THIS MUDDED WORLD

The following article is from the pen of Miss Emily Woodward, of Vienna, Georgia:

"The world chaos that gains impetus with every rising sun has reached a critical point in these United States.

Acountry and a government that have been held up as examples of progress and glorious democracy are floundering in a sea of unrest, rebellion, crime and misery. In this hour, when problems of supreme importance confront us, it is interesting to observe the censorious spirit that dominates the mind of man. Every fellow is disposed to blame some one else for all the ills to which he has become heir. The government, the trusts, the war, prohibition, automobies, the newspapers and chain stores the republicans the democrats and the tariff—these and other forces are called into account for afflicting us with low priced cotton and wheat, shrinkage in property values, loss of credit, threatened bankruptcy and all the other evils that beset us. Seldom, if ever, is there heard in the chorus of denunciations, one word of self directed blame, but whether we are willing to admit or not, our troubles are, in part, at least, selfmade.

"A people for the most part accustomed to living moderately and even frugally prior to the war, we launched into an orgy of spending such as has never been known in the history of man. Although endowed with a modicum of reasoning power, we have deliberately thrown discretion to the winds changing our standards of living from quiet simplicity, to frenized luxury. Equipped with sufficient mathematical knowledge to know that four from two leaves minus two, men and women with incomes of $200.00 a month have spent at the rate of $400. This has applied quite generally whether the income has been $25.00 or $2500.00.

"Farming and other business are more or less demoralized, but it is not due altogether to 5 cent cotton and the tariff. It is due in part to our waste, abuse of credit, poor business management, and laziness.

"Before we see the end of this many of us who are now riding may be walking, but that probably would be as it should be. The men and women who honestly work their ways out of the present economic labyrinth will be those possessed of the proper intestinal stamina. For some time now, we have needed something to divide the sheep from the goats. Crooks and deadbeats have been sailing along in the vanguard of society and the church, enjoying all the privileges and often more than those who make up the ranks of honest citizenry. If the present crisis services as a leveler in the business and social realms, much will be gained. The seeming success of the dishonest during the reign of extravagance through which we have just passed, has had a baneful effect, serving to give sanction to the theory that the way to win is through shady paths.

If it serves to make us a little more concerned about the quality of the men who are entrusted with our governmental affairs, it will be well worth living through. As it is and has been, our most responsible trusts are often given to men who could not make a living for themselves in any other than political fields.

There is really a great deal about oud present status to give us urge to go forward and cheer in the hope that in going forward much that has been unwholesome will be left in the discard."

ORDER
A Text For Every One

What Comfort, what Strength, what Economy there is in Order—Material Order, Intellectual Order, Moral Order. To know where one is going and what one wishes—this is order; to keep one's word and one's engagements—again order; to have everything ready under one's hand, to be able to dispose of all one's forces and to have one's means of whatever kind under command—still order; to discipline one's habits, one's effort, one's wishes; to organize one's life; to distribute one's time, to take the measure of one's duties and make one's rights respected; to employ one's capital and resources, one's talent and one's chances profitably—all this belongs to and is included in the word order. Order means light and peace, inward liberty and free command over one's self; order is power. Order is man's greatest need and his true well-being. Order is the greatest need of business. It is the slogan and the inspiration of every progressive person, to establish it in one's life is to set the scene for assured success.
