NOW AND THEN

THE LILT OF A LAUGH

I have toiled with men the world has blessed,
As I've toiled with the men who failed:
I've toiled with the men who strove with zest,
And this is the tale my soul would tell
As it drifts o'er the harbor bar;
The sound of a sigh doesn't carry well,
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

The men who were near the grumbler's side,
Oh they heard not a word he said;
The sound of a song rang far and wide,
And they hearkened to that instead.
Its tones were sweet as the tales they tell
Of the rise of the Christmas star.
The sound of a sigh doesn't carry well.
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

If you would be heard at all my lad,
Keep a laugh in your heart and throat;
For those who are deaf to accents sad.
Are alert to the Cheerful note
Keep hold of the chord of the laughter's bell.
Keep aloof from the moans that mar;
The sound of a sigh doesn't carry well,
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

This morning we had occasion to rise early. The east was just showing the first blush of morning. All nature seemed in a state of expectancy awaiting the rising of the sun in its glory. The blush grew larger and the surface of the river repeated its glow. The trees and bushes were reflected also in the mooth mirrorlike water, and then the sun came forth in its majesty rejoicing as a giant to run its course,
No artist could picture a scene so beautiful, a scene that is worth the sacrifice of hours of sleep.

Right in the heart of New York in the most populous sections of the city is a house surrounded by a big yard. In it for many years lived an old woman. Those who were curious enough to peep through the holes in the wall would sometimes see her dressed in the fashions of long ago working in the yard. The place which is now worth millions belonged to the celebrated Wendel family and it was a tradition in the family that not a foot of the land should be sold. And so it has stood all these years. There was a brother who married beneath him as the family thought, and they never for gave him.
Some say his daughter died in the poor house.
The old woman died the other day and now there are millions awaiting an heir. Who will inherit? That is the question.
Some ladies were visiting an old men's home some time ago. One of them asked an old inmate what could she do for him. "Oh, he said, eagerly if you could give me a pair of suspenders. But why suspenders? inquired the lady." Well, confided the old man, I have been invited to sing in the choir, and when I sing I have to hold the book and can't hold up my pants."
He got the suspenders.

Mountain Woman Moves to Solomon Valley

From the Topeka Capital

Spring is sittin' high up in my cotton wood this mornin';
I cain't quite rightly see her, the sun's so blindin' cleah.
The tossel blooms are hidin' the bough she is adohnin',
But it's Howdy, Spring, and Howdy, suah glad that you are heah.

Spring was walkin' sprightly part of last night in my gahden;
She left smatterin' of tulips, and on the tilted banks
Han'fuls of johnny-jump-ups, an' I humbly crave her pahdon
For not bein' there to greet her and give her my kind thanks.

A new invention from Berlin is a "reading machine" which will protect printed pages upon a screen, enabling either a family or an entire audience to read together. The projector greatly enlarges the picture, permitting several pages of normal size reading to be reproduced from a film the size of a postal card. Whether this invention will be of any practical value remains to be demonstrated. The inventor declares it will revolutionize the publishing of books, since one of these small films can take the place of several books.

WHIPPING POST FOR FOWL THIEVES

DELAWARE BILL IMPOSES HEAVY PENALTY FOR CHICKEN THIEVES

Chicken thieves in Delaware will be publicly whipped, if Senator Keith's substitute bill for Representative Smoot's measure, which was passed in the Senate yeterday, becomes a law.
The bill provide that anyone found guilty of feloniously stealing barnyard fowl, shall pay as restitution money twice its value, unless it is restored in full value, and shall be fined not more than $200, whipped with not less than 10 or more than 20 lashes, and imprisoned for a term not exceeding five years.
The measure further provides that the court, in pronouncing sentence, shall have no power to omit the imposition of lashes. The whipping would be administered publicly in the county seat, of the county in which the crime occurred.
The substitute provides that the whipping provision shall not apply to persons under 16 years of age.
The bill resulted in considerable discussion, before its passage by a vote of 13 to 4.
Representative Smoot, in explaining the measure, said the crime is a serious menace and is being carried on in a wholesale way.
Senator Burton contended the bill was too strong. After further discussion. Senator Burton asked how many of the Senators had witnesed a whipping at the whipping post. Senator Green replied that he had, and that in his estimation it has no effect on what the criminal may do in the future.

A bill providing the whipping post as a penalty for chicken stealing in Maryland was defeated in the Maryland House of Delegates at this session.

DITCHING WITH DYNAMITE

DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD TODAY

A demonstration which should be of much interest and value to many Kent County farmers will be held Saturday, March 28th, at 1.30 p. m. at Walter T. Bramble's farm near Chestertown.
A ditch will be made with dynamite to improve the pasture by permitting surplus moisture to drain out. The provision for more or better pasture is a wise move. Dynamite is quick and does the work well.
The handling of the dynamite will be in the hands of an expert who will discuss any problem the group cares to raise. The public is invited to see the demonstration. It will be fun as well as very practical business.
Remember Saturday 1.30 p. m.

APPLICATION BLANKS

Agricultural Rehabilitation Fund Available

County Agent McVean as Secretary has just received the blanks on which applications for loans from the Government may be made for Agricultural Rehabilitation. This fund is loaned on a broader basis than the Seed Loan. It is possible to obtain loans from both funds if the need is apparent and suitable security is available.
Under the Seed Loan eighteen applications have been filed out of forty-four inquiries regarding the conditions coverng the loans. Doubtless many more could use a loan to their advantage.

THE ROYAL FAMILY OF BROADWAY

AT LOCAL THEATRE

What is most certainly the cleverest display of brilliant acting that film audiences have been privileged to see in many months will be at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, March 30 and 31.
"The Royal Family of Broadway" is based on the famous play, "The Royal Family" by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber. It depicts the home life of a leading family of American stage performers.
But it is not the impressive quality of the original playwrighting alone which makes this play a wonderful movie. Most of the splendid attributes of this production are found in the stirring craftsmanship of Fredric March, Ina Claire, Henrietta Crosman and Mary Brian—as presentable a quartet of sterling actors as one could wish for.
March is seen as Tony Cavendish, the handsome son of the family who has deserted the stage temporarily for the Klieg lights of Hollywood where he has become the great and lordly lover of the screen. Miss Claire is his sister, the leading romantic and dramatic actress of the New York and outland stages. Miss Brian is her daughter, raised in the tradition of this family's Thespian history, but not yet launched into a career. Miss Crosman is the mother of Miss Claire and March—the grande dame of the Cavendish clan, whose loyalty to her family's name for stage exploits is more dear to her than anything else in the world.
The manner in which this group of players portrays the lives of these believable personages is a tonic for the heart. "The Royal Family of Broadway" is rich in comedy, romance, pathos and drama. It is invested with sparking glamor—it moves with the dazzling speed of a meteor.
