PARISH HOUSE AT SHREWSBURY

Work will start shortly on the erection of a Parish House on the rear of Shrewsbury Church. The new building will be 60 ft. x 30 ft. and will be a wooden frame building built with the idea of eventually bricking it on the outside to conform with the old brick church.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. William J. French had a very narrow escape at the High street railroad crosing, Chestertown, Mr. French did not see the train until almost at the tracks and in order to avoid hitting it he turned his car into a deep ditch. Aside from a cut on his lip he was not injured, although his car was badly damaged. The accident occured at 6 p. m. Thursday evening.

IN MEMORIAM

Lost past the scenes of childhood years;
The long-lost face grows fairer now, it seems.
But even manhood is strength dissolves in tears,
When mother tiptoes softy through our dreams.

In loving memory of my dear mother who departed this life May 28, 1922.

TURKEY GROWERS MEET

S. B. SHAW DISCUSSED MARKET OUTLET

The Maryland Turkey Growers Association of Kent County held its May meeting at the Court House on Friday, May 22nd, Mrs. Harry T. Williams President of the Association, tion, presid,ed.

Mr. S. B. Shaw, Chief Inspector, the State Department of Markets cited the good already accomplished by the Association and stressed the opportunity for a greatly enlarged continuation of the good work.

His contact with a national distributor of poultry and meats reveals an active demand for Kent County turkeys and an undeveloped interest in the handling of these turkeys, especially if supplied on a graded basis to insure uniform quality. Turkey growers of Kent County through affiliation and cooperation with the local Organization can make splendid use of this opening. Team work wins.

Mr. Shaw displayed the "Maryland Quality" label (fostered and protested by the State Department of Markets) which is available for use by the Association as a means of retaining the identity of and centerng the attention of the consuming public on Kent's high quality turkeys.

A WONDERFUL PICTURE

Brought to the theatregoing public by Radio Pictures, Edna Ferber's epic "Cimarron," showing at The New Lyceum Theatre on Thursday-Friday-Saturday, June 4, 5 and 6, is even more powerful than the great story, read by millions in America.

"Cimarron," the picture, is all that is gripping in "Cimarron," the story.

Richard Dix as Yancey Cravat seems to have walked right out of the pages of the book. Lon Yountis will never be really slain until you see Dix do it, in the most poignant scene of talking picture history, the Osage gambling tent sermon episode.

Spectacular scenes abound in this production, but they are a new kind. Through the wizardry of Wesley Ruggles, director, they transoend mere spectacle and become inspiring flashes which punctuate and make the production a realistic as early Oklahoma itself.

The stupendous land rush scenes, in which thousands of vehicles, animals and players appear is presented in such an ingenious fashion that the spectator is apt to feel himself a part of this spectacular episode.

Standing clear and unfettered above all the artistic accomplishments of this production, however, is one great fact. For once,(a motion picture producer has taken not a single dramatic license. "Cimarron" of the talking screen, is Edna Ferber's "Cimarron," complete, truthful in every detail.

STILL POND

BE YOURSELF

First Coed—"Is anybody looking?"
Second Coed—"No."
First Coed—"Then we don't have to smoke."

NOW AND THEN

HOW SLEEP THE BRAVE

How sleep the brave who sink to rest,
By all their country's wishes blest!
When Spring with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to dress their hallowed mold,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod.
Than fancy's feet have ever trod.

By fairy hands their knell is rung:
By forms unseen their dirge is sung;
There honor comes a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay:
And freedom shall awhile repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there.

Collins

Are you wearing a poppy today to show that you are still keeping faith for those who died. A poppy worn above the heart will mean remembrance and generosity. Without it means forgetfulness. These poppies are made by the veterans, many of whom came back wounded and shattered. Shall we remember them. Those who have not already bought a poppy let them wear one today.

Nature has come again to dress up the roadsides and the hills that were so parched by last years drouth. Never have the roses been lovelier than they have this spring.

There are never a more joke loving people than the clergy and when they get together their experiences are rich and rare. One told of a colored brother had recently taken a charge. His sermons were very short, only about ten minutes, and his brethren felt he was not giving them enough so they went to him and asked him why he did not exhort them longer. "Brethren, it is my teeth, they do not fit well." So the brethren got together, and raised the amount for a new set and gave it to the minister. And then all was changed, instead of ten minutes his sermon was one hour and forty minutes one Sunday. So the brethren went to him again to ask him why he should preach so long. "It's my teeth" he answered, "But we have given you new teeth said the brethren. "Well, but I sent to Sears and Roebuck and they sent me women's teeth."

One thing that makes hard times so depressing is not being able to keep up with the Jones.

Oh the Static!
No matter how sweet the music:
Or the speeches how emphatic
It all avails us not
When it is drowned by static.

Pharaoh dreamed that the seven lean kine devoured the seven fat kine; so have the last two years eaten up the unprecedented prosperity of the preceding period. Joseph of old advised Pharaoh to store his granaries with grain; so a modern Joseph urges us to set aside an 'unemployment reserve 'to take care of the next depression.

PURCHASE KENT COUNTY PROPERTY

Leonard C. Treherne, Licenced and Bonded Real Estate Broker, Representing E. A. Strout Realty Agency, Inc., made two sales last Saturday, as follows:

The John T. Vickers' Farm of forty acres on Lankford Bay, purchased by Mr. Geo. W. Green, of Dundalk, Maryland. In addition to the improvements already on this waterfront farm, Mr. Green plans to put up a bungalow down near the water, which he will use for week end trips.

Mr. Ladis Pauly and Mr. W. F. Lloyd, both of Glenolden, Pa., were seeking a place on the Atlantic Coast, around Rehoboth Beach, but liked Kent so well they could not resist purchasing the pleasing waterfront on Fairlee Creek, of Dr. William Clark, of Philadelphia. On the old building site, Messrs. Pauly & Llyod wll erect an up-to-date bungalow for their summer residence.

KENT ISLAND BRIDGE OPEN TO TRAVEL

The new state bridge over the Kent Island narrows was opened to public travel Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The old bridge will be removed. The hours for opening the draw at the new bridge for boats to pass through will be from 1-2 hour before sun up to 1-2 hour after sun down. These hours were established, we understand, by the Goverment officials at the Baltimore Custom House. The bridge tender will not be required to open the draw for boats before or after the above hours.

—Mr. Ross Wiltbank had the misfortune to cut his leg on Friday of last week with a hedge knife on the farm of his father's near Kennedyville. Due to complications, he was taken to Easton hospital on Thursday of this week in the local ambulance.

TOLCHESTER SUMMER SCHEDULE

IN EFFECT JUNE 6

The summer schedule of the Tolchester Ferry will go into effect Wednesday, June 6th.

The new schedule includes five boats to and from Baltimore daily on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Frdiays, four on Wednesdays and three on Saturdays and Sundays.

KENT BOYS EXHIBIT

WILL ALSO JUDGE AT EASTON SHOW

Kent county was represented at the Eastern Shore Guernsey Field Day at Easton on Friday of this week, as five club boys will exhibt guernseys at the show.

Those who will exhibit are William Carroll, Frank Sutton and John Wright, of the Kent 4-H Clover Club Club, and Norris Crew, Jr., of the Galena Handy Andy Club.

Eight club boys represented Kent county in a judging contest at Easton that day.

WOMAN KILLED AT CROSSING

Gussie Caulk, colored, well-known in the vicinity of Kennedyville, was killed Monday afternoon when a truck in which she was riding collided with the southbound work tran of the Pennsylvania Ralroad at the Kennedyville crossing Monday afternoon.

Mr. Robert R. Hill, prominent farmer of near Kennedyville, was driving the truck and narrwoly escaped serious injury. The truck ad train were both moving slowly at the time of the crash. The colored woman was thorwn from the truck and sugered a crushed chest. As the local ambulance was on a trip to Easton with a patient, she was placed in an automobile but died near Cecilton enroute to Elkton hospital.

Coroer H. L. Dodd summoned a jury which returned a verdict of accidental death in so far as there was clear vision and no watchman at the crossing.

WASHINGTON CHAPTER MEETS

The Washington, D. C., Chapter of the Washington ollege Alumni Association, held its annual Chapter Luncheon at the New Colonial Hotel, 14th and M Streets in Washington, D. C., Tuesday, May 26, with a representative and abundant attendance.

The success of the occasion was due to the work done by Colin F. Stam, '16, the retiring president of the Chapter and to Jefferson L. Ford, ex-'12, the manager of the New Colonial Hotel.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth gave an informal summary of improvements which the College has achieved during the past several years and a statement of some of its prospects and aims.

The officers for the coming year are as follows:

President, Commander Gilbert T. Rude ex-'02.

Vice President, olin F. Stam, '16.

Treasurer, Roger J. Bounds, '24.

Secretary, Susie J. Frazier, '10.

The luncheon of the Washington Chapter concludes a successful alumni year for the College since, during the current year, four chapters have held most interesting get-togethers, namely, the Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, and Washinton; chapters and one new chapter has been established, that of Southern New England which held its reunion last Friday night, May 22.

MRS. RASKOB ENTERTAINS REGATTA COMMITTEE

PROGRAM FOR REGATTA COMPLETED

On Tuesday, May 26th, the committee in charge of arrangements for the Chester River Annual Regatta were guests of Mrs. J. J. Raskob at her delightful home at Pioneer Point. Nowhere could a more inspiring spot be found for a meeting of this kind. Directly in front of the Raskob mansion was moored "Patsy," one of the most beautiful yachts that ever sailed the Chesapeake Bay. It was "The Patsy," sailed by Mr. J. J. Raskob in a northeast gale that won the official championship of Chesapeake Bay last August, covering the twenty mile triangle in just a shade over two hours, a record that will probably stand for a number of years.

The meeting that followed a very enjoyable dinner was active from the time that Neal A. Truslow, Chairman, took the chair. The race program was discussed in detail and approved unanimously by the Committee. Among the outstanding features of this two days' program is the big bay race scheduled for Friday, August 21st, and the Star race which will be sailed at the same time. Immediately following these two races a handicap race to Anchorage for both sail and motor boats will start. The sail boats finish at Spaniards Point directly opposite the Raskob Etate, while the cruisers and motor boats continue to Chestertown and finish in front of the Club house.

Friday evening a big fireworks display is being arranged to provide entertainmetn for the visiting and their friends.

The big feature for Saturday's program, August 22nd, is the work boat races. This is for power boats that have been regularly employed for oystering, fishing or crabbing since the first of the year. $200.00 in gold will be divided as prizes. There will be two classes in this race, first, the Deadrse class of work boat; second, Log canoes that have been converted. Among the other important races for Saturday is the small sail boat class. All boats under 16 ft. W. L. are eligible. Keen competition is also expected in the log sailing canoe class. At twelve o'clock noon the Outboards will have a full hour to demonstrate their speed in a Free for all Marathon. During the afternoon races are provided for the various classes of stock runabouts.

The committee in charge of the Chester River Regatta, held under the auspices of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club is as follows: Neal A. Truslow, Thomas W. Perkins, P. Medford Brooks, H. Clay Brown, J. P. Corcoran, James G. Metcalfe, Simon W. Westcott, W. Dorsey Hines, Thomas Massey, Philip G. Wilmer, Stephen R. Collins, Hynson R. Rogers, Tilghman H. Moyer, Capt. E. W. Emory, Col. I. Price Ewing, Eben F. Perkins.

SHERIFF VISITS JOY BOAT

The "Joy Boat," tied up at Fredericktown wharf, was the scene of lively doings Saturday night, May 16, Sheriff Buckworth and Deputies, of Cecil county, breaking up what appear to be a free for all and arresting four men, Clarence Start, George Burris, Ewell Dalton and John Johnson, who were held for a hearing before Magistrate R. L. Alderson at Cecilton Monday evening. Stant, for disorderly conduct, assault and resisting an officer, was fined $45 and costs; Burris and Dalton, disorderly conduct and assault, $35 and costs each; Johnson, disorderly conduct, $10 and costs.

Monday night Captain Leyare, in charge of the "Joy Boat", was arrested on a charge of keeping a disorderly place. He gave bond before Police Justice Manly Drennen in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the Septmber term of the Circuit Court.

BAY BRIDGE COMMISSSION

Whether or not the Eastern and Western Shores of Maryland are to be linked together by a bridge or tunnel across or under Chesapeake Bay will comprise the tremendously important subject and reported upon by a Bay Bridge Commission appointed this week by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, under authority conferred upon the chief executive by the recent Legislature.

Two men identified with the former Bay Bridge Commission and two former members of the State Roads Commission, in addition to the present roads body, were named under authority of a resolution passed by the last Legislature which will become effective June 1.

Those named by the Governor are:

Howard Bruce, Democratic National Committeeman and former member of the State Roads Commission.

John K. Shaw, who severed his connection with the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company to become a member of the Roads Commission until his retirement with Mr. Bruce.

Donald Symington, president of the Baltimore Trust Company, head of the committee selected by the Baltimore Association of Commerce to study the bay-bridge project and a member of the former Bridge Commission.

B. Howell Griswold, Jr., chairman of the previous Bay Bridge Commission.

Members of the Roads Commission, G. Clinton Uhl, chairman, E. Brooke Lee and Robert Lacy.

The resolution was based on the report of a joint subcommittee of the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means committees, with Senator Emory L. Coblentz as chairman.

Provides For Thorough Study

The committee was appointed to study the report of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Commission. The resolution provides that the State Roads Commission make a thorough study of a projected bridge or tunnel across the bay with any other assistance which the Governor might deem advisable, and report its findings to the Governor "as promptly as possible."

The project of a bridge across the bay has been the subject of discussion in Maryland since 1907, and was one of the political issues of the Gubernatorial campaign last fall. Experts have agreed that the project is feasible.

State and Federal rights to construct a span from Millers Island to a point in Kent county have already been acquired.

OFFICIALS REPORT PLANS TO DEEPEN TWO WATER WAYS

Work of dredging both the Corsica River and The Narrows will be completed some time duirng the approaching summer.

This definite official announcement was made Tuesday afternoon by Col. John S. Doyle, civilian engineer of the U. S. War Department, at the conclusion of a hearing held in the Court House, Centreville.

T. Rigby Valliant, of Centreville who prepared statistics and other vital material showing the importance of Corsica River as a waterway, was spokesman for a sizeable delegation embracing Centreville business men, bankers, residents and property owners of the Corsica River Section, the Board of County Commissioners and a committee from Centreville Rotary Club.

Members of the delegation were shown maps and charts, outlining the contemplated improvements, which include a channel 200 feet wide and 8 one-half hour before sun up to one-basin at Centreville Wharf.

At the conclusion of the hearing Col. Doyle announced that a contract had been awarded the Lukens Company for dredging the two county waterways, and that they now would be authorized to proceed with the work without delay.

It is probable that The Narrows waterway will first be dredged and that improvements to the Corsica River channel will be completed late in the summer.

AIR CIRCUS HERE TODAY

SPONSORED BY AMERICAN LEGION

As part of a compaign throughout the East for the promotion of community airmindedness and airport development, Frank Jarman Post, American Legion, of Chestertown, will sponsor an elaborate air circus at the Chestertown Airport, Saturday and Sunday.

Veteran pilots and new, speedy airplans are used in presenting an extensive program of flying events at the airport. The air circus is on a tour of Eastern and Southern states, including Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvaia, Delaware and New Jersey.

From four to six modern planes will be used in presenting the air circus here. They include three Fledgling training planes, a six place Travelair monoplane, the world-famous travelair "Speedwing" monoplane, a Curtiss-Wright "Junior" Monoplane, a three passenger Curtiss Robin monoplane (holder of the world's endurance record of 627 hours), a DeHaviland Moth biplane equipped with Handley-Page safety slots.

Speed pilots will put their planes thru intricate maneovers and every brand of stunt flying known to modern aviation will be presented.

Pilots will compete in formation flying events, spot landing contests, bomb demonstrations with bags of flour substituted for real bombs, aerial acrobatics, balloon strafing and other tests of flying skill. Quadruple parachute jumps, and plain an dfancy parachute jumps, and plain and fancy parachute jumping exhibitions also are included on the flying program. Among other features, three planes will be flown tied together.

Demonstrations of military and formation flying maneuvers, power dives fancy loops, inverted flyig, inverted acrobatics and all the other aerial tricks known to experienced pilots will be presented here as part of the air circus.

The tour is under the management of Ray Krim, former newspaper man and director of the Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and St. Paul Aircraft shows.

The flying program to be presented here will be preceded by an aerial parade over the city and vicinity, in which all visiting and local planes will participate. The detailed program of aerial events in connection with the air circus includes:

2.00 p. m.—Opening Salute and Formation Flying by three planes, including a demonstration of the Fleur d'lis maneuver.

2.15 p. m. Spot Landing Contest. The contestants will make a 180 overhead approach from 500 feet and land at mark and will not use throttle except to clear engine, after commencing glide.

2.45 p. m.—Dive bombing attack at target on airport by formation of three planes. Imitation bombs, made of flour, will be used.

3.00 p. m.—Parachute Jumping Exhibition. A noted parachute jumper will jump from a plane flying 2,000 feet near the airport.

3.15 p. m.—Acrobatic Contest in which each participant will perform two loops, two rolls, two wing-overs and three turns of a left hand spin.

3.30 p. m.—Aerial combat exhibition demonstrating an attack by a single seat airplane against a two-seater.

3.50 p. m.—Balloon bursting contest in which the winner will be adjudged by the length of time required to burst three balloos, released from the ground at one minute intervals, with the revolving blade of his plane's propeller.

4.00 p. m.—Acrobatic demonstration, showing stunts rarely seen, including inverted flying.

4.15 p. m.—Formation flying with three planes tied together. This event depends on weather conditions, as it canot be executed in high winds.

4.50 p. m.—Low and slow flying demonstration.

4.45 p. m.—Double parachute jump.

Note: Passegers wll be carried throughout the day. Flights will be made for this purpose immediately after the arrival of the air circus planes from Baltimore and will continue until dark.

NINE MORE FEDERAL PRISONERS

Sheriff John Vickers brought nine more Federal prisoners to the Kent county jail on Thursday of this week. This makes 27 Federal prisoners that are confined here.

Three of the prisoners terms expired on Thursday of this week and were discharged.

P. T. A. TO ELECT OFFICERS

The regular meeting of the P. T. A. of the Chestertown Elementary School, will be held, Wednesday afternoon, June 3, at 3.15 p. m. All members are urged to be present as officers will be elected. The meeting will be at the school building.
