Lessening Sadness

Is the First Duty of the Funeral Director

My excellent system of arranging the details for each and every funeral entrusted to my care leaves with those upon whom I wait, a feeling of confidence and satisfaction that the last offices were performed with such perfect harmony as to greatly lessen the sadness connected with such an event.

MEDICAL UNIT OFF ON SATURDAY

Fresh from a rating on the honor roll of the Maryland National Guard for attendance in June the Medical Detachment of the First Maryland Infantry, of Chestertown, will leave on Saturday for a two week's encampment at Camp Albert C. Ritchie, Cascade, Md.

The local Medical unit had an attendance of 90.21 for June and received the honor rating granted each month by Brig. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general.

An advance detail of the Medical Detachment, headed by Major Frank B. Hines, the company commander, will leave Chestertown for Camp Ritchie on Friday. Other members of the detail will be Staff Seargeant William R. Goodman. Cook Edward Blackway and J. N. Hodgson.

The equipment of the unit will leave by special truck on Saturday morning in charge of a detail under the command of Corporal W. A. McMahan.

The main body of the detachment, under the command of Lieut. Herman Blackway, will leave Chestertown by bus Saturday morning for Matapeake. From Matapeake to Annapolis the trip will be made by ferry and at Annapolis special busses will convey the soldiers to Camp Ritchie.

Members of the Medical Detachment who will attend the encampment are: Major Frank B. Hines, Lieut. Herman Blackway, Staff Sergeant William R. Goodman, Infirmary Sergeant Harvey Blyman, Supply Sergeant Paul C. Starkey, Corporal W. H. McMahan, First Class Privates Garret Chaires, Irving Cox, Walter Elburn, Walter Morris and Robert Penn and Privates W. T. Bennett, J. E. Blackway, Henry M. Chaires, Medford Clift, James Duyer, W. G. Gsell, J. M. Hodgson, J. N. Hessey, H. H. Gosman, A. L. Meekins, J. C. Meekins, C. C. Reed, W. P. Robinson, S. S. Smith, H. T. Staats, J. W. Story, M. O. Townsend, E. R. Trinks, H. H. Smith, D. C. Girls' Names Puzzle

Here are the names of five girls. What are they?

Creatures Queer
The Walking Stick.

Up in dusty corners of old barns and attics you will find what appear to be abandoned spider webs. But let a luckless bee or fly entangle itself in the silky meshes and in a moment you will see the queerest creature stepping lightly, but oh! so slowly and carefully, over the web and making straight for the unfortunate prisoner.

"No spider, this!" you say. Indeed, no spider ever boasted so slim and straw-like a waist or enjoyed such repose and deliberation. This new tenant of the old web belongs to a family of Walking-Sticks or Thread-Legged-Bugs, and if you have ever seen one you will agree that the name exactly suits him.

His body resembles a small stick or twig both in shape and color, a likeness that helps conceal him from his enemies. He has three legs on either side, the foremost pair being like arms bent at the elbow with the hands doubled back under at the wrists. Between these claws, which are pincer-like and provided with sharp spikes, Mr. Walking-Stick grabs his prey, taking care to keep it far enough away from his body to avoid any poisonous stings. Then through his hollow sucking tube he drinks the food juices of his victim.

A VERY HUNGRY WALKING-STICK

His other four legs are extremely slender and truly thread-like. They are unbelievably long—the artist couldn't get them all into the picture!—and quite easily broken, but that only bothers him for a little while until he can grow others in their place.

In the picture the artist has drawn Mr. Walking-Stick out-of-doors. Just as long as he remains quiet you can see how difficult it is to tell him from the twig on which he rests. The habit he has of sticking his legs out at all conceivable angles helps him, too, to disappear and makes it nearly impossible for his enemies to find him.

Early in the morning
Sleepy is the sun,
Drowsily he seems to rise
When the night is done.

Sleepy too the buildings
Leaning close together.
It is harder still to wake
When there's cloudy weather.

The Guess-Me

I am sometimes long and sometimes short.

I am separated into different parts.

I think my head is very grand. It has smoke stacks on it, two open windows, and inside, a good deal of machinery.

I have eyes on both sides of me in long rows, but they are different from most eyes, they do not see. They are seen through.

I travel very, very fast.

At night I seem to shoot flame from my chimneys and my eyes have lights behind them.

I do not go where I wish, but am driven, that is, some one steers me.

I carry many, many people inside of me and children, particularly, like to ride in me.

I have a whistle on my head, too, which I blow every once in a while in dangerous places.

I cannot go unless I am fed plenty of coal.

Has he given himself away? If you can guess who he really is draw a picture of him on a piece of paper to keep.

There's Power Aplenty in the McCormick-Deering 10-20

THE McCormick-Deering 10-20 Tractor provides power in abundance for general farm work. It pulls two plows under all reasonable conditions and travels at good speed while plowing deep. For its size, the 10-20 has a great capacity for work—you can apply its power three ways—by drawbar, belt, or power take-off—to operate a variety of equipment throughout the year.

The surprising strength of the 10-20 is due to the rigid one-piece main frame, in and on which are mounted the 4-cylinder engine, clutch, and transmission and differential assemblies. All important wearing parts are completely enclosed, protected from dust and grit, and run in a bath of oil. Handholes provide quick accessibility to all enclosed parts.

Ask us how this remarkable, sturdy, powerful tractor can make power farming a reality on the moderate-size farm. We also have the economical McCormick-Deering 15-30 and the all-purpose Farmall.
