BAYER ASPIRIN is always SAFE

Beware of Imitations

GENUINE Bayer Aspirin, the kind that doctors prescribe and millions of users have proven safe for over thirty years, can easily be identified by the name Bayer and the word genuine as above.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin is safe and sure; it is always the same. It has the unqualified endorsement of physicians and druggists everywhere. It does not depress the heart, and no harmful effects follow its use.

Bayer Aspirin is the universal antidote for pains of all kinds.

Headaches	Neuritis
Colds	Neuralgia
Sore Throat	Lumbago
Rheumatism	Toothache

Aspirin is the trade-mark of Bayer manufacture of monoaceticacidester of salicylicacid.

WHEN BABIES FRET

THERE are times when a baby is too fretful or feverish to be sung to sleep. There are some pains a mother cannot pat away. But there's quick comfort in Castoria!

For diarrhea, and other infantile ills, give this pure vegetable preparation. Whenever coated tongues tell of constipation; whenever there's any sign of sluggishness. Castoria has a good taste; children love to take it. Buy the genuine—with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on wrapper.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

BY RUTH FOX

We've had two pep meetings this past week. The first was before the soccer game played with Greensboro. Miss Riches took charge. The first thing on the program was a new yell:

Mush and milk and cinnamon seed,
That's the stuff on which we feed,
We're the cream of all the nation,
Chestertown's delegation.
First in war,
First in peace,
First in the hands of the Chief of Police;
Look out for us—we're bad.

Everybody stood up and sang the school song.

There were speeches by Coach Joe Russell, Nelson Crew, Robert Hopkins, Don Falls.

Next we sang, "There's a Hot Time In The Old Town Tonight."

Vernon Seward as doctor, Deborah Brown as nurse, and William McGee as the patient acted out a short sketch as to the out come of the game. William was brought in on a stretcher. Vernon and Deb recognized him as a Greensboro soccer player. There followed a serious of doubts as to whether poor William would ever recover.

"Fight To The Finish," a new song was sung.

Not wanting to make Greensboro feel too badly, we gave them a loud and dusty yell.

Mr. Blades made a speech in which he said he felt that we could win.

P. S.—We did.

Oh, those examinations. We're right in the very middle of them. When Thanksgiving comes this year we shall all have something for which to be thankful.

The boy's soccer team had their picture taken Tuesday. Mr. A[illegible] of Fairlee, was the Photograph[illegible]

The Dragon staff has been elected. The officers are.

Editor—John Wright.
Assistant Editor—Harriett L. Rogers.
Business Manager—Elmer Brice.
Asst. Business Manager—Elizabeth Thibodeau.
Photography—William Reinhart.
Senior Class Editor—Miriam Ford.
Classes—Gladys R. Aldridge.
Social Editor—Evelyn Williams.
Boys' Athletic Editor—Ralph Hopkins.
Girls' Athletic Editor—Priscilla Grainger.
Humor Editor—Deborah Brown.
Typist—Daisy Starr.

The Silver Tea that is being given for the Dragon is making broad strides. It's to be given December 5th. You are cordially invited.

Here is the program for the second Pep Meeting. Helen Harris took charge.

Tin Pan Band—Kazoos, drums, pans, coffee pots, etc.

Prize Fight—Radio Announcer, Edward McMahon; Greensborough, Harry Hadaway; C. H. S., Lewis Gordon; Referee, Ralph Hopkins.

Yell for Greensborough.

Speeches—Miss Bryan, Margaret Anthony, Priscilla Grainger.

More yells.

Speeches—Bill Reinhart, Robert Wright.

Again more yells.

Speeches — Miss Riches, Mr. Blades.

Soccer Song.

Amen.

Did you know:
The band has been going to all of the recent games?

Tuesday a combination Literary Society and Pep Meeting was held.

Reginald Cooper, President, called the meeting to order.

Carolyn Jewell read the minutes.

A chorus composed of Sophomore boys sang: "My Heart's In The Highlands," and "Uncle Ned." Those who sang were Oakley Valliant, Robert Moore, Baynard Harper, Robert Hooper, Charles Wheatley, Charles Hoelle, Rumsey Anthony, Lewis Dill, Robert Hopkins, and Mark Wood.

Helen Harris gave a speech and said she was thankful for not being a turkey.

Elizabeth Fontaine was thankful because she's not a Pilgrim, if she were—she would be dead.

John Truslow's talk was more serious. He was thankful that we didn't have famines or earthquakes as various other countries have.

"I'm thankful this speech is over"—is the way Ed Collins ended his talk.

The Tin Pan Band, led by Mabel Smith, played the school song.

Leon Hand recited an amusing little Thanksgiving selection.

Mary Jo Wheatley and Anna Lewis played the school song on their kazooks. These entertainers showed wonderful nonchalance in continuing their selection after Anna dropped her kazoo in the middle of the selection.

Then Miss Riches took charge of the Pep meeting.

Bill Capel, Ralph Hopkins and Hershel Calloway made speeches, and all between we yelled and yelled.

Finis.

The dramatic club has three plays under consideration for production before Christmas. They are, "Omality Street" by Barrie; "Louise Meredith,, by Ford; and "Sherwood" by Alfred Noyes.

BUY WHEAT TO FEED BIRDS

A BUSHEL OF WHEAT TO FEED THE BIRDS

June 13, 1931, we issued a bulletin entitled "The Bird Feed Patch," requesting agriculturists of Maryland to plant strips of seed either thru their fields or around the edge theeof, to furnish feed and cover for birds during the coming winter. Our appeal was granted in a great many sections.

Due to the great surplus of wheat in this country, we again appeal to the public, as a means of relieving the congestion and assisting the farmers, to purchase one bushel of wheat, which can be bought for from 50 to 60 cents per bushel, turn it over to this Department and we, in turn, will use it to feed the birds during the coming winter.

There are scattered throughout the counties of Maryland and in Baltimore City as well, numerous chapters of the Izaak Walton League, Game and Fish Protective Associations and civic clubs and we earnestly request the Presidents and Secretaries of these organizations to urge that EACH MEMBER DONATE ONE BUSHEL OF WHEAT which may be distributed thru a committee appointed by the club or, if turned over to this Department or the District Deputy Game Warden of the County, we will have it used to good advantage during the coming winter when fee dand cover are the scarcest. This method will not work any hardship on any person and will, to some extent, relieve the congestion which exists, and will be very beneficial in supplying our birds with a dinner [illegible]ble whereby we will be assured of [illegible]rying the birds thru to furnish [illegible]d stock for the Spring of 1932.

[illegible]he wildfowl season closes December 15th, ducking clubs can, with very little expense, purchase wheat and feed the wildfowl during the winter months, preserving them for brood stock to go back to their breeding grounds in the Spring of 1932.

We sincerely hope our appeal at this time will be granted, thereby helping us to increase our supply of birdlife, especially certain species which have been affected so seriously due to the long continued drought which has existed since 1929.

FIND TYPHOID CARRIER

A typhoid carrier who for several years has been infecting neighbors and associates after himself having contracted the disease in 1916, has been discovered by Dr. Ralph G. Beachley, deputy State health officer here, following a series of experiments and tests to ascertain the source of infection from which fourteen persons in lower Queen Anne County and a number of others in Talbot County contracted the disease.

The carrier is a 19-year-old youth living near Grasonville, in Queen Anne County, who also recently lived in Talbot County. Tests taken by the State department of health in Baltimore prove that he is a typhoid carrier without knowing it, and it is said he is being sought by Johns Hopkins Hospital authorities for isolation and study. He is an oyster tonger by trade.

An outbreak of typhoid is being fought by State health authorities in the vicinity of Grasonville, where regular preventive treatments are being administered to almost the entire population. One hundre dand seventy-six persons appeared this week for treatment by Dr. Beachley who has charge of Kent and Queen Anne counties.

All police court and medical records for youthful alcohol victims were believed to have been shattered last Sunday morning when Purnell Willis, a seven-year-old colored boy of near Queen Anne, died from the effects of drinking whiskey which he took from a bootlegger's truck that stopped in source of wonder to the visitor.

At Iron Springs the water was bitter. They told us that our bus was the largest that had ever been there.

We found Nebraska level with graveled roads. Sugar but was being cultivated.

The snowy peaks in Wyoming rise above the evergreen forests.

The population of Rock Springs is about 9000. It is a settlement near the coal mines. The water supply was piped fifteen miles.

Cheyenne is the home of the frontier days. West of Cheyenne lies Sherman Hill where the Continental Divide is crossed more easily than at any other point in the United States.

The approach to Salt Lake City is very unusual. We descended a mountain for 19 3-4 miles. Clouds looked like smoke rolling from the mountains and autumn tints on the mountains looked like fairy land. A monument has been erected in honor of the Sea Gulls. The mountain crickets destroyed the crops and people prayer to be saved from starvation. God sent the sea-gulls and the winged deliverers destroyed the plague.

In Idaho many of the houses on the ranches are built of logs and the barns are made of brush and straw. Tornadoes and violent electrical storms are unknown at Boise. The Snake river valley is the largest irrigated area of land in the world. Andy Little, the largest individual owner of sheep in the world, owns 125,000 sheep and lives west of Boise.

Puget Sound is one of the most beautiful sheets of salt water in the world. Flowers in Washington bloom in mid-winter. The grass is green the whole year.

The lofty mountains of the Puget Sound country, Vancouver Island and Canada are seen rising as it seems out of the blue waters and lifting their rugged peaks high into the heavens.

Among the many wonderful sights of Puget Sound are the glorious sunrises and sunsets which are unexcelled in beauty and grandeur. Seattle is built on the hills and here we saw the largest lumber factory in the world.

Columbia River valley is the bread basket of the world. The Columbia River highway is the most beautiful scenic thoroughfare in the world. In ten miles eleven spell-binding water falls are passed. Then on through the tunnel at Mitchell's point to the sunken forests of the Columbia where giant trees are seen beneath the waters; to the petrified forests at Tanner's Creek with 200 foot trees; to the abutments of the Bridge of the Gods; passing numerous fish wheels and into the Hood River Valley. The people have natural beauty on a varied scale; we have no landscape to compare with theirs.

Lumber, fruits, vegetables, and fish seem to constitute the basic economic activities of the north-western communities that have clear access to the Pacific Ocean.

In Washington and Oregon the perfect apple and the perfect cherry are raised and there cannot be more herring at one place on the earth's surface than are packed and filed for shipment on the Seattle docks.

Arlington in Oregon has the greatest goose hunting ground in the United States, the season being from September 15 to December 31. We stopped at a silver fox farm which had ten acres under wire.

The Oregon Caves, or Marble Halls of Oregon, comprise a series of immense chambers conected by natural passages and extend hundreds of feet into the heart of Elijah mountain.

The Redwood highway is a most marvelous "Paradise Wonderland" of forest, river, mountain, lake and marine scenery interspersed with innumerable other varigated sight seeing attractions. The magnificent giants of the forest are thousands of years old. These monarchs of the ages are the oldest living things on the face of the earth.

Pelalluma, in California, is the eggbasket of the world.

We saw oil wells in the Pacific Ocean.

The Pacific is very peaceful and quiet, although you can hear the roar for one half mile. Swarms of wild duck, geese, and many pelicans and cranes are visable.

We sa wtwo Navy airplane carriers off the cost of Long Beach, California. The Lexington can carry 49 air planes.

California is noted for its fruit, oranges, lemons, figs, plums, olives, apricots, peaches and persimmons are grown in abundance.

The entrance to San Francisco Bay is the famous Golden Gate a strait at least five miles long. The shores of the strait are rocky cliffs, in some places nearly 2000 ft. high.

In the congested parts of San Francisco the rear wheels of the cars are parked on the street and the front wheels and the body of the car are on the pavement. In some of the places the pedestrians are obliged to walk in single file as the front wheels of the cars are so near the buildings.

In Mexico we found race tracks, bull fights, cock fights, dancing halls and bar-room life; also many big curio stores. There are many adode houses which are built of sun-dried bricks.

Arizona is noted for its petrified forests. The peculiar type of cactus, found in the most arid parts of the desert contains an abundance of moisture and is of commercial value being the foundation of cactus candy.

We saw many cattle in New Mexico.

In Texas we found large ranches and many cattle. Texas has large counties but thinly populated. Discovery of oil in different parts of Texas has caused cities to grow rapidly. Cities almost spring up over night and Gladwater has grown from less than one thousand to eighteen thousand inhabitants. It is the most prosperous town in the United States. Gladwater and Longview have grown together.

Louisana has a good cotton crop but the price is very low. The soil is very red around Red River. The Negroes are very poor. The land is low and swampy with moss growing in the trees.

The bridge at Vicksburg cost $8,500,000. It consists of seven piers and six spans. It is the only bridge across the Mississippi River between Memphis and the Gulf of Mexico, making Vicksburg the gateway city between the East and West.

In Alabama we enjoyed the negroes playing the stringed instruments and their southern songs. Tuskegee Institute, located in Alabama, in the larest colored school in the south.

The famous Atlantic Coastal Highway, with its main line and short route from Maine to Florida, passes through historic Charleston.

Magnolia Gardens and Middleton Place gardens, fronting on the beautiful Ashley River, draw thousands of travelers each year to view the magnollias, camilias and azaleas, which are peculiar to that section.

Peanuts were being harvested in the Carolinas and Virginia. Pamlico and Albemarle Sounds were interesting as well as the Dismal Swamp and George Washington canal.

We ferried from Norfolk to Cape Charles and reached the good old Eastern Shore after a delightful tour of over 10,000 miles. We appreciate and are enjoying the diversified scenery of Maryland.

RINGER PUT OVER AT HAVRE DE GRACE

SEVEN MEN AND THREE HORSES RULED OFF MARYLAND TRACKS FOR LIFE, AFTER AN INVESTIGATION.

A Colt Named Aknahton Was Run Under The Name Of Shem—Won The Race And Paid $13 To $2.00 In The Pari-Mutuels—The Winner Was Brought To Havre de Grace, The Day Before The 'Hinger' Race.

As the result of the running of a "ringer" at the Havre de Grace races on October 3rd, under the name of Shem, seven men and three horses were barred on Wednesday, for life from Maryland race tracks,

According to the report making public their action, the members of the Racing Commission definitely established that the heavily backed "Shem," that outran the field in a two-year old event at Havre de Grace, was Aknahton, a three-year old chestnut colt.

Those ruled off the tracks of this State for life were:

Nigger Nate Raymond, who held a hand in the last card game played by Arnold Rothstein, slain New York gambler.

Leo Kammerman, alias Leo. Canerman, of New York.

Patrick Christie, alias Peter Westley(alias Charles Hall.

William Marino, New York.

Julius DeLott, New York.

Herman Brackenheimer, Water Witch, N. Y. .....

Vladimar Sulick. .....

The commission found, acording to its report, that the real Shem, a 2-year old chestnut gelding; Aknahton and a bay filly named Ep were brought into Maryland in a van a day before the running of the ringer race.

Shem was unloaded on the farm of Dr. Tubbs at Havre de Grace, and the van went to the track with Aknahton and Ep.

"Shem" was entered in the 2-year old race, and Arthur Kennedy, trainer, saddled the horse for the ringer race. His license was revoked by the commission with the statement "there is no evidence that Kennedy was a party to this fraud or that he knew that is was being perpetrated, but because he accepted, without properly identifying either the owner or the horse, and saddled a 3-year old colt when the entered horse was a 2-year old gelding indicated such carelessness that we do not consider that he is entitled to train on Maryland tracks.

Approximately $3,400 was wired to Havre de Grace track to be wagered on "Shem," and it was reported that betting was heavy on the victorious ringer throughout the West. The bogus Shem paid $13 for $2 as a winner.

Was In Secusion

The day after the race Aknahton and Ep left Havre de Grace in a van, and Aknahton was in secluison at the Lake County Fair Grounds, Crown Point, Ind., until November 2nd, in charge of Sulik, a stable hand, who accompanied him from the Maryland track.

The commission identified Raymond as the A. Ray in whose name the real Shem, which had been on Dr. Tubbs' farm, was consigned when the horse was shipped from Havre de Grace to Jersey City, about two weeks after the ringer race.

Kammerman, the commission said, ordered the shipment of Shem from Dr. Tubbs' farm to Jersey City and signed a receipt for the horse when it arrived there. The signature was "A. Ray, Anderson Brothers, Leo Canerman."

FIRST CALLS FOR AID COME TO CHAMBER

Clothing Is Problem To Be Met

FIREMEN HANDLE TOYS

Real Needy Cases Attended

The first calls for aid in supplying clothing for children of the county has come to the Kent County Chamber of Commerce this week.

The warm weather has lessened acute need up to the present time but shoes are needed to keep several children in school. While certain local families have been able to make both ends meet under ordinary circumstances, their children who have been occupied in cities and who have lost their positions have come back with their families. In one case such a condition multiplied a family by six. In other words, the father and mother eked out their living quite comfortably but with the descent upon them of ten others—children and grandchildren—the situation has become acute particularly when clothing for the youngsters is lacking. The food problem is being handled miraculously by the grandparents up to the present time.

Last year the Chamber handled clothing, food and toys that were donated and distributed the first two times, not only at Christmas time, but throughout the winter months. This year the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company has taken over the repairing and distribution of toys. It is hoped that the call for food and clothing by the Chamber will meet a good response as it did last year.

Cases of real need are brought to the Chamber through the public health nurse, the attendance officer, through teachers and others interested in the welfare of the less fortunate in their immediate communities. It is a humane work which should appeal to the entire county.
