COUNTY BASEBALL LEAGUE

COMMUNICATED

Tentative plans have been made to form a New Baseball league, to be known as the Kent County Amateur Baseball League. Only teams of the County are to be in this new Circuit, and one of the principal features is that every player on each team, must be strictly amateur, as no player is to receive compensation of any kind. One of the biggest drawbacks of other leagues that have been formed locally is that one or two players of each team have been receiving $5 to $10 per game, and the balance of the team playing for the love of the sport. It has also developed that no matter which team the player was with last season he will only play with a team or the team that pays him the most money per game, jumping from one team to another. This kind of thing cannot of course keep the interest of the fans to any one team.

It is hoped that a Major league veteran will head this new league but that will not be known for another week. Meanwhile the following towns have practically decided to enter teams in the new league. Massey, Still Pond, Betterton, Worton, Flatland and West Kent, which is formed by most of the former players of the St. James team, which have played so successfully for the past few years.

A meeting will be held next week and some definite action taken as to just how many teams will be entered and a schedule arranged.
