FARM BUREAU CONVENTION IN JAN.

MISS LOUISE MORRIS TO COMPETE IN BEAUTY CONTEST

Agricultural experts prominent in State and national fields will address the annual convention of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation which, it is anticipated by Secretary Frank M. Payne, will be attended by representative farmers and farm women from the twenty-three counties at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, January 6, 7 and 8. Arthur L. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture; Governor Albert C. Ritchie, M. S. Winedr, executive secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the University of Maryland; Dr. Thomas B. Symons, director of the Extension Service of the University of Maryland; Melvin Stewart, former Secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation, and C. B. Denman, member of the Federal Farm Board, representing the livestock division, are on the progam.

The annual banquet, always a feature of the yearly parley will be held at the Southern Hotel the night of January 7 and at that time Governor Ritchie will formally announce the winner of the State-wide beauty contest which will have been held the previous night in connection with the annual ball at the Lord Baltimore. The Governor will present a trophy to "Miss Maryland Farm Bureau" who will be chosen out of sixteen contestants representing an equal number of counties of Maryland. Preliminary tilts have been staged by various county farm bureaus and the several winners will enter the State contest.

The contestants will be: Marguerite Hubbard, of Hurlock, "Miss Dorchester County;" Cornelia DeWilde of Preston, "Miss Caroline." Alberta Molesworth, Mt. Airy, "Miss Howard;" Mary A. Wegley, Millersville, "Miss Anne Arundel;" Eleanor I. Wilson, Pylesville, "Miss Harford;" Stella S. McGrady, Rising Sun, "Miss Cecil;" Louise Morris, Chestertown, "Miss Kent;" Endora Sheridan, Easton, "Miss Talbot;" Dorothy F. Keith, Centreville, "Miss Queen Anne;" Laure Mae Chesser, Pocomoke City, "Miss Worecster;" Florence E. Wimbrow, Parsonburg, "Miss Wicomico;" Margaret M. Poffenberger, Keedysville, "Miss Washington;' E. Frances Rudy, Middletown, "Miss Frederick;" Helen Jordan, Shane, "Miss Baltimore;" Naomi Shoemaker, Westminster, "Miss Carroll," and Alice A. Darby, Rockville, "Miss Montgomery."

In addition to the discussion of important problems by various groups affiliated with the State federation an impressive number of entertainment features have been arranged both for delegates and beauty contestants during their visit to the Maryland metropolis.

PENINSULA NEWS

The Thomas W. Blackstone Banking House, located at Accomac, Eastern Shore of Virginia, was entered Thursday night of last week. The robbes entered the banq by prying open the front door with a crow bar. An attempt was made with acetylene torches to open the vault. The noise aroused Karl U. Henderson, who lives in an apartment over the Bell Drug Store. When Henderson switched the lights on in the apartment the robbers were scared and made their escape by removing the bar across the back door.

$100 was taken from a drawer which contained church funds. The money was not in the vault.

Two arrests, it is reported, were made Tuesday in the case of the Peoples Bank of Somerset. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Costen, it is said, were taken into custody, and the charge is alleged to be implication in the embezzlement of the Bank's funds. Bail was furnished in each case, it is reported.

Approximately two hundred delegates from all parts of the State attended the three-day session of the fifty-ninth convention of the Maryland State Grange held in Salisbury December 1, 2 and 3 with headquarters at the Wicomico Hotel.
