congregate.

The insects do little damage, are not known to attack man or animals, but due to their habit of getting into houses they are a decided nuisance and need to be vigorously cambatted.

SWINE FEEDERS DAY
Visit College Park—November 14.

Farmers interested in seeing the results of varous feeds in fattening pigs are invited to visit their State Agricultural College at College Park, Maryland, on November 14, 1931. The program begins at 10 a. m. Thirteen lots were used each lot receiving a different ration. A very worthwhile and instructive program wil lbe presented.

TURKEY CROP REPORT

The turkey crop in United States is less than 2 per cent larger than last year. Locally the birds are a bit fewer than last year. Increased numbers are found in Texas and the Pacific Coast states. Fewe birds are found in North Central and Rock Mountains States.

Birds in many sections are reported in better than average condition, also quality is reported as unusually good n many sections. Due to plentiful supply of cheap feed there may be a tendency to hold more than the usual number of birds for the Christmas and winter market.

No one seems certain what the effect on prices will be if ths holding plan is carried out. Doubtless people with birds well matured and fat will do well to sell at Thanksgiving. Those with thin or immature birds will doubtless be wise in holdng them until the weight and condition warrants their sale.

PRE-SCHIOOL AGE CLINIC NOVEMBER 18TH

Again Kent County is fortunate in having a pre-school age clinic scheduled for November 18 which will be conducted by Dr. J. H. Mason Knox, Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Child Hygiene, State Department of Health.

Dr. Knox is one of the outstanding authorities in America and children's diseases and an associate professor of Pediatrics at the Johns Hopkins Medical School. He is also Chief of Staff at the Harriett Lane branch of the Hopkins Hospital for the diseases of children.

Dr. Knox [illegible]s made frequent visits to Kent and parents have availed themselves of the wonderful opportunity of having their children examined by such a specialist without cost.

Parents are urged to bring their children for examination. Just because a small child or infant seems to be perfectly well is no reason why he should not be examined. The great aim and ideal these days in the medical world is to keep people well. Children, as well as adults, should undergo periodic health examinations.

Undoubtedly there are some mothers of young children in great need of authoratative advice who have no way to come to the clinic in Chestertown. Since public health is a personal responhibility of every member of a community, the public is asked to look around for such cases and do a bit of neighborliness in providing a car and encouraging mothers to take advantage of this opportunity.

The clinic to be held by Dr. Knox will begin at 10:00 a. m., Friday, November 18th.

DIPTHERIA STILL RAGES

With several new cases of diptheria reported, the local Health Department is continuing free immunization with toxin-antitoxin of the preschool children at the Health Center on Thursday mornings at 10 a. m. Mothers of children of the pre-school age are urged to bring their children in for immunization.

A statement was made in the Sunday SUN that three deaths from diphtheria reported to the State Health Department were pronounced to have been prevenable and were due to calling a physician too late and not using antitoxin. Parents should call a physician when a child shows signs of sore throat, headache and listlessness and feverish condition so that a diagnosis may be made in time.

The three preventable deaths were one in Baltimore City and two in the counties. Fortunately Kent was not one of those counties named. The citizens of Kent have responded well to the toxin-antitoxin campaign which has been carried on for sveeral years and have been receptive toward matters dealing with public health.
