EXPERIMENTAL ROAD

SLAG ROAD BINDER PLACED ON ST. JAMES ROAD

Road engineers in a number of states have been studying and experimenting on some way to prevent the "washboard" in slag roads. This washboard effect which developes in slag roads is a series of ridges running cross-wise of the road makes very rough riding for vehicles. This trouble has developed certain sections of the fifty miles of slag road while in other sections there is no evidence of it. An unusual development of this trouble was a two mile stretch from Chestertown toward Hanesville. This road has been scraped at a number of different angles and smothed up but the ridges again develop.

Experiments in a number of states have shown that a binding material, such as oil or stone screenings will eliminate this trouble, and Mr. Gilbert Taylor, County Road Engineer, this week laid a mile of screenings on the worse part of this road as an experiment. This stone screening is laid 7 feet wide and rolled and at the present time is as smooth as concrete. The cost of these screenings is 4 1-2 cents per running foot and may be a solution of correcting the slag road defects.

TO PRESENT DANIEL BOON ADVENTURES

Daniel Boone, the adventuresome, during frontier hero, Indian fighter and settler, beloved by every American youth because he personfies the spirit of the early days of the opening of the w[illegible]ness, is the central figure in th[illegible]gles of America Photoplay "Dani[illegible]e" produced by the Yale Univers[illegible]ss, which Washington C[illegible]esent at the New Lyceum [illegible] December 2nd at 2 p. m. and 3.30 p.

The story of Boone's amazing career is full of incidents of bravery and courage, especially in his dealings with the Indians, who loved and feared him and stood in awe of him. One incident that awed the Indians and caused them to believe him a miracle worker occurred one time when he was trapped by the redmen in a dense wood and driven to the brink of a steep cliff. The Indians closed in a semicircle, desiring to take him alive. At the very last minute, Boone jumped off the cliff, landing in a maple tree nearly two hundred feet below, and escaped in safety. To the superstitious Indians, it was but another example of BGoone's charmed life.

LET US GIVE THANKS

There is so much to make us glad each day;—
Why just the little, common happenings,
A word, a smile, a greeting on our way,
And health, ambition, love and kindred things.
Let us not think of what we might have had
When there's so much each day to to make us glad.
Just let us count our blessings, check, them, as
A rosary of mercies, pearls so white,
And undeserved; more than our neighbor has,
And when we say, "thanks, Lord," it seems so trite,
Because we have so much; we might have had
Things less worth while; God gives to make us glad.

TOURING WITH LOCAL FOLK TO CALIFORNIA AND BACK

The following article was complied by Mrs. J. Percy Biddle, of Ingleside, from notes made on a motor tour to California and back. The trip was made in a specially constructed house on wheels which was built by Mr. Samuel J. Massey and sons in their own back yard. Those wwho made the trip were: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Massey and son Sammie and Mrs. Percy Biddle. A description of the trip follows:

We left Chestertown September 8th and reached Cumberland in time for tinner. After visiting points of interest in Pennsylvania and West Virginia we reached Ohio where we spent several days. We passed by soft coal beds and found that soft coal could be bought for $2.00 per ton.

We stopped at the Ohio State University. The State highway passes through wealthy residential sections and large parks. At Columbia we saw a car with an automobile with a California license and the owner stated that he had been in Philadelphia and heard Dr. Titsworth speak at a Rotary club meeting.

Indiana is level with sluggish streams and great prairies. The Wabash valley is one of the most fertile regions in the world. While in Indianoplis we were on the Motor Speedway which is the greatest race course in the world. The red-haw trees were ladened with fruit from which jelly is made.

Illinois has a few hills and the majority of farm houses are one story.

While in Missouri we saw large droves of mules. St. Louis is the chief city of the Mississippi Valley and the parks in that cty are magnificent.

In Kansas we saw the large wheat farms and many elevators. The farmers have small galvanized granaries in which they store their seed wheat. The fences are barbwire fastenet on stone posts. We saw lots of jack rabbits which are much large rthan the ones we see in the East.

We reached Denver September 15th, to attend the 50tn Triennial General convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Colorado Springs' 3000 acres of parks make the most unique system in America, comprising as it does the Garden of Gods, North Cheyenne Canyon, boulevards, drives and trails. The Garden of the Gods is probably the most famous of all the attractions of the Pikes Peake Region. The red sand stone formations, hewed by the hand of nature into a riot of fantastic shapes and sizes, are a never ending

The following are suggestions for mailing Christmas packages:

Post Office Department,
Washington, November 5, 1931

WRAPPING AND PACKING

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

SPECIAL PACKING

Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied or otherwise sufficiently wrapped to withstand transportation.

Hats: Pack in strong corrugated or fiberboard boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hatboxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked "FRAGILE."

Shoes: Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.

Cut flowers: Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.

Candies: Inclose in strong outside boxes or containers.

Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc.: Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat, roll around a wooden core and then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.

Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crate suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they can not cut through the wrapping.

FRAGILE ARTICLES

Articles easily broken or crushed must be securely wrapped and crated and boxed. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around, and between the articles and the outside container.

Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

ADDRESSES

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post-office box or rural-route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

POSTAGE

Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper sight corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel-post or stamp window.

LIMIT OF WEIGHT AND SIZE

No parcel may be more than 100 inches in length and girth combined nor exceed 70 pounds in weight.

EARLY MAILING

During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas Day the public should SHOP AND MAIL EARLY. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings, and letters to relatives, friends, and loved ones at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received on or before Christmas Day, but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend Christmas Day with their families.

SPECIAL-DELIVERY SERVICE

The use of a SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamp will assure delivery on Christmas Day, if mailed at the proper time. SPECIAL-DELIVERY SERVICE means the most expeditious handling and transportation of parcels practicable, as well as the immediate delivery at office of address. It is obtained by affixing a SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamp of the proper denomination, or its equivalent in ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words, "SPECIAL DELIVERY" must be written or printed on the envelope or wrapper immediately above the address. It is urged that all mailers desiring immediate delivery of any matter mailed by them affix SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamps thereto. SPECIAL DELIVERY is for speed and not for safety. Valuable mail should be registered or insured.

To Speed Trial of Confessed Negro Assaulter---Judge Lewin W. Wickes Signs Order.

Indignant Citizens from Three Counties Fail to Fine Negro in Jail Raid at Chestertown and Easton. Authorities Speed Davis to Baltimore When Violence Threatens.

Judge Lewin W. Wickes, on Wednesday of this week, signed on order calling for a special session of the Grand Jury for Kent county for this morning, Saturday, November 28, at 10 a. m. to consider the case of George H. Davis, colored, who attempted a criminal assault upon Mrs. Edgar Lusby in her bed room at her home near Kennedyville early last Saturday morning. Mr. Edgar Lusby, who lives on a farm near Kennedyville, was out to the barn attending to the milking at 6 a. m. when Davis went upstairs into Mrs. Lusby's bed room and asked for his job back. Mrs. Lusby ordered him from the room and he attacked her. Her screams and the screams of a young baby in the room frightened the negro and Mrs. Lusby, with the baby in her arms, rushed into another room in the house and locked herself in. She was afraid to come out of the room to call her husband and stayed in the cold room for an hour until her husband returned. Local authorities were notified at 8 a. m. and Sheriff John T. Vickers and Deputy Whaland soon traced the negro to Wilmington having found that he had gotten a ride to that city in a truck.

Davis was arrested at 1127 Walnut St., Wilmington, Monday, by Sheriff Vickers, of this county, and Detectives Cash, Robinson, and Hynson, of the Wilmington police force. He is said to have made a confession in Wilmington, and it is now understood to be in the possession of Sheriff Vickers.

The capture of Davis ended a two-day search in Wilmington, in which the Bureau of Police co-operated with the Maryland authorities. In addition to assisting Sheriff Vickers obtain a confession, Captain Wilson also had Davis photographed and his finger prints taken. An escort of motorcycle police accompanied the Sheriff and his men to the State line, where they were met by Maryland police. He was taken down the Delaware road and then across to Easton and locked up in the jail of that town under the care of Sheriff Carroll.

The notice of Davis's arrest soon spread throughout the county and at 9.45 p. m. Monday night, at least 500 citizens from all parts of Kent, Cecil and Queen Anne's counties gathered in front of the jail and demanded of Sheriff Vickers that the prisoner be turned over to them. They were told that the prisoner was not in Chestertown. States Attorney Stephen R. Collins appealed to the crowd to let the law take its course.

Stating that the prisoner was not in the Kent county jail. He further stated that he had seen Judge Lewin W. Wickes and requested that a special session of Court be called so that an immediate trial could be held and that Judge Wickes was consulting the other judges of this circuit. When asked if the case would be tried in Chestertown he stated that he would make an effort to have the case tried here, but that the defence had the right to ask for the case to be removed if it was thought that a fair trial could not be had in this county.

Sheriff Vickers allowed a committee, selected by the crowd to make a thorough search of the jail. Later another committee was allowed to search the premises. The crowd was orderly but determined to set an example so that their wives and daughters, who are at times left alone on the farms of Kent county, would be safe from molestation. Fresh in their minds was the case in Worcested County where a negro confessed to the murder of a man and his wife and two children while they were asleep in their beds and although the crime was committed several weeks ago the murderer has not been tried and the administering of justice has been taken out of the hands of the citizens of the county in which the crime was committed.

After being thoroughly convinced that the negro was not in the Kent county jail, the crowd disbanded and about fifty men went to Easton jail where they were told that the prisoner was not there and a committee was allowed to search the jail. The negro had been in the Easton jail but was taken away in an automobile to Baltimore by two Deputy Sheriffs before the crowd arrived. These two deputies took the negro to Baltimore via. Denton, using a number of dirt roads to avoid meeting any of the men who were a[illegible] him.

Grand Jury Session Today

A special session of the Grand Jury has been called for today, Saturday, at 10 a. m. to consider the case. The Grand Jury which served at the October term of Court, will be those who are called for this morning. They are as follows:

Clarence Crew, R. H. Collins, Jr., Nelson Rodney, James E. Walbert, James W. Brown, F. Lester Newnam, George R. Rasin, John T. Moffett, William S. Collins, J. Arthur Urie, Walter K. Hudson, Elwood P. Vansant, James H. Davis.

The Petit Jury, which also holds over from the October term of Court and who may be called in event the case comes to trial here are:

J. Burgess Anderson, Benjamin W. Boling, Julian W. Hurtt, Harry A. Bolton, John W. Atwell, Lewis S. Price, Eugene M. Bonwill, Jr., Edgar R. Pennington, Frank Roeder, J. Leonard Price, Charles H. Crowding, Harvey Bric[illegible] W. Belt Townshend, William C[illegible]utton, James G. Metcalfe, P. Medford Brooks, Charles S. Porter, Harry R. Price, William R. Strong, George C. DeFord, W. Miller Strong, C. Frank Crow, Reginald P. Dulin, Britton Townsend, Herbert U. Fletcher.

Crime Includ[illegible] Death Penalty

The laws of the State of Maryland include a death penalty for the crime committed by Davis. The law reads; shall be punished with death, or in the discretion of the Court, he shall be sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary for the period of his natural life or he shall be sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary for not less than two years nor more than twenty years.

Mrs. Lusby is suffering from bruises and nervous shock and the sentiment of the entire county is for a speedy trial.

COMPTROLLER W. S. GORDY ON BANKING

At the meeting of lower Eastern Shore bankers in Pocomoke City last Friday Hon. William S. Gordy, Comptroller of the State, said:

"One of the most vital subjects of banking problems throughout the country is that of the rate of interest paid by banks on time deposits," heads the preamble to the resolution adopting the 3 per cent interest rate. "A thorough study of this question has been made by the American Bankers' Association and the various State Banking Associations. Especial consideration of the subject has been given by the Associated Banks of Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset and Group Six of the Maryland Bankers Association.

"It is definitely realized that one of the necessary principles of good banking is the soundness of investments, irrespective of the rate of return. It is also now forcibly realized that liquidity of assets was never more vital than at the present time. Bankers well know that high grade and readily salable securities and other assets of quickly collectible nature produce relatively small return.

"During the last several months, the rate of interest paid on time deposits has been consistently reduced by a large majority of banks in all sections of the country. Recent conference by banking groups throughout Maryland, Delaware and Virginia have resulted in their agreement to reduce the interest rate to 3 per cent and members of this Association were assured, at a recent conference in Deleware, that the neighbzoring counties would go on a 3 per cent rate on January 1, 1932.

"Taking into consideration the above facts, and the cost of operating banks, with their increasing services to depositors, it is the conclusion of this Association that the present rate of 4 per cent paid on time deposits is not consistent with best bankng judgment.

"And, whereas, the safety of the bank and its customers must ever be paramount in our minds; and in conformity with similar contemplated action by banks in our neighboring counties, it is the conclusion of this Association that in the best interest of all concerned, it is advisable, beginning January 1, 1932, that all banks in this Association and Group Six of the Maryland Bankers Association reduce the rate of interest on time deposits to three per cent."

An amendment was adopted to this resolution which permits "any bank who for any reason desires to pay 4 per cent on deposits they now have or may receive prior to January 1, 1932, are privileged to do so until July 1, but will not be permitted to pay more than 3 per cent on deposits received after January 1, 1932."
