DUCKING SEASON SHORTENED

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO CLOSE SEASON JANUARY 15TH

Regulations increasing the protection of migratory birds recommended by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, will affect hunters in all parts of the United Sates. On March 17th, 1931, President Hoover approved Amendments to the Migratory Bird Regulations promulgated by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to carry out the recommendations of the Biological Survey. This Amendment affects all parts of the United States and shortens the open season for wildfowl fifteen days. The shorter season is recommended due to the increased natural hazards the birds are experiencing in reduced breeding, feeding and resting areas caused principally as a result of the drought in 1929 and 1930. Following are among the approved changes as they affect Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and nine other states:

The open season will be from November 1st to January 15th.

The hour for the commencement of shooting on the opening day is 12 o'lcolck noon.

Decoys for geese, in the hunting of wild geese not more than ten (10) live goose decoys may be used or shot over at any one gunning stand, blind or floating device.
