TAXES

The state requires now a ½ per cent. to be added to all unpaid STATE TAXES and the Treasurer, H. S. Startt, is anxious to have this fact known to those who still owe. So, when the tax payer sends check, money order or cash he or they must include the ½ per cent addition.. This will avoid the neccessity of having the Treasurer return same for correction for the ½ per cent. He has no other alternative. He must collect it. The additional ½ per cent is added for each month thereafter up to 6 per cent.

KENNEDYVILLE WINS SERIES

Kennedyville again won the championship of the Chesapeake Bay League here Saturday by defeating Church Hill 2 to 1 in one of the most interesting baseball games of the season.

Kennedyville started the scoring in the first inning when Kern walked followed by Archibald's single, left Kern on second and Archibald on first. Oliffe followed with a double which scored the two runners and won the game and series.

In the second inning Church Hill scored its only run when Clough scored on Smith's single.

The remainder of the game kept the fans on edge as both teams were in a position to score, but Loller and Miller pulled themselves out of a number of holes.

Church Hill lost its last opportunity to score when (General) Walls, veteran of the Church Hill nine was safe on third with one out but the side was retired with him still resting securely on that sack. He led the hitting for his team, with two safe ones while Archibald, veteran and manager of the Kennedyville nine and Oliffe each had a double and single for the Kent county team.

Loller and Miller both pitched good ball, alowing 6 and 5 hits respectively and were well backed by the fielding of their teams.

The 1931 series is now history and plans are being made for 1932. The league has brought back oldtime base ball interest in the county and prospects are bright for another year.

November 9—Galena at Chestertown, soccer and junior field ball.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS TO MEET

Kennedyville, champions of the Chesapeake Bay League and Havre de Grace, champions of the Susquehanna League will meet today, Saturday, on Washington field for the first of a three game series.

Kennedyville will have the usual lineup except for the addition of Legates, star hitter for the Rock Hall nine, who will be loaned to Kennedyville for this game. A good game of base ball is expected.

—Parks Rasin, Jr., and Joe Russell copped the doubles tennis title in the first Chestertown tournament which ended here on Monday. The victorious team defeated Vernon and Charles Kirby in a hard fought four set battle.

MAURICE CHEVALIER IN "SMILING LIEUTENANT" AT NEW LYCEUM

A tremendous combination of acting talent, directorial genius, writing wisdom and music-making magic have been woven into a thrilling and joyous motion picture entertainment, "The Smiling Lieutenant."

Bringing Maurice Chevalier back to the screen after his European tour in another rollicking romance which combines all the attractive features of his former screen successes, "The Smiling Lieutenant" comes to the New Lyceum theatre on Wednesday, Thursday, October 14, 15.

Two gorgeous leading ladies, the brunette Claudette Colbert, the blonde Miriam Hopkins, keep things lively for the smiling Frenchman, whose voice, recently given to thrilling radio audiences, will have full opportunity to express his personality in song in "The Smiling Lieutenant." Charlie Ruggles, the joyous inebriate of a score of film hits, gives of his laugh-making talents to this new picture.

The story deals with a sprightly lieutenant of the guards, madly in love with a charming cabaret entertainer, for whom he is willing to sacrifice the joys of bachelorhood. Before he can accomplish his purpose, however, he is snatched up by a princess who mistakes his smile for a proposal, and forces him into unwilling matrimony. After marriage he forsakes his dowdy wife for happiness with the girl of his choice. But his wife, determined to win his regard, learns the secrets of charm from his sweetheart, and tears his heart between love with duty or without.

Into this humorous, yet sincere, love story, Chevalier has woven his inimitable personality, emphasizing his joy in the romance in song. The songs, five of them, were written especially for the French favorite by none other than the famous Oscar Straus, Vienna's own waltz king, and by lyricist Clifford Grey. The music is lovely, lilting; the lyrics witty; Chevalier's singing, as always, delightful.

"The Smiling Lieutenant" was directed by that genius of subtle humor,, Ernest Lubitsch, whose delicious touches enlivened "The Love Parade" and even Emil Jannings' tremendous tragedy, "The Patriot." The story is projected against the colorful background of post-war Vienna and picturesque middle Europe.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB

The first meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held at 3 p. m. last Friday afternoon. Instead of the regular literary program Mrs. Fountain, the retiring president, who entertained the incoming president, Mrs. William G. Smyth had arranged a program giving the history of the Club from the beginning. Those who gave most interesting talks were: Miss Jennie Wilkins, Miss Anne Smyth, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Hynson Rogers, Mrs. Fountaine and Mrs. William G. Smyth. The Club was started as a Shakespeare Club in 1901 and met at the different homes. Miss Addie France, who is now principal of St. Mary's Seminary, was first president. The membership enlarged and it became a Literary Club. Through the courtesy of the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company they were given the use of their upper room and they determined to organize a Library, each member of the club giving their services in attending to it for the week. As the number of books increased they ventured to employ a librarian and have the library opened two afternoons and one evening each week. An advisory committee was appointed to pass on the new books to be added. The library now numbers 5100 books and has recently been catalogued .

The club meets once a week and pursues the regular Chataqua Course of reading and studying. In addition one of the members give a talk on current events. The officers for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, president; Mrs. Hynson Rogers, vice president; and Mrs. Clinton Jones secretary and treasurer. The club is now facing a serious problem. The Kent Mutual has bought the building next door and can no longer give them the room, but will rent them the room over their new quarters for $200 per year. To meet the expenses so far has been difficult, but they have ventured to rent the room hoping that the Citizens of the town who have for so many years enjoyed the privilege of a free library will come forward and lend their aid to this new undertaking.

ONE CLUB TOURNAMENT

A one club handicap tournament will be held at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club tomorrow, October 11th starting at 9 a. m. The handicaps are posted at the club.

In one club tournament each man selects one club from his bag and plays the course with that club.

HICH SGHOOL NOTES

BY RUTH FOX

Do you enjoy bowling? There are few of us who don't like this sport and those of you who do will have a fine opportunity to bowl and bowl and bowl this Thursday afternoon at Betterton. The Dragon is beginning to get started and that always spells Money. Miss Riches had the idea that at fifteen cents a game many students and people would bowl and thus raise money for the Dragon, and a grand idea it was too, wasn't it? Elmer Brice, business manager of the Dragon, had it all arranged. So come to Betterton Thursday afternoon, all ye readers, and find out how many ten pins you can knock down.

P. S. Please don't forget that it's fifteen cents a game.

The Dramatic Club has decided on the three one-act plays that are to be given in a few weeks time. Miss Riches is coaching a play by Susan Glaspell called "Trifles." The cast is as follows:

George Henderson, Eugene Thornton
Henry Peters..... Edgar Harris
Louis Hale ..... Vernon Leward
Mrs. Peters .... Clara Ellen Robinson
Mrs. Hale ....Ruth Fox

Miss Peacock is presenting "The Maker of Dreams" with the following cast.

Pierrot ..... Harriett Louisa Rogers
Pierrette ..... Betty Thibodeau
The Manufacturer .... Ralph Hopkins

Miss Bryan is planning to give "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," by Stuart Walker. Those in the cast are:

Boy ..... Deborah Brown
Queen ..... Emily Sue Matthews
Minne ..... Ed Collins
Milk Maid ..... Mary Ellen Brown
Blind Man .. Gladys Rebecca Aldridge
Ballad Singer ..... Nelson Crew
Headsman ..... Bill Capel
Prologue ..... Evelyn Crew
You in the Audience,
Mary Jo Wheatley

Added to things I wouldn't want to do:

Make out the monthly attendance record for C. H. S.

Did you know:

That the Commercial department has six brand new typewriters to accommodate some of the new student.

When I went to Mary Margaret Eliason for the program of the 10A History Club she did not have them ready. "However," she told me, "I'm going to be down town this afternoon and so I'll leave the minutes in your store. You see, then I shall have time to get them in order."

When I came home from school mother gave me the paper that Mary Margaret had left. At first I intended to simply copy the program, but that certainly would be losing the interesting manner in which she has written it. And so I shall just copy what she has given to me.

10A History Club, Wednesday, September 30, 1931.

Meeting called to order, short explanation of club by President. Minutes of last meeting.

1. Children's Crusade, Sara Willis.
2. Columbus Discovers America, Alice Marian Sterling.
3. Marco Polo, Charles Chester Atwater.
4. I don't know what to call this. It was a sort of roll call, I guess. I passed out slips of paper with names of Historic places and people, and then called on people to tell what they knew about the thing they had selected. I think everybody was caled on.
5. Our Forgotten First President, Emma Knight.
6. The Passing Around of An Old Book. This was borrowed from Bond Chapel. It was printed by John and Samuel Adams, in Wilmington.
7. Balboa's Discovery, Elizabeth Fontaine.
8. Poem, Uncle Tom's Cabin, Lelia Anthony.
9. Modern Conditions In China, Charles Dole.
10. The Hottest Spot In The United States, George Rasin.

Patchwork: Mr. Blades' new office has just been painted.....Mr. Robinson was at C. H. S. Monday afternoon .....Miss Peacock reports that the history club dues have been coming in.....The 10th grade are learning how to patch their dresses and darn their socks in Home Economics..... Miss Kersey hopes to give them the opportunity to remodel an old dress into a new one..... Many new shorthand books have been ordered.

Did you know that:

John Wright has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Dragon?

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council, of Chestertown, was held on Monday evening of this week.

It was decided to rent the office now occupied by Messrs. T. D. Bowers and George French and the office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 12 n. and from 1.30 p. m. to 3.30 p. m. During these hours the clerk, Mr. T. D. Bowers will be in the office for the purpose of receiving taxes and attending to the business of the town.

The committee on streets and sewers reported that two contractors who were interested in submitting estimates on a disposal plant were unable to attend the meeting and asked that the question be deferred until the next meeting.

The committee on streets and sewers, acting on a petition requesting that Queen street be made a one-way street, reported that as Cross street is supposed to be paved in the near future, this matter should be deferred until that street is finished.

It was decided to change the parking lines on Cross street from straight lines to angle lines.

The clerk was instructed to write to the State Roads Commission and call their attention to the condition of the railroad crossing on High street. Also to write a letter to the P. R. R. and local health officer in regard to the condition of the ditch along Railroad Avenue.

The committee on streets and sewers were instructed to secure estimates on the building of a sewer on North Cross street with power to act.

The Attorney to the Council was requested to prepare an ordinance prohibiting roller skating on the sidewalks.

The report of the auditing committee was approved.

The following town officials were appointed by Mayor Satterfield and approved by the Council.

Night officer, R. E. Collins.
Teamster, John A. Kennard.
Asst. Teamster, Clarence Fowler.

Upon motion by Councilman French, the Council decided to have a competent person check-up on the lighting system of Chestertown with reference to the amperage of the bulbs in the street lights.

The council adjourned to meet Monday, November 2.

URGES LONGER DUCKING SEASON

State game officials and sportsmen of Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina on Wednesday urged the advisory board on migratory bird regulation to alter its stand and permit a ten weeks season on ducks and geese.

Asserting a shortened season would adversely affect employment of coastal areas of the three States and the popular sentiment against the curtailment would incerase poaching, the State delegations urged that at least a ten-week season, with shooting three days a week, be recommended to the Secretry of Agriculture.

The board session was called to hear the complaints of the State groups that proper consideration had not been given their plea for a compromise on the length of season. Last year a ten-week season without rest days prevailed in the Southeastern States.

After hearing the protests, the board was told by Paul G. Redington, chief of the biological survey, that the shortened season was considered necessary because of depletion of geese and ducks by drought and excessive shooting.

LeCompte Is Present

The Virginia delegation was headed by Chairman A. Willis Robertson, W. S. Snow, a member, and M. D. Hart, executive secretary of the State commission on game and inland fisheries.

Joseph P. Knapp, New York, publisher and owner of shooting preserves in Currituck county, North Carolina, and Frank Styck, president of the Atlantic Coast Sportsmen Association, were among the North Carolinians. E. Lee Lecompte, State Game Warden, represented Maryland.

TO COMMEMORATE FIRST CHURCH

THREE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF FIRST SETTLEMENT IN MARYLAND BY WILLIAM CLAIBORNE ON KENT ISLAND, 1631, AND THE FIRST CHRISTIAN SERVICE OF WORSHIP.

On October 15, 1931, the Doicese of Easton will comemorate the holding of the first Church service in Maryland by the Rev. Richard James, a clergyman of the Church of England. Bishop Davenport and a Committee of Clergyman and laymen are rapidly completing their plans and arrangements for the celebration. Nearly every parish on the Eastern Shore will have a part in the presentation of a pageant embracing a dozen or more episodes showing a complete history of the development of the Episcopal Church from the landing of Claiborne and the Rev. Richard James through the past three centuries to the pesent time.

The celebration will begin with a service of the Holy Communion at Camp Wright, adjoining the Matapeake Ferry, Kent Island, at 11 a. m. at which time the anniversary sermon will be preached by the Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D. D., Presiding Bishop of the Church. Other bishops who have accepted invitation are Bishop Cook, of Delaware, Bishop Helfenstein of Maryland, and Bishop Freeman, of Washington. Bishop Davenport will be the celebrant, assisted by various clergyman of the Diocese of more than 300 clergymen of the diocese of Easton, Maryland, Washington and Delaware have been invited, and they are extending an invitation to all their members.

The Historic Pageant will be held in the afternoon at 2.30 p. m. There will be no charges whatsoever, and everyone is invited.

It is expected that thousands will be present that day. The Annapolis Naval Academy Band, under the direction of Prof. Crosley, will furnish all the music, and there will be a procession of probably as many as 300 clergyman in their Church vestmants for the service.

According to history, the first service of the Church of England, (the mother of the Episcopal Church in America) was held on Maryland soil on Kent Island shortly after Claiborne's arrival in August, 1631.

It was the activities of William Claiborne, one of our pioneer colonists, that made this event possible.

Claiborne, a native of Westmoreland, England, where he was born in 1589, upon emigrating to America in 1621, settled in Virginia, first as a surveyor. In 1625 he was appointed Secretary of State for that colony. In 1627 and 1628 he explored the Chesapeake Bay. He founded a trading post on Kent Island in August, 1631, and it was shortly thereafter that the first Church of England service was held there.

Later the island was included in the grant to George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore, whom Claiborne had bitterly opposed in Londan. Possession of the island remained a subject of animated controversy between Maryland and Virginia for many years. In 1658 it was finally restored to Lord Baltimore. This dispute does not, however, detract from the significance of the historical events about to be commemorated. It seems obvious, that the Kent Island service in 1631 not only was the first of the Episcopal Church to be held in Maryland, but also was the frist to be held in the Delmarva Peninsula.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE LOSES TO HOPKINS

HOLDS BLUE JAYS TO ONE TOUCH DOWN

TO PLAY SWARTHMORE TODAY

Washington College lost to Hopkins last Saturday by the slight margin of one touchdown, which might be considered a victory for the locals considering the experience and weight of the Washington eleven.

Washington crossed the goal line for what appeared to be a touchdown when Carozza received a pass and crossed the line but the play was called back when the officials ruled that he stepped out of bounds while on his way down the field which automatically rulled him out of the game.

The first half was scoreless and Hopkins scored the only touchdown in the game in the first period of the second half.

The locals will play Swarthmore today at Swarthmore and from the brand of football exhbited so far local fans are looking for a victory for Washington.
