Awards committee, Mrs. Walter Harris, chairman.

Additional committees will be appointed. It is hoped that the Rotary Club wil lassume the committee on staging and arrangements.

The necessity of a ways and means committee to raise funds for the flower show was discussed. In view of the widepread interest in the flower show, and inasmuch as one very handsome prize has already been donated it was decided to delay the formation of the committee hoping that the very economical budget of the flower show committee and of the committee on awards might be met by voluntary contributions.

Any one wishing to make a donation may send it to Mrs. Price Ewing, Quaker Neck Road, P. O. Box 127.

The Kent County Flower Show is for every one, Men, Women, and Children Every one is asked to enter, Everyone may make as many entries as there are classes. In addition to the ribbon awards there will be three sweepstake prizes, and three grand prizes worth winning.

In order to keep those responsible for the success of the Flower Show, you are urged to signify your desire to take part in the show, and to send in your preliminary registration blank as soon as possible. This will not obligate you to show in case your flowers fail, but it will give the Flower Show committees some idea of how much space to provide for each class of exhibit.

A few weeks before the show you will be asked to register your entries definitely.

Comfort and Peace in Glow of Hearth Fire

When the frost nips the pumpkins and the autumn leaves turn yellow, and the chill of the fall sinks into our homes, then the fire upon the hearth becomes a cheerful companion of the advancing season. Its snapping flames invite one to contemplate thought and bright conversation. Some of man's wisest thoughts have been uttered in family and friendly circles as people gathered about the hearthstone, and mused and meditated over their observation of life.

The fire on the hearth gives a very cheerful touch to a cool fall evening. Fire is a symbol of home, it stands for arts that bring comfort and well being. The household that has good arrangements for fire making is well warmed and fed through the cold winter.

As we look at the dancing flames, home seems good. The intense desire of our age for motion and wandering is repressed to some extent. Blessings on every man who adds a good hearthstone to the dwelling he erects. He adds to human happiness and wisdom.—Nassau County (Fla.) Leader.
