Odd Rites to Overcome Spite Work of Fairies

"A generation ago Shetlanders were extremely superstitious," writes a contributor to a London weekly paper. "They believed firmly that fairies existed, on the whole friendly to mortals, yet quick to punish any slight, the punishment being usually some ailment. Once, when a child, I ceased to thrive, and a servant persuaded my parents to take me to her home for a change. There was a concealed purpose, however. She believed that the fairies, having some grievance against our house, had stolen my heart, and near her home was a wise woman who held the secret of working cures when anyone was 'hurt from the hills.'

"The details of the rites used are forgotten, but the main features are vital. A lock of my hair was put into a Bible, which was placed on my head, on the Bible was set a dish of water into which, through the scissors already used, molten lead was poured. A piece of this lead shaped like a heart was selected, and blessed, and each morning part of it was scraped into my porridge. Thus the stolen heart was supposed to be restored. It must have worked in my case, as I have reached a hale old age."

Simple Explanation of Youngster's Well-Being

While the town of Arden was celebrating its thirtieth anniversary as a single-tax colony, old timers retold a story on Upton Sinclair, the writer, who at one time was a resident of the colony.

At that time he was writing diet articles for the magazines and trying out his theories on his son Davey. He boasted how well Davey was getting along on a diet of nuts and, as a matter of fact, Davey seemed to be getting along very well indeed.

Davey was a great demonstration of his father's theories, the proof of the pudding, as it were. Also, Davey was discretion itself. His noted father never guessed that always, at meal time, the lad dropped in at a neighbor's.

He would gaze with wide, sad eyes at the substantial fare and always the kind neighbor relented and Davey got a square meal which in no way interfered with the writings of his father.—Los Angeles Sunday Times.

Parade of Mighty Midgets

As numerous and small as are the molecules, they are not a circumstance to the atom; and the atoms in turn are far outnumbered by the electrons. Take an ordinary 25-watt incandescent lamp and let us visualize for you, if we can, the number of electrons that must pass through the filament of that lamp every second to provide the necessary current. First let us imagine each electron enlarged to the size of a raindrop, about two-tenths of an inch in diameter. Then imagine the electrons extending in a row, one behind the other, and a thousand rows placed side by side, so that they would pass before us, like an army, a thousand abreast, it would reach from the earth to the sun 25 times.

Odd Oriental Tastes

Koreans, like many Orientals, live mostly on rice. They cook their seaweed in oil and serve it with slices of red peppers. Kimshee, a kind of sauerkraut, is a favorite Korean dish.

To the north, the natives of Kamchatka relish the tongues and the marrow of the bones of reindeer, but the piece-de-resistance is the meat of unborn fawns. From the stomach of the reindeer the natives obtain their greens—half-digested balls of moss. A delectable native dish is reindeer sausage which has been surrounded by dough and dropped in boiling water. Boiled fish eggs are considered a delicacy.—Exchange.

Canadian Playground

North of the great fertile belt devoted to agriculture there lies in the province of Saskatchewan a region of rocks, woods and water which seems almost to have been formed by nature as a special playground for man. Here are found thousands of crystal lakes. White birch, jack pine and white spruce grow here to unusual size and beauty. Pickerel, pike and gray trout are plentiful in the lakes and streams while moose, deer, bear and many species of game birds abound. A typical example of this region is Prince Albert national park. It was set aside in 1928.

Molde, Honeysuckle Town

Molde is one of the most beautiful of Norwegian summer resorts with about 3,000 inhabitants. Its gentle beauty and coloring, its windsheltering rocks make its vegetation luxuriant. Although farther north than Russian Leningrad, its honeysuckle, roses and other flowers are famous. Its fjord is wide and dotted with great numbers of fir-clad islands and the view of the town from the water is very pleasing. Many visit the town to see Axel Ender's famous altar painting, "The Women at the Sepulcher," which has been reproduced on Easter gift cards all over the world.

Nothing

At a trial in a fraud case in an adjoining county to Indianapolis the receiver of the company in the case was asked by counsel to state in as few words as possible what the company had, what he sold and what he received as receiver.

"Well," he said, "they had nothing, I sold nothing, I got nothing."

HAS THE LAXATIVE IN YOUR HOME A DOCTOR'S APPROVAL?

Some things people do to help the bowels whenever any bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, or a lack of appetite warn of constipation, really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what will cleanse the system without harm. That is why the laxative in your home should have the approval of a family doctor.

The wonderful product, known to millions as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Caldwell wrote thousands of times in many years of practice, and proved safe and reliable for men, women and children. It is made from herbs and other pure ingredients, so it is pleasant-tasting, and can form no habit. You can buy this popular laxative from all drugstores

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are overstimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips Milk of Magnesia; one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians have prescribed for 50 years.

Jogalong Tales

CHAPTER 6

Beside the pond grew many yellow honeysuckle vines and the blossoms filled the air with their fragrance. Hovering over a small cluster was a tiny bird.

The boy was very much interested. He had never before seen one so small. As he looked at it, it suddenly disappeared as if by magic.

"It's gone, Mr. Jogalong!" he said.

"No, it hasn't," replied Mr. Jogalong. "There it is on the top blossoms."

Sure enough the small creature was standing before the blossoms on the topmost part of the bush, its wings still whirring around and around, and from time to time sticking its long tongue deep into the blossoms.

"He's gone again," said the boy. "Oh, I wish I could see him go. He must wear a magic coat or something the way he disappears from sight. And listen! What a strange sound he makes. Is he singing?"

"Singing! Good gracious, no. He doesn't know the first thing about singing. He is making that hum with his wings. It's the hum that gives him his last name. His first name comes from his ruby throat. His last name comes from the sound he makes with his wings. Now do you know who he is?"

"Well, I should be able to guess when you have told me," said the boy, laughing. "Mr. Ruby-Throat Humming Bird, of course."

All at once the bird disappeared again. They looked around and there above a tiny gray cup in an old, old tree, hovered Mr. Ruby Throat, as proud as any king. Inside the cup were two of the tiniest birds anyone could imagine. They were no bigger than tumble bugs! They were as snug as any birds or bugs could be in their tiny gray cup castle made of soft down and covered with lichens which Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Throat had taken from the branches of dead trees to make their home invisible.

"Do you hear anything, Boy?" asked Jogalong, rather sadly.

The boy listened. "Why, that's my mother calling. She always calls like that for me to come to supper, you know. You must come with me, Mr. Jogalong." The boy was about to reach up and take the Jogalong's hand to lead him politely home with him, but Mr. Jogalong had disappeared quite as mysteriously as the Hummer.

"Oh, dear," sighed the boy. "I did want to see so many other things, and I haven't the faintest idea how to get home alone."

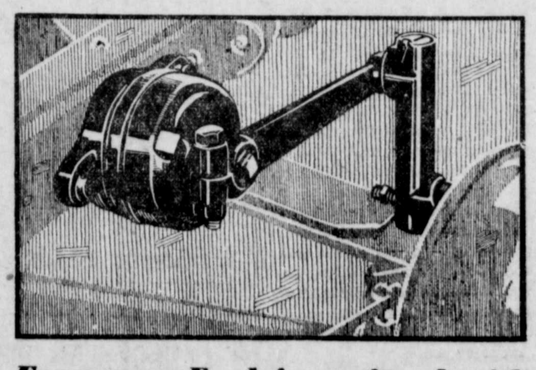

But suddenly he took a look around him. Why, there he was in his very own back yard! And, strangely enough, there he had been all the time, for the Land of Wonders, boys and girls, is everywhere. As Mr. Jogalong would say, "it's everything in the point of view. And if you want to enter the Land of Wonders, just stand still and look around."

FORD COMFORT

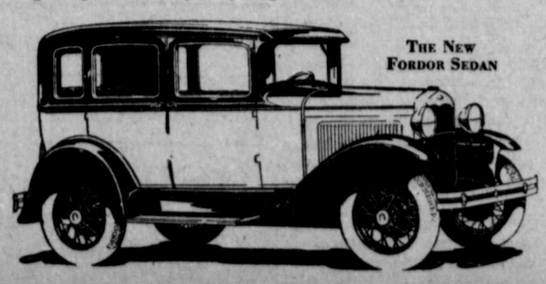

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.
