"SOB SISTER" CAST

"Sob Sister," Fox drama of an ambitious girl, who was too busy trading on the romances of others to recognize her own love affair until it had practically passed her by, which opens its local engagement at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, December 7 and 8, is hailed as being one of the year's most important pictures, and for several reasons.

First, it marks the second screen appearance of James Dunn, who bounded into a film spotlight overnight in his history making screen debut in "Bad Girl."

Second, it introduces to movie-goers a new leading lady, twenty-one years old, gorgeously blonde, a favorite of the Broadway stage, Linda Watkins.

Third, the picture is the first directorial effort of Alfred Santell since his record breaking success, "Daddy Long Legs," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. After that picture Santell was given his choice of all the stories owned by Fox Films and from them he chose "Sob Sister."

The right of a girl to make use of a winning smile and perhaps a hint of possible affection to gain her ends in business competition, and yet the dangers of this means of attaining success is a subject that Santell considers one of the most discussed topics of the times, and in "Sob Sister" he is said to present both sides of the question in unfolding one of the most unusual and yet most sincere and touching romances yet recorded for the talking screen. The film is reported by those who have already seen it as exceeding "Bad Girl" in heart touching appeal and vividness.

The large cast supporting James Dunn and Linda Watkins includes such celebrities as Minna Gombell, who played Edna, the girl friend, in "Bad Girl," Molly O'Day and Howard Phillips in the other featured roles as well as George E. Stone, Sarah Padden, Eddie Dillon, Neal Burns, Lex Lindsay, Harry Beresford among others. Edwin Burke, who wrote the sparkling dialogue for "Bad Girl," adapted "Sob Sister" for the screen from Mildred Gilman's novel of the same name.

HOOK AND LINE FISHING

Captain B. F. Urie, of Rock Hall, better known in the lower part of Kent county as Captain Spence Urie, has been conducting hook and line fishing parties out of Rock Hall for many years and this year he kept for the first time a record of the rock fish caught from his boat during the season.

During the fishing season which started June 17th and ended November 10th, Captain Urie and parties who were fishing from his boat caught 8817 rock fish. No record was kept of the blue fish, trout and perch caught which would probably equal the above figures.

The method of catching the rock fish was principally by chumming, whereby live shrimp are thrown overboard which brings the rock to the top and the fishing is done just below the surface.

Captain Urie is one of the best posted men in the county on the fishing grounds in the lower part of Chester River and the upper section of Chesapeake Bay.

On November 23rd, he and a friend were fishing off Swan Point and the first three rock caught were thrown back because they were too large. These three fish ranged in weight from 18 to 30 pounds. Captain Urie stated that fish of this size are worth more in the water than in the hands of the fisherman because the meat is coarse and does not compare with the smaller rock. This season was considered very successful for the hook and line fishermen.

STEALS CHICKENS AND LOSES TEETH

A chicken thief visited Mr. Josiah Massey's chicken house Wednesday night of last week, stole some of his chickens and last his false teeth. Mr. Massey found the teeth at his chicken house door Thursday morning. Judging from the size of the plate the owner must be a very large jawed man. Mr. Massey says if the owner of the teeth will return the chickens he can get the teeth.

4-H BOYS COUNCIL BANQUETS

DECIDE TO HOLD COUNTY-WIDE CALF CLUB BANQUET

The Kent County Boys' 4-H Club Council met Tuesday night, December 1st at Locust Grove. The Council met at the Grove Inn and enjoyed a fine dinner together after which all joined in a Round Table discussion.

Problems of the various clubs were mentioned and solutions suggested. Meetings of this type are doing much to tie the different clubs together for the mutual benefit of all.

The council decided to sponser a County Wide Banquet which would recognize every club and every section. This Banquet will combine or replace the annual 4-H Clover Calf Club Banquet which has always had the interests of whole county at heart but has been sponsored by the local club. The 4-H Clover members expressed their views saying they felt the banquet should be county wide rather than limited to their club.

A committee will begin making arrangements for the county affair about the first of January. The banquet will be held sometime in February.

Those attending the dinner meeting were: Wilbur H. Morris, Frank O. Suton, William O. Comella, Walter T. Morris, Clarence Sutton, William O. Carroll, Richard Sutton, Theodore Ford, Robert Sutton, Frederick Cornelius, Norman Sutton, County Agent J. D. McVean and Asst. County Agent Stanley B. Sutton.

HEALTH NOTES.

DON'T BROADCAST YOUR GERMS

"If you find yourself developing a cold, take the best possible care of yourself. Get rid of it as soon as you can, but have some thought for the other fellow also. Keep your cough, your sneezes and your germs to yourself. Don't broadcast them. 'If you have to cough or sneeze, do it into your handkerchief, pease'. Wait until you are well to shake hands. Show your friendliness in other ways." This is the advice of Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, to victims of the ever-present and so-called "common" cold.

"We talk about catching a cold," Dr. Riley continued, "but usually the cold catches us. It usually finds us when our powers of resistance are lowered; the germs enter and take possession. Each person who develops a 'cold', becomes a carrier of the disease, temporarily at least. While in that state, he is a menace to all who come in contact with him. A sort of endless chain is established that is hard to break.

"What we call a 'cold' is brought about by organisms so minute that they cannot be seen even by the most powerful microscope. These organisms are found in the secretions from the nose and throat of those who are suffering from a cold. When they cough or sneeze the germs are sprayed out into the air, or into the face of persons nearby.

'Some of this effective material is also left on the hands every time the victim of a cold touches his mouth or nose, and the germs are carried to everything the sufferer touches. On that account, handshaking is one of the things that should be omitted by the person who has a cold. Another way by which the person who is suffering from a cold can help to protect others is by washing his hands frequently and thoroughly, with plenty of soap and water.

"The person who has a cold needs rest, quiet, a very light diet, the advice of his own doctor, and proper care. The quickest way to get rid of a cold, and the best way to prevent other people from getting it, is to go to bed, to send for your doctor, to stay in bed until the symptons have disappeared and your doctor tells you that you can go back to work or to school."

Former Senator William P. Jackson's decision not to stand for reelection as Republican National Committeeman from Maryland next June came as a surprise in many quarters of the party in the State, it became known yesterday. Only a few close political and persoanl frieds were advised of his intention to retire from politics.

FAVORS DECREASING SPEED LIMIT

THINKS BUSSES SHOULD GO SLOWER

Harold E. West, Chairman of the Public Service Commission certainly has the right idea, concerning the speed limit of busses and other large motor vehicles.

Commenting on a report that busses on the Washington Boulevard exceed the speed limit to maintain their schedules without interference from the police, Mr. West said:

"The average automobile traveling at a sped of forty miles an hour is dangerous enough, but these large busses, with their greater weight and a number of passengers on board, constitute a menace which entirely overshadows that of the ordinary machine.

"The chances of personal injury, should an accident occur, are increased with every passenger they carry, and should a bus strike an automobile at a speed of forty miles an hour the lighter machine would be demolished.

"If forty miles an hour is the legal limit, I think large heavy motor vehicles, and passenger busses in particular, should be held to a speed considerably lower than that permitted lighter machines.'

Most of the busses using the Baltimore-Washington Boulevard are engaged in interstate transit and the Public Service Commission has no jurisdiction over them other than to see they have the proper safety appliances, the chairman asserted The regulatory body also has no control over schedules maintained by lines operating within Maryland, Mr. West said. If it did, however the commission would not have authority to demand that these bus companies maintain a schedule which would force the drivers to exceed the legal speed limit, he added.

E. Austin Baughman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said members of the State police are instructed by him to arrest the driver of any vehicle operating in excess of the legal speed limit.

"These instructions apply to busses, private automobiles. or any other type of vehicle," Mr. Baughman said. "They are all the same if they violate the State speed laws. As far as I know the law gives no one authority to demand maintenance of a schedule which would mean violation of the forty-mile limit by operators of busses.

"The busses do exceed the limit sometimes, so do private automobiles, when no one is looking, but the police will arrest every driver of any vehicle violating the law if they can. We cannot check up on every vehicle every minute, but we make no exceptions of any violators we can apprehend."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

(BY COUNTY AGENT McVEAN)

WHEAT A GOOD HOG FEED

Feeding tests at the University of Maryland reveal—Fish meal or Tankage should be added.

The recent field day for farmers interested in economical feeding of hogs shows some clear cut lessons. Wheat was compared with corn both supplemented with protein rich fish meal. Different lots of pigs, their rate of gain and cost per pound of gain reveals wheat to be a good hog feed when sufficient protein and mineral mixtures are available. The use of legume grazing crops (alfalfa, alsike, and rape) was economical and advisable. Some fish meal and mineral matter was found to be desirable. Two- tenths pound of fish meal per pig was O. K. along with the grazing crops. In dry lot or where no grazing was available more protein carrier was desirable. Nearly fourtenths per pig per day was more ec[illegible]ical than a lesser amount.

COURT SESSION POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

POSTPONEMENT DUE TO ILLNESS OF JUDGE WICKES

GRAND JURY FINDS TRUE BILL

The special session of Court, set for Thursday morning by Judge Lewin W. Wickes to consider the case of George Davis, colored, for assault, has been postponed until Monday of next week due to the illness of Judge Wickes.

As a result of the special session of the Grand Jury, held last Saturday morning, with Mr. Eben F. Perkins as foreman a true bill of indictment was brought in. The following report was also made by the Grand Jury:

"To the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court for Kent County Maryland:

'We, the Grand Jurymen of Kent County, having been reconvened in special session in investigate the assault made upon Mrs. Elizabeth Lusby, have found and presented a true bill against George Davis, the perpetrator of this fearful and awful crime.

'For the safety of this community and especially for the protection of our rural districts, we recommend that Court stay in session until the case of George Davis is disposed of."

Following this report the Grand Jury was discharged and Judge Wickes adjourned Court until Thursday, December 3rd.

The Court stated that there was no evidence of Davis having secured Council and Mr. R. Hynson Rogers, of Chestertown, and Mr. J. H. C. Legg, of Centreville, were appointed counsel for the defence.

Mr. Stephen R. Collins, State's Attorney for Kent County, will represent the State and will be assisted by Senator S. Scott Beck.

Court Session Postponed

The Court session scheduled for Thursday was postponed due to the sudden illness of Judge Wickes who is suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. Ades, Counsel for the Labor Defense League, of Baltimore, a Communistic organization, who is the volunteer counsel for Yuel Lee, a negro murderer from Worcester county, has made on effort to see Davis in the Baltimore City jail but up to the time of going to press, his efforts have been unsuccessful.

Efforts of Mr. Ades to interview George Davis proved unsuccessful on Thursday, even after a conference with Judge Eli Frank of the Circuit Court of Baltimore City. He previously had been instructed by the International Labor Defense League to take up the case of Davis as well as to defend Lee.

It was understood, however, that John A. Sherman, Assistant State's Attorney, visited Davis at the jail shortly after the conference in Judge Frank's chambers. The result of the interview could not be learned. Mr. Harry C. Martin, warned of the jail, declined to say if Mr. Sherman had visited Davis.

However, the Warden did say:

"I will not allow Mr. Ades to see the prisoner Davis unless I am compelled to do so by a higher authority. He is not my prisoner but was sent here by the authorities of Kent county for safe keeping. There is no charge filed with me against him and I know of no charge.'

'Anybody but the attorneys appointed by the court to defend Davis who wishes to see the prisoner must get postive authority either from the State's Attorney of Kent County, the County Court or from a judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore."

Mr. Ades said he had visited Judge Frank for the purpose of obtaining a writ of habeas corpus but Judge Frank suggested that he wait to learn the result of the visit of Mr. Sherman.

At the time of going to press no official word had been received in Kent County as to Ades' activities and unless unusual official action is taken in Baltimore in the meantime Davis will be represented in Court on Monday by Messrs. R. H. Rogers and J. H. C. Legg.

The penalty for which Davis stands indicted, includes death, or life imprisonment or from three to twenty years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

A Th[illegible]giving dinner was served to about thirty friends and relatives following the christening ceremony.

In addition to the Hinchingham property, the sale included a tract of woodland belonging to Mr. Ellsworth Leary, of Rock Hall. The price paid for this tract was $5,000.

TO MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

CHESTERTOWN PUBLIC LIBRARY WILL MOVE TO NEW BUILDING TUESDAY

The Public Library which from its inception has been occupying the room rent free through the generosity of the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Co. will move to its quarters in the new building of the Kent Mutual next Tuesday. The Library is faced with quite a problem as the rent for its new quarters will be two hundred dollars. Heretofore the club has, by the sale of Christmas cards and other activities, added to the yearly subscriptions collected have been enabled to keep on hand, the current literature of the day and pay the librarian but they will have to depend on other means to pay the rent. It is a community spirit which prompts the women of the club in their efforts to keep up the library.

More readers are added each month. Last Saturday there were considerably more than 200 books borrowed.

We, as a town owe much to the club, who has done so much for the reading public, and, as we love our town and wish it to keep up with the demands of the times it is hoped that generous persons with the same community spirit, will contribute to this worthy cause even if they do not read the books themselves.
