FOX HUNTERS LEAVE WEDNESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. George Brice, Miss Virginia Brice and Mr. Harold Tappin will leave for their home in Far Hills, N. J., next Wednesday after spending six weeks in Chestertown, and enjoying the fox hunting in this neighborhood.

The outstanding hunt of the season was held last Saturday when the chase covered most of the southern part of the county, from Wilkin's Lane to Big Fairlee farm on the Bay Shore.

The hunts have been staged in various parts of the county and the Round Top section of Queen Anne's county.

Mrs. Hosteter, while a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Brice, took moving pictures of a hunt held near Round Top. The picture shows the fox climbing to the top of a tree and one of the hunters climbing the tree and shaking it out so that the hunt could go on.

The party was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Whaland at a terrapin dinner Tuesday evening of this week and by Mr. Lee Robinson at an oyster scald on Friday afternoon.

Fox hunters from all parts of the county joined the visitors on the hunts and the best hounds of Kent and Queen Annes county were used in the chase.

COUNTY WIDE COUNCIL GROUPS MEET

Ninety-one women attended the Spring County Wide Meeting of the Council group of Home Demonstration work in the Court House Chestertown April 8th.

Mrs. Walter T. Morris presided over the meeting in her usual dignified and gracious manner.

The committees—Hostess, Mrs. Wm. Medders, Still Pond, and Mrs. Julian Cochran, Galena; Flower, Mrs. Walter Harris, Still Pond; Lunch, Mrs. Bates Craires, Jr., and Mrs. J. D. McVean, Chestertown; Registration, Mrs. Charles B. Ford, Chestertown, and Mrs. Stockton Startt, Fairlee, most ably assisted in helping make the meeting a success.

The program consisted of much singing led by Mrs. Merrick Clements and a paper, "The Romance of Music," by Mrs. Harry Jefferson told us of the beginning and growth of the Chestertown library and invited everyone to become a borrower.

What factors help to make a club successful were given by Mrs. John White.

At noon a delightful lunch was served by the guild of Emmanuel Church.

The trip to Long Wood Gardens which was taken about a month ago was described by Mrs. Walter B. Harris, one hundred and five persons took the trip.

Miss Florence Mason, District Home Demonstration Agent for the Eastern Shore, spoke on Adult Education of which we are hearing so much about.

It was very gratifying to learn that adults do learn much more quickly than children.

Mr. W. R. Ballard of the University of Maryland answered quite a few questions on flowers and then showed colored slids describing the general plans of landscaping and the flowers to plant in order to be most successfully.

PLAN BALTIMORE-LOVE POINT FERRY

Plans for a new passenger and freight ferry service between Baltimore and Love Point were disclosed this week with the filing of an incorporation application by the Maryland Ferry Company.

The application confirmed a rumor current for some weeks that the Pennsylvania Railroad was planning a service of this type to replace or augment the steamer service it regularly operates between these two points.

While the name of J. Curtis Kirk, chief clerk of the Baltimore division of the Pennsylvania, appeared in the papers as resident agent, Mr. Kirk said last night he knew "nothing about any ferry company," and officials of the Pennsylvania-owned Baltimore and Virginia Steamship Company, which now serves the route, refused to discuss the matter.

It is known, however, that a ferry slip has been in process of construction for several weeks between Piers 4 and 5 Pratt street, and it was said there that a large ferry of the type used in and about New York would be brought to Baltimore when the slip is completed.

Three Pennsylvania, Albert J. County, of St. David's; Moorehead C. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, and George J. Adams, of Lansdowne, were the incorporators listed in the application. The company is capitalized at $350,000.

Plans call for a ferry which will carry automobiles and freight as well as passengers. The Love Point terminus would be the pier of the Baltimore and Eastern Railroad, and the ferry would be operated in conjunction with the rail service.

The Baltimore and Virginia Steamship Company at present operates steamers twice daily.

GALLOPING DOMINOES

"Did you put your dime in the collection today, dear?"

"No, mother. I lost it."

"But, this is the fourth Sunday you've said that!"

"I know, but that other kid's luck can't last forever."
