelyn, would answer. One less worry, she rejoiced.

But the next morning when they appeared each child was minus a tooth and each gap was right in the middle of the upper jaw!—New York Sun.

Windsor Chairs

Should you have a Windsor chair, writes Catherine Shellabarger in the Brooklyn Eagle Magazine, remember it was brought into vogue by King George I of England. King George, talking to one of his farmer subjects, admired the humble seat on which he sat, the back of which was made of slender spindles. He thought so much of the chair that he ordered a set made for his palace at Windsor and so established the popularity of the Windsor chair. Among famous Americans who were partial to Windsor chairs was Thomas Jefferson. On this chair, with wide arms that served as a writing desk, and which also had a double seat, he is said to have written the first draft of the Declaration of Independence.

English Poppy Fields

The poppies not only bloom in Flander's fields. There is a great poppyland in England. Right beside the cold North sea, stretching for miles and miles between and about ruined church tower and ancient manor house, encircling the villages about the Norfolk broads and near to the city of Norwich, you will find the warm colors which would make a Californian envious. It has been called the Holland of England, for it has inland seas, windmills, dykes and poppies. This great poppyland, like others that we know, is in the most restful sense, the most charming sense, a garden of sleep and its silent fields and fens are beautiful.

Division of Virginia

The social conditions in western Virginia were entirely unlike those existing in the eastern portion of the state. The rugged nature of the country made slavery unprofitable, but as time wore on the social, political, and economic differences between the eastern and western parts, that were then Virginia, became more pronounced. In 1776 a petition was presented to congress for the establishment of "Westsylvania" on the ground that the mountains made an almost impassable barrier between the west and the east. The Civil war finally furnished the occasion for separation of West Virginia from Virginia.

Spider Has Well Been Called Natural Marvel

It is agreed by scientists that the spider is supreme in cunning, ruthless ferocity, inventiveness and courage. Careful study of various kinds of spiders has shown an intelligence that leaves mankind amazed, and their engineering skill and inventive ability is far greater than that of the average human.

A silken thread spun by a spider is often as thin as thirty-two millionths of an inch in diameter. If it were enlarged two thousand times it would be as big as an ordinary horsehair. Human hair enlarged the same number of times is six and a half inches in diameter. With this transparent wisp of line, spiders are able to bind animals several thousand times bigger than themselves, for they attack tadpoles, frogs, lizards and bats.

A small ringed snake, nine inches long, was found trapped by a spider. The spider, its body hardly bigger than a good-sized pea, had spun a web in the form of an inverted cone, from the top of which hung a silken cable. The snake was suspended by this cable still alive, its mouth muzzled with multiple strands of web and its tail tied by silken cord.—London Tit-Bits.

Something Lost When "Family Dinners" Went

This country should revive the fine old custom of having family dinners, when the extension table was pulled out to its limit, relatives or neighbors invited, and a dinner fit for a king served. An appeal for a revival of the art of eating was made at recent convention of grocers in New York.

The family dinner social custom flourished in the pioneer days. In the modern day of rush and hurry it has lost out. It is too easy to telephone the restaurant and order a dinner for a certain hour.

Most people can recall family dinners where joy reigned and sweet domestic peace was all about. They helped make the home the most popular place known to members of the family, helped build up family life and agreeble understanding. The family dinner has a place all its own and it might be revived with good results.—Ohio State Journal.

Foundation's Purpose

The Judge Baker foundation was incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts on April 26, 1917, "for the purpose of promoting the better understanding of juvenile delinquents which admit of desirable development and the ways and means by which to develop them, establishing and maintaining a clinic, medical, psychological or other kind, which shall study, examine and make diagnoses, prognoses and reports on juvenile delinquents." The foundation aims to carry on civic and educational purposes, thereby establishing and maintaining a living memorial to Harvey Humphrey Baker, first justice of the Boston Juvenile court.

Curious Cockpit Country

The "cockpit" country is known only to those who have taken a West Indies cruise and not all of those. It means a trip to Jamaica and a journey when there to Balaclava and the glades of the Black river, Jamaica's longest navigable stream, famous for its dye woods and alligators. Between Appleton and Breadnut valley you will see a number of lovely waterfalls and at Ipswich, about 90 miles from Kingston, the Cockpit country begins, a land of conical limestone hills, banana-laden glades. It is a region never fully explored and the Maroons had their fastnesses here in the days of runaway negro adventures.

Early "Dictionaries"

Before there was a dictionary, people literally "did without." Over 2,500 years ago the Assyrians had one of their languages pressed in cuneiform characters on clay tablets. One authority says: "The Arabians, the Greeks, and the Romans, too, compiled dictionaries; they did not make any attempt at giving all the words of a language, but contented themselves with listing rare or difficult words." Lexicons were a development of the Middle ages. The first English dictionary which aimed at completeness was that of Nathan Bailey, published in 1721 and called the "Universal Etymological English Dictionary."

The Old Mohawk Church

The old Mohawk church, the oldest Protestant church in Ontario, is on the Six Nations' reserve near Brantford, Ontario. The grave of Chief Joseph Brant is alongside its walls, and the church is proud of the silver communion service and Bible presented by Queen Anne. The service is inscribed: "The gift of Her Majesty Anne, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, and Her Plantations in North America, Queen, to Her Indian Chapel of the Mohawks, 1712." The church is a popular mecca for tourists.

How Dog Saved Master's Life

How a wolfhound saved the life of its owner, a shepherd known as Deston, is reported from Phalsbourg, France. When Deston was caught in the current of a stream the dog ran to a road and by barking, induced a butcher riding by on a bicycle to leave his wheel and follow the animal to his master, who was found, almost unconscious clinging to a tree.

How to Use Lightning Rods

Properly installed systems of lightning rods greatly reduce if not entirely eliminate losses from lightning, advises Successful Farming. Aerials should be located on the highest portion of a structure and spaced not more than 20 feet apart along the ridge of a building.

How "Panic" Originated

This word is derived from Pan, the Greek god of the hills and woods and flocks and herds. He is represented in mythology as horned, goat-footed, playing his pipes. When he suddenly appeared he excited an overwhelming and irrational fear. Hence "panic."

How Hungary Fights Suicide

The Hungarian government plans to establish suicide homes throughout Hungary, where those who contemplate self-murder, or who have tried and failed, may obtain moral and material support for starting life again.

FAMILY DOCTOR LEARNED THIS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

Dr. Caldwell loved people. His years of practice convinced him many were ruining their health by careless selection of laxatives. He determined to write a harmless prescription which would get at the cause of constipation, and correct it.

Today, the prescription he wrote in 1885 is the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. In thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness and lack of appetite or energy showed the bowels of men, women and children were sluggish. It proved successful in even the most obstinate cases; old folks liked it for it never gripes; children liked its pleasant taste. All drugstores today have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in bottles.

WHEN BABIES FRET THERE are times when a baby is too fretful or feverish to be sung to sleep. There are some pains a mother cannot pat away. But there's quick comfort in Castoria!

For diarrhea, and other infantile ills, give this pure vegetable preparation. Whenever coated tongues tell of constipation; whenever there's any sign of sluggishness. Castoria has a good taste; children love to take it. Buy the genuine—with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on wrapper.
