"WHOOPEE" TO BE AT NEW LYCEUM HERE

Played Long Run On New York Stage

The greatest names of stage and screen combine in the widely-heralded production of "Whoopee", the Samuel Goldwyn-Florenz Ziegfeld musical riot which comes to the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, January 16 and 17, with a special matinee on Saturday at 2:30. Its sponsors are respectively the greatest pioneer of the motion picture in America and the musical comedy king of the American stage. Its star, Eddie Cantor, is known wherever there are theatres as a comic artist of genius. In its stage form, produced by Mr. Ziegfeld in New York, with Cantor in the lead, it ran over a year and a half.

Included in its cast are Eleanor Hunt, the red-haired beauty whom Samuel Goldwyn considers one of his greatest finds, Dorothy Knapp, famed "most beautiful girl in the world." Paul Gregory, $25,000 tenor, Ethel Shutta, and such famous Ziegfeld glorified girls as Jeanne Morgan, Murial Finley and Virginia Bruce. Thornton Freeland, brilliant young director who is known as one of the fastest rising people of Hollywood, directed this picture.

The stage production of "Whoopee" made New York gasp by its lavish beauty. In the freer medium of the talking screen, "Whoopee" has outdone even its stage incarnation. Such internationally famous beauty spots as Zion National Park furnished the backgrounds for the outdoor scenes. All the technical brilliance of the Goldwyn and Ziegfeld staffs combined were used to make each detail breath-taking in loveliness. Scores of beautiful girls selected from among five thousand applicants by Mr. Goldwyn and Mr. Ziegfeld personally the expenditure of nearly two million dollars, and months of careful preparation make "Whoopee" mark a new era in pictures spectacle. Color is used lavishly throughout to enrich these unparalleled effects.

Seventy-four changes of scene, 512 different changes of costume, scenes in which four and five hundred people were concerned, are figures which give some idea of the scale with which the Goldwyn-Ziegfeld combination have gone about bringing the fruit of their different experiences into focus for this one picture.

NOW AND THEN

HAPPY NEW YEAR

BY ALICE MATHEWS

Here's a verse I would pen jolly
Crowning it with festive holly
Singing it with cheerful sound
Decking it with gladness round.

Happy New Year I'd express
At my first month's short address.
Penning it direct to you
Wishing every day all through.

All the coming months may bring
You love's bagpipe-joy to sing
Of the plenteous harvest found
On your homing plot of ground.

Goodly meats and cheering wine,
Faces with an inward shine,
Eyes reflecting love's own glow,
All the Year I'd have yo uknow.

Through the holidays, and then
I'll take up my pen again
To continue by my hearth
Wintry songs of cheery mirth.

We were watching a little fair haired child last Sunday. She had come to church for the first time, the Christmas dressing, the Epiphany Star and the music absorbed her. As the communion service began her teacher wanted ot take her out, but no, she would not go; listening and looking in the same absorbed manner. When the service was over she placed her hand in her teacher, and said, "When do we go to Heaven?"

It is pleasant to think that when winter comes, the birds have a real sanetuary down in the warmer climates; that there is a place for them where neither dog nor gun is allowed, and a lovely carillon tower is built for their especial benefit. Edward Bok, who left this estate to the birds must have loved them just as much as he did his gardens. On the Carrilon this verse is carved in bold letters:

The kiss of the Sun for pardon,
The song of the birds for mirth,
One is nearer God's heart in a garden,
Than any place else on earth.

We are glad indeed, to know that the busy secretary is to have a sojourn in the sunny land of Florida ,the land of flowers.

We hope that she will leave behind her all cares, domestic and "Commercial" and, will not be relieved of her baggage as some others have been.

The most beautiful building in the world is located at Agra, India. The Taj Maha., "a dream in marble," was built in 1648 by Mogul Emperor Shah Jehan as a tomb for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, beloved of all the people of India. It is known in every quarter of the earth as the most nearly perfect piece of architecture. The city of Agra is situated 843 miles by rail from Calcutta, and 839 from Bombay, and was the ancient capital of all Indi.a

The present wealth of the ex-Kaiser of Germany is estimated by experts to be about $103,200,000. Nearly one-half of this amount is represented by landed property. Final settlement was made by the Prussian state with the Hohenzollerns in 1925. Values of real estate in Germany have risen in recent years, and if the ex-Kaiser's holdings were sold today, they might bring much more than they were worth at the time of the settlement.

Puzzle of the Ages

From the Washington Star

The tariff question seem to be
The one interrogation
Which causes men to disagree
In every age and nation.
To free the problem from all doubt
Would need a necromancer,
For every time you work it out
You get a different answer.

So many times when things go along so smoothly, we forget to remember the one who has made such pleasant and profitable things possible. Only a real leader is able to accomplish this. It is no small thing to turn one's home over to the use of the community. Mrs. White has done this for the past three years and has been present at every meeting held by the Club.

Fairlee Club Meets

Again on Friday evening, January 2nd, the Fairlee Women's Club met at Mrs. White's for their Christmas party.

The dinner of roast turkey, stuffing, candied sweets, hominy, cranberries, cole slaw, rolls, biscuits, butter, pineapple jello with custard sauce, and coffee was planned and served by Mrs. Stockton Startt, a most efficient chairman, with Mrs. Daisy Reinhart, Mrs. A. E. Nicholson, Miss Francis Morris, Mrs. Samuel Emory and Mrs. Robert Moffett, Jr. The fact that they served sixty-five persons at one time shows the cooperation that existed.

FIND STOLEN MONEY IN RIVER

Messrs. Wm. J. Smith, Benjamin Hessy and Harold Newton, of the local State Roads force, were doing some repair work on the north side of the Bohemia River bridge last Saturday when Mr. Smith saw a package frozen in the ice. He asked one of the workmen to hand it to him. The outside of the package was marked Dover Trust Co., Hartley, Delaware, and an examination showed that it contained a large sum of money.

Through Mr. Callahan, bridge tender, the bank authorities were notified and in a short time the cashier and a detective arrived at the bridge and identified the package and its contents.

It contained $2,215 in currency, among which was five $100 bills and the remainder was in $50, $10, $20 and $1 bills. It also contained a number of checks and notes, one check for $4900.

The attention of the cashier was called by Mr. Hessy to another package on the other side of the bridge which was on the bottom but could be seen through the ice. Upon the request of the cashier, Mr. Hessy borrowed a boat and after considerable work broke his way through the ice to the spot and secured the package which contained valuable bonds and securities. The empty cash drawer and acetelene tank and a greasy paid of kid gloves was also found in the river.

Mr. Callahan stated that the package containing the $2215 in cash had been laying on the ice since Wednesday morning.

The acetelene tank was stolen from Mr. Russell Kelly, formerly of Chestertown, an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad shortly before the Hartley bank was robbed. The robbers had evidently come into Maryland after robbing the bank, to cover up their escape. $2300 in cash is still missing.

It is thought that the three men who found the money will receive a reward from the bank and Insurance Company who had insured the money which was stolen.
